LIMEHOUSE
Spent Thirty Years With India Missions
 A very pleasant evening was spent at the fall thank-offering of Limehouse Presbyterian-WMS in the church on Thursday last. Mrs. John Murray, wife of the minister at Caledon East, was guest speaker.

Having spent thirty years on the mission field in India she was prepared to bring a most enlightening illustrated talk on the work in the Bhil field. She traced the development of the work from its beginning with Rev. John Buchanan, Mrs. F. J. Shortall and Miss Ann Shortall, accompanied by Miss Cathy Sinclair at the piano, sang two lovely duets. Mrs. Sanford chaired the meeting in the absence of President Mrs. Mitchell. Mrs. Gordon Booth read Scripture and Mrs. Gishby led in prayer. Mrs. A. W. Benton introduced the speaker and Mrs. Bert Benton thanked those contributing to the program. Mrs. Murray pronounced the benediction. Mrs. Crichton and Mrs. Patterson arranged a lovely luncheon in the basement afterwards.

Miss Helen Mills has been on holidays with her mother here.

ASHGROVE
Explains Skills Gained in Home Nursing Course
 Mrs. Cliff Hunter was hostess for the October meeting of Ashgrove Women's Institute on the evening of the 18th. It was the health meeting and Mrs. James Carney presided. The Hymn of All Nations was sung to open the meeting. Members brought clean flannellette for dressings and answered roll call by "How I relieve tension."

Five dollars was voted to the muscular dystrophy association. A committee was appointed to arrange a November Euchre. Mrs. John Bird gave a full report of a district directors' meeting she had attended in Milton.

The program was turned over to Mrs. J.H. Hunter who had the ladies stand and sing "Three Blind Mice, acting out the motions, which made a lot of laughter. Mrs. Gordon Wingfield had some wonderful thoughts on the motto, "God gave to each of us the ingredients of happiness, the mixing is up to ourselves."

Mrs. Ralph Cunningham enlightened the members on many things she had learned at last year's home nursing course. She demonstrated the proper way to put on a pillow-case, to change sheets with a patient in bed, how to make handy little bags from a sheet of newspaper, how to give medicine and apply eyepdrops. They learned first aid treatments, care of the aged, maternity care, and they can assist at any disaster in case of war.

Current events were given by Mrs. John Bellbody, followed by a talk on cancer by Mrs. W. T. Craig Reid who is a member of Georgetown Cancer society. Mrs. Cecil Wilson gave the courtesies and a social hour followed the meeting.

We are all sorry to hear that Jeff Nurse had his jaw broken while playing hockey in Guelph and his many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Good old standard time will be back with us on Sunday. I know no one will forget to turn their clocks back one hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Cox and daughter Janice were guests at a wedding in Sudbury over the weekend.

"No Spying" — Intercom To Have Warning Light

The Separate School Board came out strong against "spying" or eavesdropping at last week's Board meeting when they insisted a new intercommunication system to be installed in the school be equipped with a warning light to tell the teachers when they were being overheard.

The Parents' Association of Holy Cross School plan to donate the system to the school, according to Trustee Hartley Sherk.

Father Otger Devent voiced his opposition to the fact the principal or anyone in his office could listen in on classroom activities. Chairman Ben Boyle agreed, while R. Thompson suggested a light be installed warning that the switch is open.

"What do you have against the principal being able to listen?" challenged Hartley Sherk.

"It's spying," replied Trustee R. Thompson, "and probably against the Bill of Rights," he laughed.

Chairman Ben Boyle summed up, saying, "It is the opinion of the Board that this feature be taken out, and the system required for a warning light of some kind."

Holy Cross school children will go to school on Holy Days of Obligation from now on. The motion was passed last week, suspending school holidays on Holy Days of Obligation which fall on school days.

The children will go to mass from the school.

The majority of Board members felt the school year was short enough now.

Expropriation proceedings are underway for a five and a half acre site on Pennington Crescent for a new separate school.

The school initially planned for 104 rooms, and eventually sixteen rooms, is hoped to be ready for fall 1967 opening.

Pennington Crescent, runs off Mountainview Road, south of the present Centennial School.

A former member of the Board, Ed LeBlanc, who moved to Peterborough, will not be replaced. The Board felt it was too close to election time to appoint a replacement.

What Hope for World If Can't Solve Own Problems?

10 Hale Drive, Georgetown, Ontario October 21, 1966

Dear Sir:

All supporters of the Halton County Health Nurses who were present at the Halton County Council meeting on Oct. 18, left with a far greater understanding of why the world is in its present chaotic state. Mr. Lloyd Sharpe, advisor for Employment Relations to the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario (RNAO), speaking on behalf of the Public Health Nurses said in effect, that if people who speak the same language cannot get along, what hope is there for nations who have language and culture barriers? If leaders of the world are as apparently unformed and perverse as the men elected by us to County Council then the prognosis for improvement of the world situation is poor.

County Council, no doubt finds the Public Health Nurses distrustful and adamant. For years nurses throughout Ontario and across Canada have attempted to solve their problems by trusting in the "good will" of their employers.

Their trust has been constantly betrayed, their honest appeals ridiculed and their jobs placed in jeopardy. Because they care for mankind, nurses have renounced the right to strike, preferring to bargain in a democratic, mature manner with their employers. Employers in their turn, have threatened nurses, dismissed them abruptly

Warden Hinton mentioned that he had received a number of letters from nurses in support of the Public Health Nurses; however, he added, he had heard little from the public. Since some of the reeves and deputy reeves of the County Council, in spite of their prolonged exposure to the nursing situation, did not know that Public Health Nurses were Registered Nurses with additional study in the field of Public Health, can Warden Hinton really assume that the public knows the true problems involved? Informed public opinion can be very beneficial. Ignorant public opinion can be disastrous!

The lack of intelligent questioning at the Council meeting was appalling, leading one to wonder if "mob psychology" was the order of the day in Council. It was obvious that the majority had no clear understanding of the nurses' desire to be recognized in their own right as nurses, without resorting to certification under the Labour Relations Act, which was never intended to cover the professions. Instead of becoming informed and attempting in a mature way to arrive at an intelligent decision Council prefers to hide behind technicalities. As Mr. Sharpe stated, "All it takes is a willingness."

Well, Halton County Council in their turn, have threatened Mr. Warden, Reeves and Deputy Reeves, the entire nursing

LIMEHOUSE

Mrs. Thomas of Port Colborne has been visiting the Linhams. They drove her back home on Sunday.

Rev. F. N. Young baptized Hilda Gordon Douglas Robert Kayes, son of Mr. Russell Kayes and the late Mrs. Kayes at the afternoon service at Limehouse Presbyterian Church on Sunday.

Mr. F. H. Price attended the Presbyterian Synod meeting in Smith's Falls Tuesday and Wednesday and visited a few days with Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Calder at Peterborough afterwards.

The third meeting of the Limehouse Accenters was held at the home of Mrs. T. Brown on Saturday, October 22. Selection and care of scarves was discussed. The group work consisted of tie-dying and practicing the hand rolled hem.

Five dollars was voted to the muscular dystrophy association. A committee was appointed to arrange a November Euchre. Mrs. John Bird gave a full report of a district directors' meeting she had attended in Milton.

The program was turned over to Mrs. J.H. Hunter who had the ladies stand and sing "Three Blind Mice, acting out the motions, which made a lot of laughter. profession of Ontario is watching you — about fifty thousand of us as well as our spouses, families and in-laws. We hope that each of you realizes the immense responsibility you have to your voters and your country and that you are mature, clear sighted and intelligent enough to shoulder that responsibility.

Yours truly,

Assaulted Constable Brothers Are Jailed

Two brothers involved in a beverage room brawl in Georgetown October 12th were jailed by Magistrate James Black, on Wednesday.

One of the pair, age 26, was imprisoned for 90 days for assaulting Georgetown police constable William Koeslag while in the execution of his duty. The other brother, age 27, got 75 days for obstructing the officer.

Magistrate Black told the men that they were fortunate not to receive the full term of two years' imprisonment.

"This court will not tolerate disregard for law and order," he added. "It will take a most serious view of such infractions of the Criminal Code."

He said he was concerned at the type of offense, and that police were engaged to enforce law and order for the protection of citizens.

"This court is going to support them without question," he added.
