Baha'is Entertain American Friends And View Slides

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Emmerson, 95 Main St. N., invited the Baha'is and their friends on September 25th to view slides and hear Mrs. Beth McKenty of Milwaukee, Wis., tell about her recent travels to Iceland, Turkey, Central Africa and Israel. Beth's mother emigrated to Manitoba from Iceland many years ago and when Mrs. McKenty was in London, England, in 1963, attending the Baha'i World Congress she met an Icelandic Baha'i who invited her to his home and she visited an uncle and other relatives.

Last year, while on a world tour, she returned to Iceland and found the people and climate so delightful that she and her doctor husband intend to settle there and assist with the formation of a national administrative body by 1967. Canada established the ninth such body in 1948 and today there are 69 such assemblies throughout the world. The International body formed in 1963 is in Haifa, Israel and it was there last January that Beth took many of the slides shown.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Barr were at the Kitchener Fair on Sept. 26th to assist the Baha'i communities in that area to man their booth at this exposition which continues all week.

Mrs. Lena Emmerson and Myrtle Barr were in Bramalea several days last week to assist in the survey on "Religion in the Schools" which has been done in many Ontario towns this summer as a public service to assist the commission set up by the Ontario government.

Plans were made during the business for the Fall Thanksgiving meeting to be held in the church on Tuesday afternoon October 25th.

It takes more than a little damp weather to dampen the spirits of folk enjoying a fair. Many from the village enjoyed the day at Georgetown Fall Fair on Saturday October 1st.

Of special interest to Norvalites was the public school display on Prince Edward Island, the birth place of Canada. It featured real lobster traps and fishing nets from the Island.

The Women's institute display on litterbugs also drew attention with many of the little girls looking for their own particular doll. The display showed a picnic area with two picnic tables. One group of dolls were neat and tidy putting their litter in the waste container provided for their use but the other group had litter strewn all over the area and had broken the picnic table.

Schubplattler anyone?

In the Tyrol, festive occasions are celebrated by the men of the villages doing the Schubplattler. Each dancer claps his hands, then slaps his shoes, knees, and the seat of his short leather pants; setting up a remarkably catchy rhythm. BOAC travel agents can tell you where you can see this unique dance performed. That's because they are perhaps the most widely-travelled people you'll ever meet. They can tell you about fascinating local customs, and special things to see, eat and do. All these little "extras" won't cost you a penny more. So before you plan your trip, see your BOAC travel agent.
