Reserve Judgement On Truck Theft Charge

A man who tried to steal a truck in Georgetown, October 13 had no chance of getting away with it, said Magistrate James Black, Wednesday.

The R R 2, Cheltenham man said he wanted to drive the truck back home after he had been drinking.

He was in the cab and trying to start it when he was spotted by police.

"It would not have run any way because the radiator was out of it. The truck was under repair," said Assistant Crown Attorney Bruce Martin.

"It was so stupid that you could not hope to be successful," Magistrate Black told the accused.

"I wouldn't have done it if I hadn't had something to drink," the man replied.

He was released on his own recognizance and judgment was reserved for six months.
