

GEORGETOWN HERALD

The Home Newspaper for Georgetown and District

Printing - Publishing

The Georgetown Herald has served Georgetown and District as Printers and Publishers since 1867 offering the best in fine printing and news coverage.

Ads That Pay

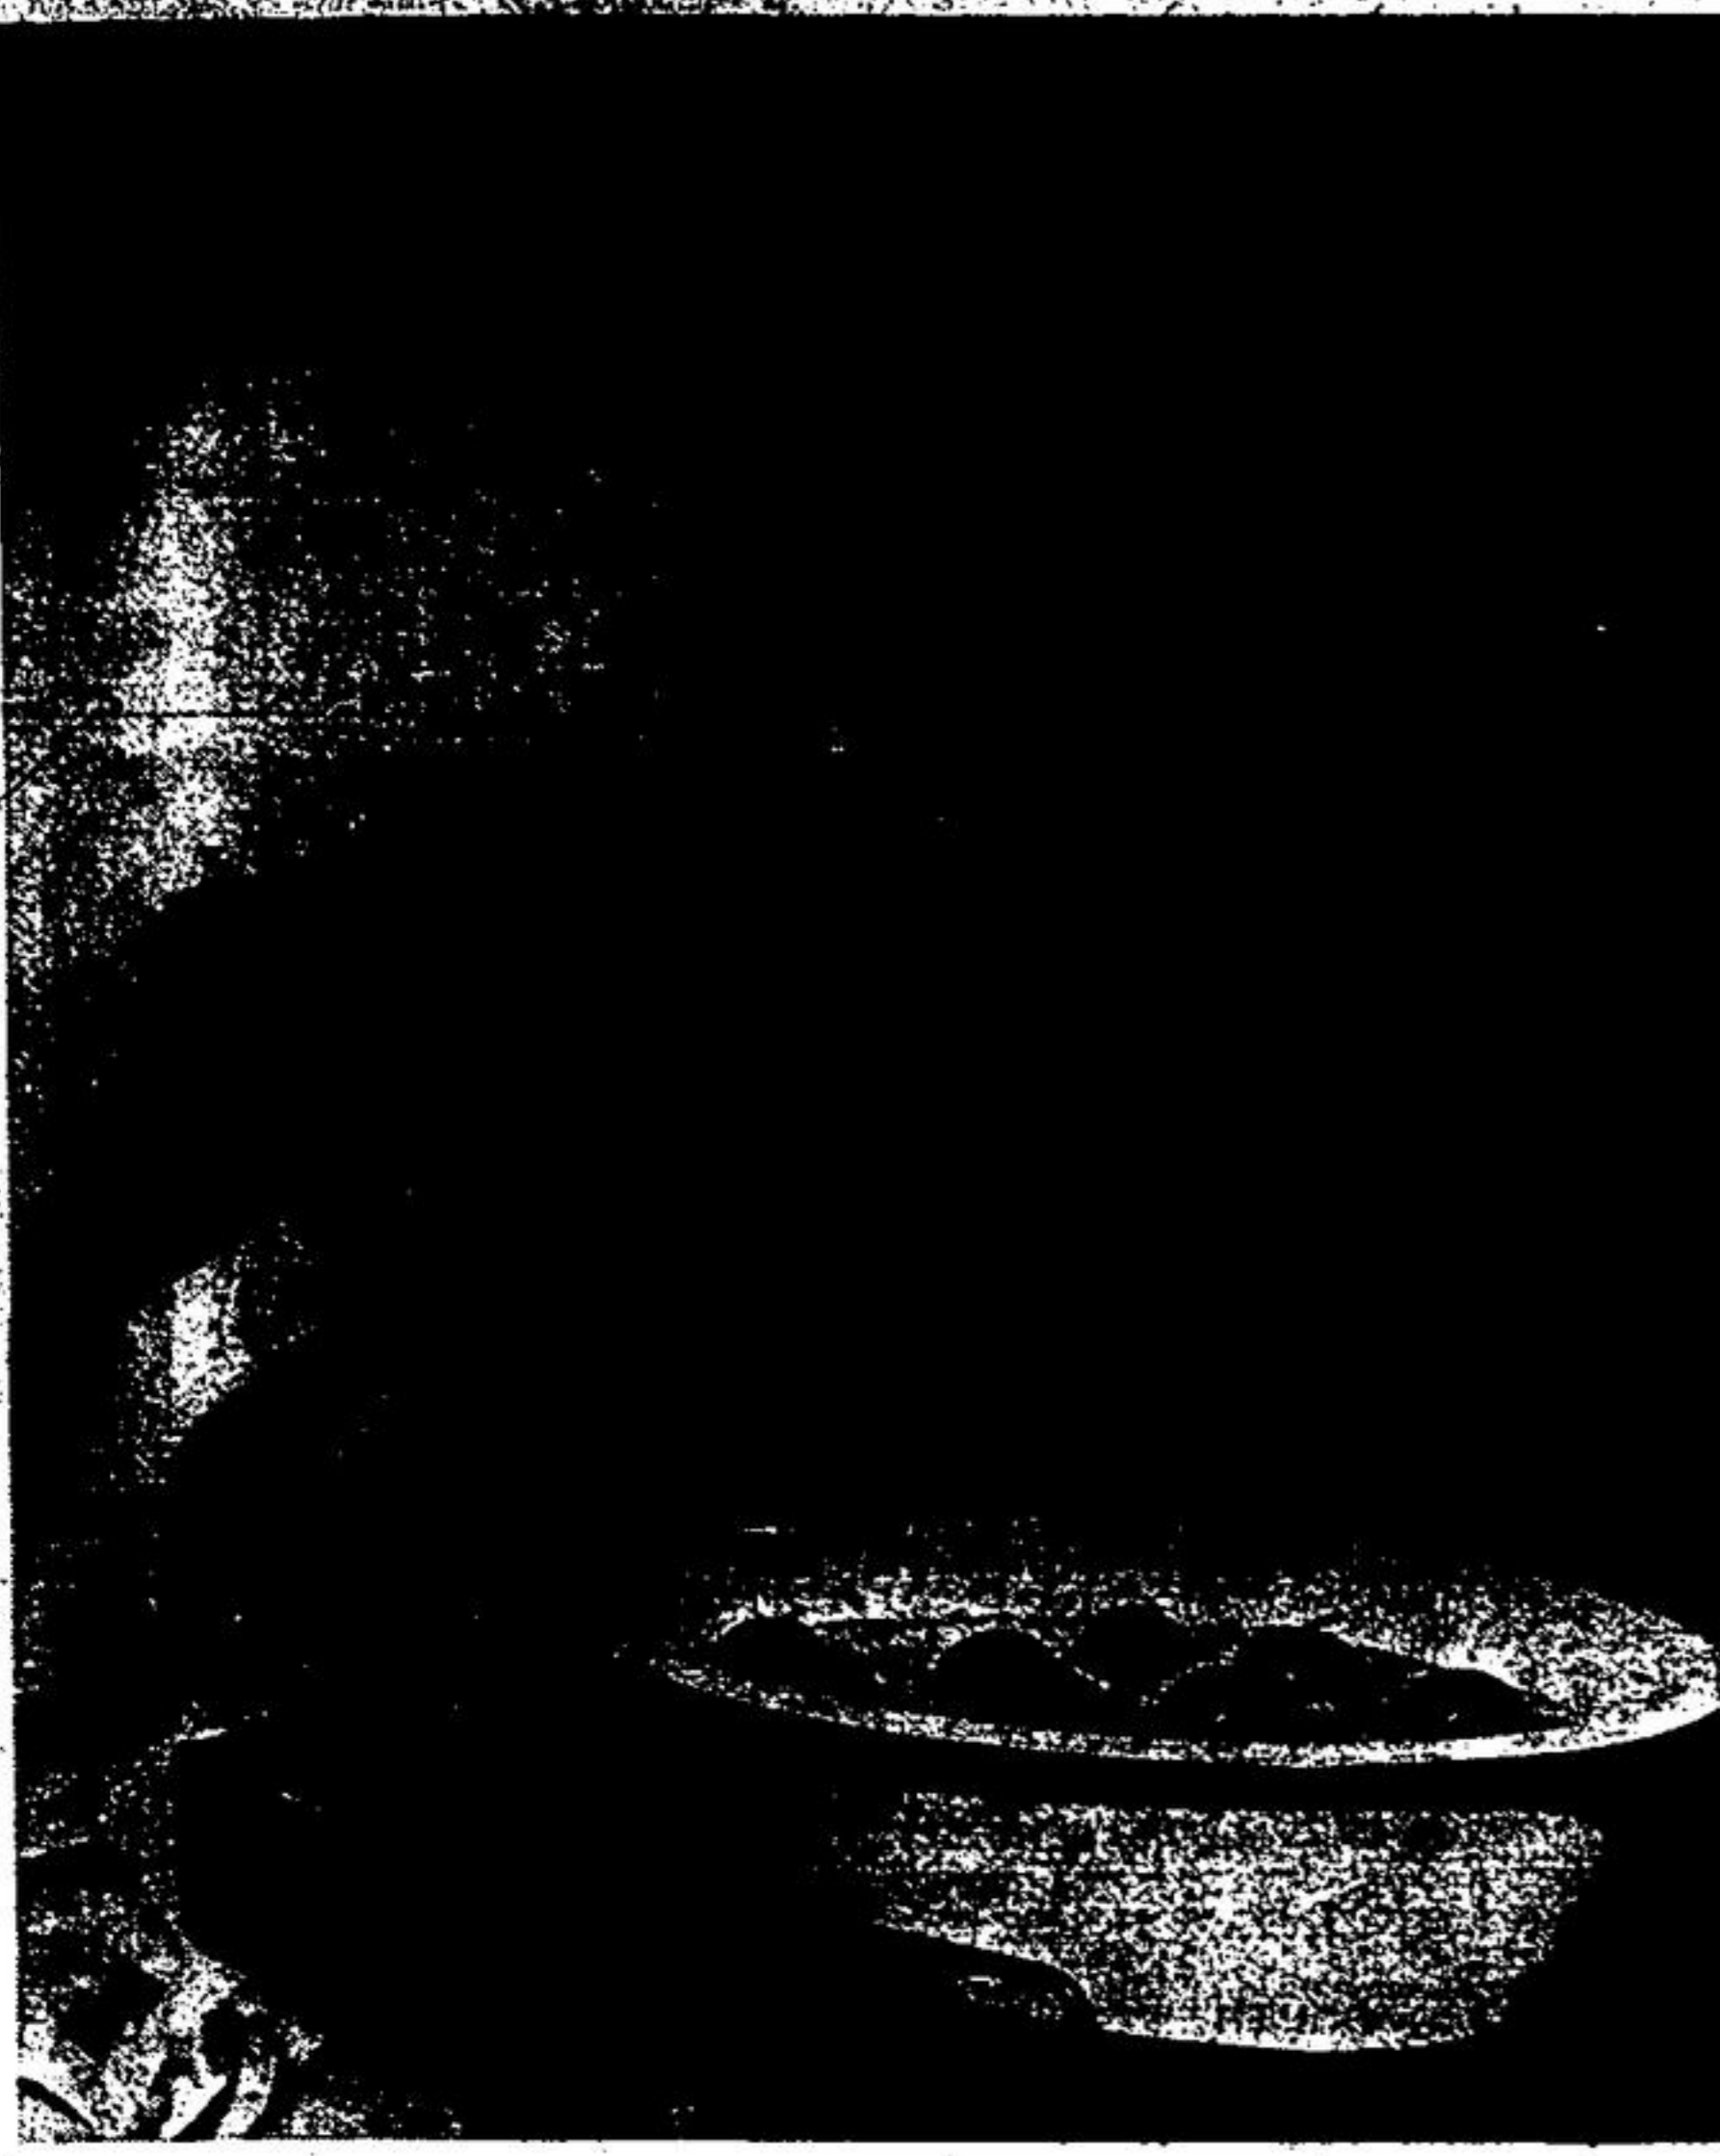

You can place an ad in the Herald's Classified pages by phoning 877-2281. During or after the day. The Herald is where you will find the results you want.

Authorized as Second Class Mail, Post Office Dept., Ottawa and for payment of postage in cash

Georgetown, Ontario, Thursday, November 3rd, 1966

$5.00 per year; Single Copy Price: Ten Cents

HALLOWEEN SCENE

BOBBING FOR APPLES STILL PART OF SPOOK NITE

NO MATTER what other customs are eliminated or altered in the name of progress the frills of Halloween for the most part continue to escape the erosion of time. Bobbing for apples, for instance, was a tradition still much in evidence at Spook parties throughout the town this Halloween. Here, Colleen O'Connor, surfaces with a catch while Debbie Paul, Dennis Cromie (at left), and Connie Allen (right) wait their turn.

Set 50% Water Surcharge As Mills' Sewer Payment

Despite the objections of Mayor Joseph Gibbons, Council, at a special meeting last Wednesday night, settled on a 50 per cent surcharge on their water bills as the sewer service charge to Domtar Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd. and Provincial Paper Co. Ltd. The charge is retroactive to January, 1966.

A bond covering possible damage to the sewage disposal plant will be negotiated later. Representatives of both mills, J. Crichton of Domtar and G. Shaw of Provincial Paper, agreed to recommend acceptance of this offer to their companies, but doubted the feasibility of a joint bond, as had been suggested by the town.

The original agreement proposed by the town, but questioned by the mills, was a $3,000 fee to Domtar, and $4,000 to Provincial per year.

"We expect a certain fee for the privilege of using our disposal plant," stated the mayor. "Does your company refuse to pay?" he asked Mr. Crichton.

"Up to now we haven't refused," replied Mr. Crichton. "But we question the amount. The O.W.R.C. mentioned a figure of $1,500 in 1965, why so much higher now?" asked the Domtar manager.

"You mean you're not prepared to pay the levy this municipality assesses. Is that right?" demanded the mayor.

"I simply question the amount," replied Mr. Crichton.

"Do you mean to say our levy of $3,000 is too great for your company to pay?" reiterated the mayor.

Cr. Ern Hyde pointed out it was only a proposal to both mills, and not a levy of any kind. "It is simply a matter of arriving at an amount," he added.

In answer to the mayor's question regarding the method of arriving at the three thousand dollar figure in the case of Domtar, Cr. Speight explained that the O.W.R.C. at a recent committee meeting had suggested between two and three thousands dollars a year for Domtar. "It's only natural we said three thousand to get the best deal for the town, however the mills feel we can handle it for less."

Cr. Hyde reminded council that the fee to both mills, set at a committee meeting, was not by a unanimous vote. "I said then, and still maintain the 50 per cent surcharge, already covered by by-law is the only fair way. If at a later date we find there are extra costs, we have a perfect right to go to the industry and increase the amount." Continuing, Cr. Hyde stressed that it must be on measured basis, a certain percentage of the water bill.

Cr. Fred Harrison stated the company had never refused to pay, but simply wanted to know the method used to compute the amount. "If you took a car to a garage," he said to the mayor, "whether it was hit by a train or not, you'd want them to justify the bill, well that's what the mills are doing."

"It seems to me," retorted the mayor, "that an amount like this is not excessive for a company like Domtar, in fact it's pretty small potatoes to object to the amount the corporation has assessed. What would you do if the O.W.R.C. said you had to find some other way," demanded the mayor.

"Neither council nor the mills are here on small potatoes," countered Cr. Harrison. "If they feel unjustly charged, that is one thing, if we think it's just right that's another, but there should be one charge for everybody, not a higher charge for someone who can pay

Says Licence Suspension Best For Teen Drinkers

Georgetown Magistrate Kenneth Langdon sounded off about drinking teens again Monday and said "the only sensible approach to this problem is by recommending the suspension of their licences."

The outspoken jurist caused a row over the suggestion last May when he implemented it by taking away the licenses of two teenagers who were convicted of drinking offences.

"Teenagers who drink are not mature enough to hold drivers' licences," he said then. "The courts are dealing with this type of offender day in and day out."

Obvious Problem
"This morning indicates clearly the problem that confronts the courts."

He said it was obvious to him that a 16 year old did not have the earning capacity of a 19 year old and that a fine would be an unusual hardship on them.

Nurses Decide to Return To Work November 7

Halton County's public health nurses will return to work November 7th, and negotiations with the special labour relations committee of County Council will resume at 7:30 the same evening.

Twenty-two of the twenty-six public health nurses resigned September 12, to back up demands that their association, the Halton County Nurses Association, be recognized as a bargaining unit.

The county refused, insisting that the nurses' association must be certified under the Ontario Labour Relations Act, first.

Tuesday night, following a meeting at the home of Mrs. Flora Hesson, president of the Halton Nurses' Association, the nurses agreed to return to work in the hope that the dispute over recognition can be settled in future negotiations.

Two weeks ago the nurses accompanied by their husbands and supporters marched on County Council. Lloyd Sharp, director of employment relations with the Registered Nurses Association of Ontario, urged the council to meet the nurses and make an effort to end the dispute.

Councillors repeated their stand that they could not negotiate with people no longer in their employ.

Last Saturday morning, the special labour relations committee of council met five of the nurses and Mr. Sharp, and discussed conditions of the nurses' return to work.

The committee agreed to meet the nurses and continue negotiations on the evening of the day the nurses returned to work.

Order Tree Cut On Town Property

The tree that grows on Guelph St. in front of Maveal Motors will finally be cut down. A letter from N.W. Kirewskii, town engineer, informed council the tree is on town property, so according to council's direction would be cut down.

The mayor felt the owner of the abutting property should be notified. The clerk explained that a letter had been received from the owner of the adjacent property saying he had no objection, provided the tree was on town property.

Those attending from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. A. Pastore and Beverly of Exeter; Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Brooks of Toronto; Mrs. C. Mair, Hensall; Mrs. Ferguson, Delhi; Mr. and Mrs. O. Tuckey, Exeter; Mr. and Mrs. E. McAllister, Galt; Mr. and Mrs. B. Barry, London; Mrs. C. Russ, Hamilton; and Mrs. Bayham, London; were unable to attend.

Dr. McAllister began to practice in Georgetown in September of 1911 and looked after the medical needs of Georgetown and district people for over fifty years before retiring.

Born October 28th, 1876, Dr.

McAllister attended No. 3 Township of Hay Public School on Farr Line. He graduated from Clinton Collegiate in 1899 and attended Clinton Model School in autumn term. He taught over six years in public schools, first as principal, two years in London, one year in Bruce County and three years in Constantine, Huron County, and three months in summer school in Saskatchewan.

He attended University of Toronto Medical College from 1906 to 1910, interned the following year at Carleton County General Protestant Hospital, Ottawa, and then began his Georgetown practice.

He married Annie E. M. Elliott, nurse graduate of the General Protestant Hospital, Class of 1913, Ottawa. They had three children, Helen Mary, who died in infancy.

Dr. McAllister was a member of the Ontario Medical Association, the Ontario Hospital Association, the Ontario Nurses' Association, the Ontario Dental Association, the Ontario Veterinary Association, the Ontario Association of Surgeons, the Ontario Association of Physicians, the Ontario Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the Ontario Association of Ophthalmologists, the Ontario Association of Otorhinolaryngologists, the Ontario Association of Pathologists, the Ontario Association of Radiologists, the Ontario Association of Surgeons, the Ontario Association of Physicians, the Ontario Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the Ontario Association of Ophthalmologists, the Ontario Association of Otorhinolaryngologists, the Ontario Association of Pathologists, the Ontario Association of Radiologists.

Dr. McAllister was a member of the Ontario Medical Association, the Ontario Hospital Association, the Ontario Nurses' Association, the Ontario Dental Association, the Ontario Veterinary Association, the Ontario Association of Surgeons, the Ontario Association of Physicians, the Ontario Association of Obstetricians and Gynecologists, the Ontario Association of Ophthalmologists, the Ontario Association of Otorhinolaryngologists, the Ontario Association of Pathologists, the Ontario Association of Radiologists.

Anglican Rectors Here Have New Positions

Two Anglican rectors who have served at churches in this area have recently taken new positions.

Rev. Kenneth Richardson, who went to Hamilton as a hospital chaplain in 1962, following a period as rector of St. George's Church in Niagara Falls. He is rector of St. Stephen's Church there.

Rev. Ronald Stubby, who was rector of St. Alban's, Glen Williams, and St. Paul's, Norval, until a year ago, preached his last sermon Sunday morning at Christ Church, West Flamboro. Mr. Stubby has taken a position as a probation officer in St. Catharines.

Extended Term For Council, Boards, Commissions, Passes On 5-4 Vote

With the third reading of the by-law last Wednesday night, the two year term for councillors elected this December became a fact.

Again the vote was 5 to 4, with Reeve William Hunter, Deputy Reeve James Young, Crs. William Smith, Roy Ballon, and Arthur Speight in favour, and Mayor Joseph Gibbons, Crs. Fred Harrison, Ernest Hyde and Wheldon Emmerson against. Those opposing expressed their opinions in previous meetings, not objecting to the two-year term, but claiming the question should be put to a plebiscite.

Following the final reading of the by-law making the two year term for councillors effective, a motion to prepare a by-law for all elected boards and commissions to be elected biennially was passed unanimously.

Fair Gave $2300 In Prizes Gate Receipts Down By $271

The directors of both the men's and ladies' sections of Georgetown fall fair board met recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Cleave, Maple Ave.

The treasurer's report showed that Georgetown had another successful fair even though gate receipts were down $271, due to the unsettled weather on fair day. Prize money paid out in the various classes will amount to around $2300, leaving a small balance on the year's operations after expenses are paid.

Plans were made to overhaul the cattle prize list for 1967 to attract a larger cattle show and bring prize money more in keeping with the times.

A committee consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Garfield McGilvray, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hunter and the two presidents, Mrs. W. Bird and Ken Ella were appointed to arrange for the annual dinner, which this year will be held in the Knox Church Hall.

No action was taken when Mrs. George Ironside intimated that she would like to be relieved of the secretary's position. The annual meeting of the board will be held in the new year.

Eight members of the board Mrs. G. Ironside, Mrs. W. Bird, Mrs. J. Williamson, Mr. Harding Price, Mrs. W. Cleave, Mrs. James Fisher and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson attended the District No. 5 annual meeting at Sutton last week.

The new director of the association is J.D. Tate, Sutton and the associate, Doug Palmer Schomberg, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Crossberry, Sutton; lady directors, Mrs. Arthur Rowan, Allen; and Mrs. Doug Palmer, Schomberg.

Besides the discussion group a very fine program had been arranged for the noon dinner.

Seek Kerr's Help In Recovering Subsidy

The Road Committee, the town engineer and the town solicitor will meet with Halton's member of the Provincial legislature, George Kerr, to discuss all aspects of recovering the subsidy on the reconstruction of No. 7 Hwy.

"It may not help us at all," commented Cr. Smith the mover of the motion, "but at least he may be able to direct us to the proper channels."

Council endorsed the meeting unanimously at their meeting last Wednesday night.

THE WARDEN'S CHAIR - THEIR THING IN COMMON

TALKING WITH HALTON COUNTY WARDEN E. M. HINTON at the annual Warden's dinner Thursday are the only living ex-Georgetown councillors who held the Warden's office, Douglas Sargent, Harold Cleave and Stanley Allen. About a hundred municipal brass and guests attended the roast beef dinner.

Hockey Midgets Lose Tie In Round Robin

Georgetown Midgets were defeated by Galt Midgets in a Centennial Tournament round robin game in Georgetown Thursday night. Seven to two was the final score.

Saturday in Galt, Georgetown came away with a 3-all tie. This one featured a rare penalty shot on which Jack Kamahed made good.

The next Centennial Tournament game is slated for Georgetown Memorial Arena, Thursday, November 3rd, Brampton, the visitors.

Sign of Times Prefer War To Peace

A landmark at Terra Cotta for years has been a large boulder in the middle of the Credit River prominently bearing the single word PEACE in large white painted letters.

On the morning after Halloween it was discovered the word PEACE had been painted out and replaced with the word WAR.

The repainting project involved a chilling wade through the knee deep water for Halloween pranksters.

Weather

WEATHER	High	Low
October	54	25
26, Wed.	54	32
27, Thurs.	60	40
28, Fri.	63	40
29, Sat.	45	36
30, Sun.	41	16
31, Mon.	54	21

High for the week 63—low 16
High or October 75—low 16
Precipitation: 1.43 inches

—Alice F. C. Scott