

Sargent Rd. Water Break Hardship for Housewives

The problem of dirty water, which periodically plagues parts of the town, came to the fore again at Monday's council meeting.

This time it was a water line break in the Sargent Rd. area, and councillors had been flooded with complaints from irate housewives. Justified complaints will get a minimum billing on the next water account.

But some councillors wanted council to go further.

"One lady lost $60 in ruined sheets she was washing," said Cr. Jim Young "a minimum billing isn't much help. We need some sort of fund to reimburse these people."

"We're going to have to come up with some concrete solution," said Cr. Bob Francis.

Reeve Hunter said he is concerned because waterlines are fairly new and shouldn't be breaking in this district.

"They're victims of circumstances and our sympathy goes to them," said Mayor Gibbons, "but we must realize that we carry insurance to protect the town in case of negligence — and this was an accident."

For council to set up a fund to reimburse residents for damage would be folly, he said, as it would interfere with insurance and place council in a vulnerable position.

"It's strange that when I mentioned such a fund recently for recompense for sewer damage I found little support," said Deputy Reeve Speight. "Now as soon as some council members are in the midst of complaints they're quite willing to talk about such a fund."

Mr. Speight said he now realizes that a fund would be impossible. He is seeking advice from engineering consultants about the cause and remedy for the water troubles.

Arts, Crafts Show Draws Over Thousand to Riviera

Growing interest by the public in the Arts and Crafts of Georgetown has been demonstrated by the ever increasing attendance at the annual demonstration and sale held again Saturday at the Riviera in Norval. This year there were over 1,600 guests attending. The members of the Arts and Crafts were very pleased with the support given by the local people. There were also guests attending from as far away as London and Peterborough.

As this was the Arts and Crafts 25th birthday a raffle was held on their three tier birthday cake. Mrs. John Ord of Georgetown won the first prize, Mrs. Rutledge of Terra Cotta won the second prize, and Miss Jeannette Smith of Georgetown won the third prize.

The demonstrations by guest artists were very well received.

and great interest was shown by the public. Mrs. John Agg one of the members was at the potters wheel displaying her skill and answering questions.

Mrs. Peggy Specht, a former Georgetown girl, had a very colourful display of her Scora form figures and mobiles. Mrs. Ruby Millsap demonstrated. Mr. Douglas Phillips displayed his hand carved birds and Mr. George Hill a glass-blower from the University of Waterloo allowed the public to try their hand at this fascinating craft. Mrs. R. Roesser had her Apple dolls there and Mr. H. H. Davis a display of Marquetry. Mr. C. Rognvaldson of Acton was there again this year demonstrating his spinning skill at the spinning wheel.

The pantry shelf had home-made bread, preserves and fudge for sale and was well received by the public.

A hot brunch was sold during the morning by the members of the group and afternoon tea during the latter part of the day by the Horny Women's Institute.

Real Estate Salesman Was Trafalgar Farmer

A Trafalgar Township farmer most of his life, and latterly a real estate salesman for Hugh Bassett, Harry Lawrence Price, 70, died in Peel Memorial Hospital on October 4th.

Son of James and Margaret Annie Price, he was born in Esqueving. He served with the army in World War I, and from 1917 to 1953 farmed on the 6th Line, Trafalgar. After retiring from farming he was a Watkins dealer. For the past few years he had lived in Georgetown at 10 Sarah Street.

He was past master of Loyal Orange Lodge 165, a member of the Canadian Legion and the Anglican Church.

He leaves his wife, Minnie (May) Andrews, whom he married in Toronto in 1940, and brothers Stanley Price, Hornby, Ernest Price, Milton and Gordon Price, Shelburne.

Canon J.E. Maxwell of St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Hornby, conducted the funeral service at the Harold C. McClure Funeral Home and interment was in Greenwood Cemetery, Georgetown. Pallbearers were Thomas Alderson, W. C. Simpson, R. Weller, L. Sampson all of Hornby, J. McClelland, Milton and Albert Dawson, Georgetown.

Name Famous Canadian Woman As Roll Call

The October meeting of the Ballinfad W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. L. Marshall with Mrs. Frank Smith presiding. Roll call was answered by naming a noteworthy Canadian woman. Citizenship convener Mrs. A. McEnery was in charge of the programme. Motto: "Citizenship like charity begins at home" was presented by Mrs. R. Shortill and Current Events composed and read by Mrs. H. B. Kirkwood. Mrs. J. McEnery gave the report from the District Directors meeting which she and Mrs. L. Jamieson had attended in Milton. A report was also given of the box luncheon catered to by the ladies at the Aberfeldy, Ettrick and Scottdale Shortill sale at Georgetown Sales Barn.

On October 14th, the Ballinfad Sleepytime Gals met for their second meeting in the Community Centre. The discussion was on preparing the material and using their patterns. The girls were told how to shrink their fabric if it was necessary and points to remember when laying a pattern. For the next meeting they are to have the pattern pinned to the material, ready to be cut.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Danny O'Connor (Linda Burt) who were married in Ballinfad United Church on Saturday, Oct. 14th. The ladies of the UCW catered to the wedding reception following the wedding. There was also an evening reception at the Community Centre.

The first euchre of the season was held at the Community Centre on October 10 with nineteen tables playing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Snow recently entertained for a family gathering — Mr. and Mrs. Marshall McCall of Uxbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stephen of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Meek of Rockwood, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hansen of Georgetown, and their families, also Mr. and Mrs. G. Wanless of Agincourt, Mr. Alex Stephen, Kingston and Miss Anita Marshall of Mimico.

The ski tow was invented by Robert Royce who placed one in operation Jan. 28, 1934 at Woodstock, Vermont.

Defeat Move to Dispense With Reading Correspondence

A move to streamline council procedure by eliminating reading of a portion of the correspondence at meetings, lost out on a split 4-4 vote Monday.

Councillors Smith and Young want correspondence photostated on Friday and mailed to councillors, with the clerk having discretionary power to include correspondence which comes in later, or hold it for a week.

"We spent two hours reading correspondence at last week's meeting," said Cr. Young. "This system would be a big improvement."

Cr. Emmerson said he looks over the correspondence in the clerk's office Monday afternoon.

and is always surprised to find many items read that night which came in later.

Deputy Reeve Speight said that if an agenda is prepared in advance, councillors would know what business is coming up, and this could curtail delay in appointments.

Reeve Hunter's idea is to have the clerk synopsize correspondence, reading a whole presentation only if a councillor requests it.

"We tried this before and it didn't work," said Mayor Gibbons.

"Correspondence is a vital part of council procedure. I don't see any reason for changing it."

He said it would get too far away from the people who attend meetings, and that a ratepayer should have the right to come to council with a suggestion or complaint without making an appointment.

The mayor agreed with Reeve Hunter that a close-off at 1:00 p.m. Mondays for correspondence would be sensible.

In the vote, Crs. Francis and Emmerson sided with the mayor, while the mayor, reeve, deputy and Cr. Ballentine were in opposition.
