Esqueusing W.I. to Erect Memorial Cairn As Centennial Project

The erecting of a Memorial Cairn, including the old S S No. 6 school bell, is the Centennial project of members of the Esqueusing Women's Institute, and the Committee in charge of the Fair Display, chose this as their theme.

The Centennial project has been undertaken, after the members received the consent of the local school Board to proceed.

Mrs. Herb Reid was hostess at a 'Come and Go' Tea at her home recently, with proceeds going toward the project. Anyone wishing to contribute to this project may do so by contacting one of the Centennial Committee, Mrs. W. Lawson, Mrs. Wm. Humphreys, and Mrs. C. A. Grant.

Congratulations to the members of Esqueusing W.I. for their splendid success at Georgetown Fair — a number of prizes were won including first for butter tarts, lemon pie, marble cake, pickles, an apron made from a yard of material, African violet, embroidered pillow cases, 2nd for knitted mitts, 3rd for icicles pickles, and an article of knitted lace.

Prior to the Harvest Thanksgiving service held in St. John's Church Sunday evening, the Action Group organized and served a Pot Luck Supper. About 70 people enjoyed the good food provided by all who attended.

Recent visitors with Mrs. H. P. Lawson were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Doran and family of Auburn, Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Harry King and Mr. and Mrs. Don King of St. Catharines. Rev. and Mrs. Alex Calder of Peterborough, Miss Lillian Lawson and Mr. Russ Hofenbrach of Oak Ridge, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vickers of Islington and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wright of Eden Mills.

Miss Grace Hamblin and a friend of Montreal were also recent visitors with Mrs. Lawson. Miss Hamblin was a niece of the late Mrs. J. A. Tracy, and had frequently visited her aunt who lived where Mrs. Lawson now resides. The ladies were passing through the village on their way to London, and although unaware of the present owner Miss Hamblin thought she would like to visit the old house again, and was quite surprised, when she found Mrs. Lawson, whom she had, as a young girl, visited many times with her aunt, when Mrs. Lawson lived on the farm now owned by Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Atkinson.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Speight, the former Helen Armstrong, who were married the past month in St. John's Anglican Church.

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

BY BILL COATS

This week we continue with a discussion of conventions. I can give only the briefest outline in my column. All of these conventions and a few others as well are covered in the series of lessons that I will be giving starting October 12th.

I would like to talk about the 'Stayman' or 'Two Club' convention, but before I do, we had better have a look at responses to no trump bids.

If your partner opens the bidding with one no trump, a bid of a suit at the two level is a weak bid. Now most bridge players who don't play duplicate or haven't played outside their own group, don't realize this. The players think that they are playing Goren or Cutbertson, but they are not.

Both of these great bridge authorities recommend the weak two response to an opening bid of one no trump.

Such a response is a rescue bid, designed to get the partnership out of a poor no trump contract into a suit contract at a low level. This two level response should be made only if you have less than six points and a five card or longer suit.

The opening bidder is supposed to pass any suit response at the two level.

What do you do if you have a good five or six card suit, preferably a major, and eight points or more? You bid your suit at the three level. The difficulty arises when you have a four card major and eight or more points. You cannot show it at the two level and it's really not enough suit to bid at the three level.

This is where the Stayman convention finds its use. It takes the two club over one trump and changes its meaning. Instead of showing a long club suit and a weakish hand, the two club bid asks the opener if he has a four card major, headed by at least one honour.

This two club bid must be answered and the answers are as follows:
two diamonds — no four card major.
two hearts — a four card heart suit but not a four card spade suit.
two spades — a four card spade suit and maybe a four card heart suit as well.

Usually the opening no trump bidders will not have two four card majors. But in case he has, he bids the spade first.

The Stayman convention can be extended to cover opening bids of two and three no trump.

Janel Nurse, Rev. Keith Hawkes, closed the meeting with prayer. Lunch was served by Nancy Robertson, Sandy Southwood, Carol and Darlene Leslie.

The Eden United Church Young People's Society held their first meeting of the fall season at the home of Donald and Mary Hamilton, on Sunday evening.

The afternoon Sewing Unit of the Hornby United Church Women met at the home of Mrs. Stuart Wish on Tuesday (October 4, for a day of quilting.
