

Research, Hard Work is Evident at Open House

FRANCINE ROUSSELLE tries a fiddle made by one of the pupils. It was part of display of musical instruments.

Holy Cross School held Open House on March 8th. Prior to Wednesday night a great deal of painstaking work was done by the teachers and pupils to make their displays both attractive and informative. Canada's Centennial celebration was the overall theme selected.

As the parents entered the school, they were greeted by Joe Alexander of Grade VIII, dressed in the fashion men wore in the 1800's. Coffee and pastries were served in the lobby by Grade VIII girls, becoming dressed in styles reminiscent of the Gay Nineties.

Each class chose a project to be highly commended for all their room display, and adjoining portion of hallway. The various themes selected were:

curriculum, citizenship, religion safety, music and the development and progress of the past century.

From the front lobby where the Fathers of Confederation, and Dolls of Many Nations, were displayed to the very last classroom, the entire school vibrated with the high calibre of unique work displayed. The parents thoroughly enjoyed reviewing the subject matter which they recalled from their own school days, but made more alive and absorbing by the use of modern techniques.

The teachers and students are to be highly commended for their hours of effort, which resulted in a most rewarding evening for the parents.

Demonstrates Exercisor At Meeting of Kinettes

Past Presidents' Night of the Kinettes Club of Georgetown was held at the home of Kinettes M. de la Motte last week. Kinettes Gail Collett asked for the support of the whole club with the March Bridge Finale to be held on April 8th at Cedarvale. A spaghetti dinner will be served.

The Valentine's party report given by chairman, Jean Murphy showed a good profit which will go into the convention account.

Kinettes Krulke plans were discussed. It is hoped that the publicity planned will help promote ticket sales. The theme this year is a Krulke to the Kinennial Ball and is on April 14th at the Riviera, Norval. Kinettes will be in period costume and dress for guests is optional.

On completion of the business portion of the evening the Kinettes were entertained by Donald C. Gay, D.C., who demonstrated an exercisor. Many of the Kinettes present also tried the apparatus and it turned into a very lively demonstration. Kinettes Donna Moores thanked Mr. Gay for his visit. A lunch was served by the Past Presidents. The April meeting will be held on April 6th at Kinettes Gail Collett's. This is to be nomination night and a pot luck supper will be served.
