

SHOES FOR SCHUMACHER

WHAT ELSE CAN YOU GIVE A FELLA MOVING NORTH

WHEN IT COMES TO GOING AWAY presents the Rotary Club leans toward the practical gift. And don't think Ed Burman doesn't appreciate it. Ed, a very active Rotarian during his tenure here as accountant at the downtown branch of the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce, was presented with these snowshoes at a club meeting last week. Why snowshoes? Ed has been promoted to manager and transferred to Schumacher in northern Ontario.

Survey Shows People Want
Major Religions Taught

A survey on "Religion in the Public Schools" in which members of the Georgetown Bahai community participated, has been completed in 31 towns and cities of Ontario, and statistics compiled.

Results show that 86 percent of Ontario citizens favour the idea that "children should be given some knowledge of the religious beliefs of other peoples of the world."

As to the method of presenting this information to children 65 percent felt that the public schools should provide, as a regular course, the history and ethics of the major religions, taught by specially qualified teachers, without theology or sectarian doctrine.

The survey, made under the auspices of the Bahai National Assembly of Canada, used the standard "random path" method. Its purpose was to obtain realistic figures on the opinions of a cross-section of Ontario citizens, concerning the teachings of religion in the schools. These figures were then included in a Brief which has recently been presented to the Ontario Provincial Commission on Religious Education in the schools.

In the brief it was pointed out that the major religions — that is, Christianity, Hinduism,

Islam, Judaism, and so on — are the sources of human ethics and civilization, and as such should form a most important element in the education of children. The point was also made that all of these religions are represented in Ontario, and that an understanding of their basic principles would aid in strengthening social relationships among the citizens of the province.

SKI HOLIDAY IN SWITZERLAND

Dr. William Cohoon and doctor friend are skiing in Switzerland for two weeks.

The W. I. met at the home of Mrs. Roughley on Wednesday with a good attendance.

The Limehouse Colonial Maidens under the leadership of Mrs. Ted Brown and Miss Linda Linham are at present enjoying the 4-H homemaking Centenennial project "A World of Food in Canada". The twelve members have had three meetings which included the making of early Canadian dishes such as Baked Indian Pudding, Succotash, Grandperes, Tourtiere, Apple Dumplings, English Trifle, Welsh Rarebit and Finnan Haddie with egg sauce. All members are very interested in learning how our food habits are influenced by Canadians with many different backgrounds.

ASHGROVE

Irish Soda Bread On 4-H Girls Menu

Kathleen Kitley was hostess for the Ashgrove Centennial Cooks on March 4, when the girls selected a cover design for their record books and discussed plans for their club party.

In the cooking period Mrs. Rentenaar assisted the girls with the food preparations. Jessie Harris made and baked a loaf of Irish soda bread which is a tasty whole wheat scone in which the leaven is soda and buttermilk, rather than yeast. Teena Rentenaar made Welsh rarebit, a cheese dish suitable for lunch while Kathleen Kitley showed how to make the delicious dessert, English trifle.

The girls discussed the influence of their ancestors from the British Isles on food preferences. They sampled the day's cooking at the end of the meeting.

To meet the needs of Canadian hospitals, the Red Cross must collect more than 915,000 units of blood in 1967.

Expresses Teens
Regret at Cancellation of Dances

24 Rexway Drive,
March 2nd, 1967

Dear Sir:
I am speaking as a teenager and no doubt for the teenage population of Georgetown, when I express my views on the case of Mr. Jack O'Sullivan's permit to use the Holy Cross auditorium for a weekly Saturday night dance.

I believe that this dance was the best organized, supervised and situated dance that Georgetown has had for a long time. The 300 teenagers, of whom I am one, who attended the dance, sure enjoyed it very much and are very disappointed about its cancellation. Talking to a few teenagers about the cancellation, I have found that 100 percent of them are in favour of continuing this fine dance. I also feel that any church auditorium, be it Holy Cross, United, Anglican or what have you, could be put to worse use than entertaining teenagers on a Saturday night, even though there is a small, evil minority among us.

Furthermore, the people who have forced the cancellation of this dance did not think, but only acted upon impulse to the advertisement which read — "Dance — Holy Cross auditorium" and did not think what they are doing to the teenage population.

But I suppose if Jack O'Sullivan cannot find another place in Georgetown, the pool rooms will do a thriving Saturday night business, and there will be more time for car rides, and there will always be another town and another dance.
