

SCRUB-A-DUB-DUB FOR FUN AND FUNDS

Norval Girl Top Poster Winner, Fire Prevention

Six winners in the Halton Fire Prevention Bureau's 1966 fire prevention poster competition were named this week by Capt. Harold Coulson of Milton, the Bureau chairman.

Two Esqueping Township Grade 5 pupils claimed the two top awards, while honorable mention prizes were given to four other students from Milton, Oakville and Glen Williams schools. Top girls' poster was drawn by Deborah Hunter of Norval Public School and the top boy in the contest was Keith Parry of Speyside School.

Honourable Mentions
The honourable mentions went to Susan Capel of Pine Grove School, Oakville; Dean Marchmont of Glen Williams Public School, Esqueping; and Frank Morkley and Nancy Sales, both of the W. I. Dick School in Milton.

The two first prize winners, their parents, teachers and principals will be guests of honour at the Bureau's annual banquet in Milton Fire Hall on Tuesday evening, November 22. Each of the two winners will receive a personal trophy and their schools will receive the Halton Mutual Fire Insurance Company trophies to be retained for one year.

Honourable mention certificates and a silver dollar will be distributed later to each of the

Volunteer Service Earns Hospital Auxiliary Award
Georgetown and District Memorial Hospital Auxiliary has been listed among those qualifying for awards on the basis of outstanding volunteer service it was disclosed Tuesday when the Hospital Auxiliaries Association of Ontario announced its annual awards.

The Georgetown auxiliary was one of three granted the award the others being the auxiliaries of the Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital, Burlington and the Senrenbrenner Hospital, Kapuskasing.

Other auxiliaries winning awards were:
Public relations display: Mt. Sinai Hospital, Toronto; Pembroke General Hospital; Queen Elizabeth Hospital and Baycrest Jewish Home for the Aged, Toronto.

In hospital volunteer service: Joseph Brant Memorial Hospital, Burlington; Senrenbrenner Hospital, Kapuskasing; Georgetown Memorial Hospital, Georgetown.

Donna Dowby of McKellar General Hospital, Fort William was given the Margaret Fraser Memorial Award which goes to a teen-ager, now in a hospital career, for her services as a volunteer.

Fire Department Men
Also invited to the banquet are representatives of the Acton, Georgetown, Milton and Oakville Fire Departments who sponsor the County Bureau, officials of the Ontario Fire Marshal's office, local municipal councillors and the judges from the Kitchener Fire Bureau who selected the winning posters.

The guest speaker for the evening will be Thomas A. Hutchinson, Q.C., a retired Milton lawyer.

This was the 10th annual grade 5 fire prevention poster competition the Bureau sponsored. All grade 5 students in the county were invited to draw a poster on the theme "Fire Prevention in the Home". Area winners were named and their posters were forwarded to the Halton-wide contest. Prizes were awarded on originality of thought, design, artwork and the fire prevention message the posters contained, Mr. Coulson explained.

Dangers in the Home
Both prize-winning posters showed the students' concern with fire dangers in the home. Deborah's poster showed a living room scene with three obvious fire hazards in evidence. Keith's indicated the dangers of smoking in bed.

Their entries will be forwarded to an all-Ontario contest next year, sponsored by the Ontario Fire Chief's Association. The provincial competition was patterned after the Halton contest. In previous years, entries from Halton students have received honourable mentions in the Ontario contest and two years ago an Oakville girl's poster claimed the top prize $100 bond.
