

Georgetown Army Cadet In Training in Quebec

Army cadets from all parts of Ontario have arrived at Camp Farnham, 40 miles south of Montreal, for a three-week visit.

A total of 651 cadets traveled by bus over the week-end from Camp Ipperwash on Lake Huron to Farnham as part of a Centennial exchange program. A similar number of cadets from the province of Quebec went to Ipperwash.

The Ontario cadets, along with boys from Camp Vernon B.C. and Camp Aldershot, N.S., will continue training begun at the home camp.

Interesting tours will highlight the cadets' stay at Farnham. All cadets will enjoy two consecutive day-long tours of Expo 67. They will also make a two-day tour to Quebec City to visit historic sites and witness the mounting of the Guard ceremony at La Citadelle.

See Corn, Potatoes Grown During Soil, Crop Tour

The Halton Soil and Crop Improvement Association held its annual bus trip on July 27, touring farms in Wentworth and Brant counties.

The group of seventy visited Sam Newell, Millgrove. It was quite evident that good farm management practices were responsible for the neat and tidy appearance of his farm. Grain corn was grown to be sold as dried shelled corn the following year. In one field corn had been planted for the twentieth time in the last 21 years. His average yield for the past few years has been in the neighborhood of 100 bushels of corn per acre. Storage facilities were available on the farm for 200 tons of dried, shelled corn, in homemade corn cribs.

The second stop was the farm of Jerome Bree, Ancaster, where 270 acres of Avon and Kenbec potatoes are being grown, to be used by the potato chipping industry. The average yields are between 275 and 300 seventy five pound bags per acre. Minimum tillage operations are being practiced by disking twice, following with a roll-over plow, with a "cloot-buster" attached behind the plow, and planting. With this method of tillage they were able to plant twenty two acres of potatoes a day. After harvesting and grading, the potatoes are put in one-ton pallet boxes, and then stored in controlled atmosphere buildings. Storage facilities are available for 70,000 seventy-five pound bags.

The third stop was the farm of Jim Haley, Brantford. Here 170 of the 200 acres are being worked, with approximately 95 acres in corn, 20 in oats and barley, and 100 in hay. 60 dairy cows, consisting of forty Holsteins and twenty Jerseys, and a poultry flock of 2,500 laying hens are the two enterprises carried on. Haylage, which has been fed for the past eight years on this farm, and corn silage make up the bulk of the ration for the dairy cows. D.H.A. records have been kept on the herd for the past ten years.

Next stop was at the farm of Jim Smith, Middleport, where sixty sows and 250 steers are kept. Haylage and corn silage is fed to the steers, and barley to the hogs. Jim and his brother, Bob, farm approximately 900 acres on two farm operations. In 1966 their 24x70 ft silo to 70 acres of corn silage to fill, which they felt was enough to feed the 200 head of best cattle during the winter months. The hog operation between the two farms consists of approximately sixty sows, with all the weaning pigs being fed to market. Facilities are available to feed up to 900 hogs per year. Feed mixing was done on the farm using home grown feeds.

A stop at the farm of Bruce McBlain, R.R. 2, Caledonia, completed the day's tour. Two hundred acres, plus 150 additional rented, were being used to grow corn and wheat for the 4,000 laying hens. To maintain fertility on the heavy clay land red clover is grown. Recent tile drainage work gave indications of increased yields in the future, and Bruce felt that even by tilling his ditches alone it meant getting on the land at least two weeks earlier, which gives more profit and increased yields. Tile were being put down at about $70 per acre at an average cost of $148 per acre.

"G" for Guelph Added to Co-Op Insurance Name

Something's been added to CIA, Co-operators Insurance Association — a G to represent Guelph, the location of the Association's head office. The Association's casualty and life insurance companies will continue to be known individually by their familiar names CIA and CIA Life. Collectively they are now Co-operators Insurance Associations of Guelph, or CIAG INSURANCE.

As the new name appears, it will be associated wherever possible in a design with the map of Ontario.

Changing the name on stationery, billing forms, advertising materials and office signs will take some time, of course. CIAG has a quarter of a million policies in force and 44 offices across the province. The Association is sponsored and controlled by democratic organizations which represent a million Ontario people; Ontario Credit Union League, Ontario Federation of Agriculture and United Co-Operatives of Ontario.

Tells of Church Work In Mission in Zambia

On Tuesday evening, July 25, Rev. James Kirkwood, his wife Marion and their family returned to Ballinacraig Church to renew friendships and to tell about some of their experiences on the mission field in Zambia. On exhibit were a few pieces of handwork made by the natives of that country, text books, snapshots, maps etc.

Jim conducted a questionnaire on Africa which proved interesting and informative, e.g. The official language of Zambia is English. The ratio of Africans to white population is 100-1. Colour slides were shown and commented upon, after which a social time was spent over the tea-cups.

Mr. Kirkwood and family left Toronto airport Sunday morning for the return journey to Zambia after their year's furlough, most of the time being spent in New York where he attended College.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bruce and boys John and Graham are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Sandy Keir from Dundee, Scotland. Mrs. Bruce is a sister of Mrs. Keir's.

Ask Planning Board to Further Study Apartment

A request for a permit for a 56 suite apartment building on Mountainview Rd. was turned back to the Planning Board by council on Monday for further consideration.

Council had refused a permit, on recommendation of the Planning Board, on the grounds that sewage facilities in the area would not be adequate and that other services would not be convenient for residents.

ASHGROVE

Rain Shortens Fun Planned for Picnic

On Sunday afternoon the Sunday School picnic was held in Rockwood Conservation park with 120 in attendance. All sat down at 1:15 to a lovely dinner of delectable good things. By the time all had eaten the sky suddenly decided to send thunder, lightning and a heavy downpour which lasted until well after three. Superintendent Bill Wilson announced no racing or swimming could take place so everyone packed up and headed for home.

Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Collins of Brandon, Manitoba were visiting for two weeks with her uncle Mr. Fred Wigglesworth and cousins Mr. and Mrs. James Carney and girl and other relatives and friends around Milton and Hornby.

Mrs. Harry Christian of Hamilton spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruddell and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ruddell.

We are very pleased that Janie Critchell passed her Grade 3 piano exam. Congratulations, Janie and keep on practicing.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dixon of Kapuskasing visited for three days last week with her mother, Mrs. R.J. Graham and sister Mrs. Fred Nurse and family.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ruddell and boys have returned from a ten day trip, which included Expo and other places of interest.

Eddie Bailey spent last week with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Bailey at Haliburton.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Wilson motored to Kingston over the week end to attend the wedding of her niece, Miss Charlotte McCullough.

Property owner Steve Emmerson and George Thomas, Cooksville who is buying the land from Mr. Emmerson, were at council Monday to further state their case. Mr. Emmerson said he wished to apologize to Reeve Hunter and Cr. Wheldon Emmerson for remarks he had made at a previous meeting when they abstained from voting because of a conflict of interest. He now realized they were acting in a legal way, he said.

Council has asked Phillips & Roberts, a consultant engineering firm to advise if sewage facilities in the area are adequate to take care of this and other apartment applications pending.

The motion to ask the Planning Board for a review of the Emmerson case led to a sharp difference of opinion among councillors.

Cr. Harrison said the board should give council all the reasons for the turndown, so both council and applicants will be clear and possibly some changes in the plan could be made so it would be acceptable.

Mayor Gibbons said sewage facilities is the only objection he has heard and if the engineers say this, are adequate he can see no reason for not granting a building permit.

Cr. Ballentine said there are other considerations such as traffic, schools, parks, churches and shopping areas.

"If those are the reasons let's give them the permit," Cr. Smith. "The same thing are lacking in the east end. Ward 5 and we aren't stopping building there. To me, sewage is the only valid objection."

Deputy Reeve Arthur Speight said the engineering opinion should be received before the Planning Board could study the question.

"There's plenty of vacant land in this area for parks, schools or what have you," contributed Cr. Young.

With Hunter and Emmerson still abstaining from voting, and Mayor Gibbons and Deputy Reeve Speight opposing it, council turned the matter back to the Planning Board.
