Council Now to Sanction All Apartment Building

A zoning by-law change, to give council authority to rule on construction of apartment houses and double duplexes in the town's RA areas, received council approval Monday.

Until now, builders have been free to construct these under the zoning by-law. Now council has the option of refusing permission if they feel school, sewer, water or other problems might occur.

Another change, suggested by Cr. Fred Harrison was only supported by Reeve Hunter in a vote.

Cr. Harrison would increase the present minimum of 800 square feet for a residence to 1,000 square feet, claiming the town does not get enough tax revenue from the smaller houses.

Deputy Reeve Speight led the opposition, claiming this is a hardship for retired couples or newlyweds who wish to build a small house.

When Cr. Ballentine said it would price houses above a working man's purse, the reeve denied this.

Harry Shortill, Ed Hall, Al Bullock and Douglas Herrington, interment was in Limehouse Cemetery.

Disagrees With Councillor's Views on 2-Year Term, Pay

72 Duncan Drive, March 27th, 1967

Dear Sir,

One of the Councillors representing Ward 3, has been responsible for misleading statements within the last six months. In both cases, they were used to gain his end, and the record should be set straight.

His first. A two year term is required in order to give a C. time to complete important projects. Time alone will tell whether this statement holds water. Whatever happens, the two year term was made effective, and no-one has made the necessary motion to rescind this unnecessary legislation. It appears then, that the wishes of the taxpayer, spelled out most definitely at the polling booth some time ago, will be overruled.

His second. There is no business operation which couldn't pay at least an $8,000 salary for a similar job. This is nonsense, and the worthy councillor knows it. There are thousands of competent administrators, in large and small business, and industry earning considerably less than $160, a week with no powers to increase their earnings by passing a motion, and with the current strains on the economy, little chance of larger income.

The manner in which the current Council has increased in comes, passed tender requests prior to proper budgets being brought down, built new Police buildings, failed to watch price of buildings and services under construction, now becomes alarming. Georgetown is now on the brink of a boom. We shall need a constant watch on all phases of the development that is underway. Ratepayers need to be assured that their interests are being adequately policed. Selfless service is needed. If the job does not pay enough, then one should not stand for office. To serve your community is a high honour. It does not mean that the price need be high. For one, look for some improvement in the near future.

Yours truly,
Hugh Powell
