

Bridal Attendants in Red For St. Valentine Wedding

MR. AND MRS. L. A. N. FLETCHER

Kennedy Road Tabernacle was the scene of the recent marriage of Teresa Ellen Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar C. Scott, 136 Maple Ave. E., Georgetown, and Lawrence Aubrey Nelson Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Fletcher, R R 2, Acton.

Two standards, heart-shaped with white mums, had white gladioli spiked out in the middle.

Rev. R. E. Stevens was the officiating clergyman. Mrs. Fay Frederick, Bramalea, sang the Wedding Prayer. The wedding song, written by the bride's aunt, and The Lord's My Shepherd, accompanied by Miss Monique Brunel, church organist, and one of the bridesmaids.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of peau-de-soie and Chantilly lace. The lily-point sleeves had a rose applique at the point and appliques trimmed the round neckline. The top of the peau-de-soie skirt had a scalloped hem reaching to just above the bride's knees, and the underskirt was of tiered Chantilly lace.

The bride's headdress, a white satin bow and crystal crown, held in place a long veil. Her bouquet was heart-shaped and of the same lace as the dress and in the middle of the heart sweetheart roses, in keeping with the St. Valentine theme.

Linda Foster, Georgetown, was the maid-of-honour and the bridesmaids were Leo Townsend, Georgetown, Miss Brunel and Sandra Fletcher, the groom's sister. Three junior bridesmaids were Jill Jourdain, Cheryl Cartwell and Dianne Watson, all of Brampton.

The flower girl was Bonnie Stevens and the trainbearer, Heather Stevens.

The maid-of-honour and the three bridesmaids wore floor-length gowns with a double-breasted jacket in red velvet. Dresses for the junior bridesmaids were of red velvet floor-length skirts with white brocade blouses having lily-point sleeves. Necklines and hems were scalloped. The younger girls chose floor-length red velvet dresses with a train coming from the shoulder. Their headdresses were white pom-pom crowns. Bouquets for the maid-of-honour and the bridesmaids were similar to the bride's and three junior bridesmaids carried white Bibles with bronze pom corsages on them. The little girls carried baskets of white poms.

Richard Fletcher, cousin of the groom, was the best man and the ushers were Jerry Robinson, Acton, Tom Clarke, Toronto, David Scott, the bride's brother and David Dash, Ringarose, was Kevin Dash.

The reception was held at Knox Church Hall, Georgetown, and to receive the guests, the bride's mother wore a blue lace dress with a blue lace matching three-quarter length coat and blue hat; gloves and purse were yellow and with her ensemble she wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore a two-piece beige suit with beige accessories; her flowers were Tallman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher spent their honeymoon at Niagara Falls, and for travelling the bride chose a dress and matching coat in pale blue brocade. Her accessories were a white fur hat and jacket, white beaded purse, black gloves and shoes and a corsage of Tallman roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher are living at Wilson Ave., Brampton. Guests came from Brampton, Richwood, Limehouse, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Dunn-

Vancouver Wedding Ceremony Marilyn Wigglesworth Weds

In a double ring ceremony in St. John's United Church, Vancouver, B.C., on Friday evening, March 10th, Marilyn Wigglesworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford S. Wigglesworth, Georgetown, R R 2, and Victor Gordon Hawtin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percival Walter Hawtin, 1041 Keith Rd., West Vancouver, B.C., were united in marriage.

Rev. Roy P. Stobie officiated at the candlelight service. The church was decorated with pink and white gladioli and heather. White nylon rosettes were arranged on the pews. The organist was Mr. J. H. Simpson, Vancouver, and usher, Mr. Brian Nichol of Vancouver.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother in law Mr. Robert B. Marshall, R R 1, Milton, chose a dark brown two-piece suit with light pink collar. She wore a spring hat of light brown green, yellow and pink petals, beige accessories and corsage of pink and white feathered carnations accented by sprigs of heather and pink and white ribbon.

Mrs. Robert Marshall of R R 1, Milton, sister of the bride was matron of honour and wore a two-piece suit of soft coral brown and beige accessories — white mum corsage with yellow centre.

Groomsman was Frank Hawtin, brother of the groom, North Vancouver.

The groom's mother wore a navy and white checked suit, navy and white straw hat with pink carnation corsage.

The reception was held in Capitano Gardens, West Vancouver. The wedding cake made by the bride's mother and sent from Ontario was decorated with yellow roses, a heart, bell and lit candle arrangement on top with lily of the valley. The wedding cake was passed by the bride and groom to the 50 guests. Grace was said by the Rev. Johnstone from St. Andrew's Wesley Church.

Many telegrams were received including one from the bride's parents. Guests were present from North and West Vancouver and Burnaby — also Mrs. Paul May, Hornby, R R 2, sister of the bride, and Mrs. James Carney, Georgetown, R R 3, aunt of the bride.

After the reception a dance was held in the Gardens and the bride and groom left for a honeymoon to Seattle, Washington.

A trip is planned by the newlyweds for June of this year by motor car travelling through the States to Montreal for 'Expo', and to visit the bride's family at Georgetown, returning by the Canadian route. They will reside at 1873 Nelson Street Vancouver 5, B.C.

Before the marriage several showers were held — one by the girls at 'IPEC' International Power and Engineering Consultants Ltd., where the bride was employed as a stenographer. A shower was given by Miss Jean McIntosh a former room-mate of the bride, and one by Miss Joanne Milne, with close friends of the family attending also a presentation from employees of Frederick Geertz Ltd., where the groom is employed.

WARREN TELLS I.O.D.E. Future Cedarvale Will Have Gardens, Picnic Tables, Pools

James Warren, a member of the board of Cedarvale Centennial Community centre, explained long term plans of the board when he spoke at a meeting of the Council of Strathmore Chapter, I.O.D.E. on March 13.

Mr. Warren attended the meeting following a letter sent last month from the chapter, indicating they might be interested in providing funds for a special centennial project.

Mr. Warren brought blueprints of proposed long-term plans for the centre. These include flower gardens, picnic tables, barbecue, benches, a swimming pool which could be used for a winter skating rink and a wading pool for children.

Of even more interest to the chapter is a program of renovations for the interior of the building, decorating of the entrance hall and installation of such things as clothes closets and panel boards.

Mr. Warren was thanked for his talk by Mrs. James Evans.

Miss Margery Mackenzie presided at the meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. Claude Kentner, 23 Queen St. A request was received from the town's baby clinic for a table to replace one given by the chapter some years ago, and cost of replacing this will be investigated.

Mrs. Denney Charles gave a report on the Valentine Dance, noting a substantial profit for the general funds.

Annual donations were voted to various provincial headquarters funds and it was agreed that each member make $5.00 talent money, to be handed in by June.

An outline of articles needed for the Services Home & Abroad department was given, these including knitted goods, layettes, personal and nursery bags, good used clothing, paperback books and magazines.

Members were urged to attend the annual meeting of
