

Correen Cooper, Alison Macintosh Best in Public Speaking Contest

Correen Cooper of Glen Williams school, and Alison Macintosh of Harrison School were declared the winners of the public speaking contest held on Friday night in Wrigglesworth auditorium. They will now go on to compete in the county finals, March 17th, in Morden Road public school, Oakville.

First place went to Correen with her amusing glance at "The Family" and second place to Alison for her verbal traveltogue of "Muskoka".

Judges Rev. E. Mills, Dr. C. V. Williams, and Mr. K. F. Trowbridge chose the 2 out of eleven contestants, seven from Georgetown schools, and four from Esquesing.

Representing Georgetown were John Tost from Chapel St., Lynne Melcombe from George Kennedy, Patty Monckton from Park, Pamela Meharg from Wrigglesworth, Heather Small, and Michael Macdonald from Centennial, and Alison Macintosh from Harrison.

From Esquesing were Karen Sorensen, of Pineview, Grace Bird of Stewarttown, Kim Kemshead and Correen Cooper of Glen Williams.

Each contestant carried home a centennial silver dollar presented by Dr. C. A. Thompson, a member of Esquesing School Board.

The Canadian Legion trophy was presented to Correen by John Elliott, and the Halton No. 1 Principals' Association plaque was presented to Alison by William Kinrade, principal of Wrigglesworth School.

John Mintern, chairman of the Georgetown public school board and Dr. C. A. Thompson, gave the first and second place winners their permanent silver cups.

The choirs of Centennial School and Stewarttown School entertained the audience while the judges considered their decision.

WRIGGLESWORTH PUBLIC SCHOOL principal William Kinrade presents the Halton Inspe- State No. 1 Principals' Association plaque to second place winner Alison Macintosh. With her on stage is Correen Cooper of Glen Williams who has just been awarded the first place plaque.

History in Quilts is Depicted to Institute

The March meeting of the Hornby Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. Milton Brown, on Wednesday afternoon, March 8.

Mrs. Clifford Wrigglesworth, the president, welcomed the ladies to the meeting which was opened with the Institute Ode followed by the Mary Stewart Collect. The roll call "A delight of Expo '67", was answered by the nine members and three visitors present.

The correspondence included an invitation to a Centennial Tea at Ligny School, a euchre party at the Percy Merry School, a short course in copper tooling and also an announcement of a forum in St. Paul's United Church in Milton.

The ladies were asked to assist in a farm safety campaign and Mrs. Hugh O'Connor and Mrs. William McPherson, offered to act as the committee. The committee on the centennial project of a quilt and crafts display reported it would be held in the agricultural Hall, Milton in June. Mrs. Delbert Downs and Mrs. Cecil Patterson were appointed as a nominating committee.

Mrs. Milton Brown, the historical research convenor introduced the guest speaker Mrs. L. Graham, who chose as her topic, "This is our heritage." She gave the ladies some interesting information and told some of the life story of Marilyn McLean in this new land. The speaker also displayed three quilts of different ages and told a story of each one.

Mrs. Brown thanked the speaker and she also gave a Motte entitled "In youth we learn, in age we understand."

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

BY BILL COATS

It isn't very often that a hand occurs in a bridge match that requires special handling. Many coups occur only once a year.

But when a hand does come up that requires special techniques, it's a thrill to see the play work. Such a hand came up the other night at a friendly rubber bridge match:

South was the dealer.

North		East
S-K J 8 6 3	H-A 7 4	D-K 6	C-A 9 5

West		East
S-7 4	H-10 9 6 2	D-10 8 4 2	C-10 8 2

South		North
S-A Q 9 5 2	H-K Q J	D-A 7	C-6 4 3

The bidding:

South	West	North	East
1 S	Pass	3 S	Pass
4 S	Pass	5 C	Pass
5 D	Pass	5 H	Pass
6 S	All Pass

North has a very difficult problem on his first call. The only reasonable bid is three spades but this is an underbid. A jump response in a major should show 13-15 points.

North's hand is worth more than 15 points. The bids after four spades are ace showing, Blackwood would have discovered the same information.

North and South are indeed unfortunate. Their hands are identical in distribution. If either had one less club and one more diamond, or even if one had one more heart, there would be no problem. However, with this distribution, it looks like two club losers for sure.

West leads the queen of diamonds and dummy goes down. Declarer must plan his play. It never pays to give up, so declarer should look for an alternative to giving up two club tricks.

There is one hope. If either East or West have extra clubs and can be persuaded to win the second club, then maybe declarer can get a ruff and stuff.

Declarer should win the diamond with the ace and immediately lead a club. West may not be aware of the danger of his club holding and will probably play low. Declarer wins the club ace, draws trump, takes all his hearts and diamonds and leads a club.

West now has the lead and has nothing left but red cards. Whichever he leads, declarer can ruff in one hand and discard his losing club from the other.

If declarer does not lead clubs right away, but draws trump and takes his red card winners, then West should be alert to the end play possibilities. He should play his king on the 1st club lead and avoid being played on the lead.

Although plays of this kind don't occur very often, they should be learned for they are a joy to use when required.

Acton Bridge Club winners on Monday were:

1st pair, Cam Sinclair and Lloyd Keir; 2nd pair, Mrs. Lill Cook and Mrs. Jean Gartlett; 3rd pair, George Solly and Bill Coats.

BRIDGE CLUB

Fifteen tables were playing duplicate bridge in the Legion Auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 7th. Play was in two sections.
