

Green Gables Show Has Interest for Norval Folk

Terra Coita Women's Institute had an enjoyable evening on Tuesday October 10th when about 18 members attended "Anne of Green Gables" at the Royal Alexander Theatre in Toronto. They had a special interest in the play as most of them knew the author of the book, the late L.M. Montgomery who was the wife of Rev. McDonald the Presbyterian Church minister for Norval and Union in the 1930's.

Mr. Harold Johnston, a missionary at Natal, South Africa for about 20 years was the guest speaker at Union Presbyterian Church WMS fall Thankoffering meeting held in the church on Wednesday afternoon, October 4th. Mr. Johnston is home on a year's furlough from his work with the East Indians in South Africa for the Evangelical Mission of the USA. He and his work were no strangers to Union WMS as he has spoken to them before when he was home on furlough and the WMS has supported his work during the years. He was introduced by Mrs. A. McKane.

Mrs. Lee Campbell welcomed the guests and was in the chair for the meeting which was planned by Mrs. A.H. McKane and Mrs. C.G. Bishop. Home United Church UCW were in charge of the devotional those taking part were Mrs. D. Garbutt, Mrs. H. Laidlaw and Mrs. L. Williamson. The dedicatory prayer was given by Mrs. A. Taylor. Mrs. Hutchinson of Cheltenham Baptist Church was the soloist. Mrs. Fraser Macdonald gave the courtesies and Rev. R. Duncanson closed the meeting with prayer.

Mrs. L. Young, Mrs. Frank Dolson and Mrs. A. O. Macdonald were in charge of the lovely afternoon tea served in the basement following the meeting and a social hour was enjoyed.

Unit Two of Norval United Church met at the home of Mrs. Noreen Thurlbeck on Thursday evening October 12th with Mrs. Judy Pomeroy in the chair. Mrs. Lois Reid gave the devotional and a work meeting followed. The bazaar to be held on Saturday, November 11, was planned and committees appointed.

Reading Techniques Subject For Teachers at Seminars

Over 350 teachers from all over Halton County attended the first of three meetings of the Halton County Council, International Reading Association, held at the Catholic Centre, Oakville.

President of the group, Harry Sadler, welcomed those present and announced that the second meeting would be held at John T. Thek Public School, Burlington, November 22, and the third meeting would be held at Martin Street Senior Public School, Milton, on April 2, 1968.

There were two speakers at the meeting who spoke simultaneously in separate rooms leaving the teachers the choice of which one they wished to hear. Mr. T. Shells, assistant co-ordinator, English Program, North York Board of Education, spoke on "The Novel" and Miss Lillian Gordon, past president of the Toronto Metro Reading Council spoke on "Language Experience Approach to Reading."

Mr. Shells handled his subject very well and provided much food for thought for his audience. Miss Gordon explained that it is a teacher's job to translate research into classroom experience and practice. The role of the teacher is now changed from one of authority to one of consultant and to fulfil this, the teachers of today need more knowledge than ever before.

TOYOTA SELLING WELL IN UPPER NEW YORK
Easton M. Waite, owner of Waite Motor Sales in Adams Center, Watertown, New York, reports that Toyota and VW are locked in a neck-and-neck race in monthly registrations for Jefferson county. Registrations in Canada are up 100 per cent over 1966 for first six months.

It was Layman's Sunday at the United Church of Canada on October 15th. At Norval church Gordon Laidlaw and Harvey Handy of Georgetown were the speakers. Mrs. Don Murray gave the call to worship and announced the hymns, Mrs. Donald Cleave gave the prayer and Mrs. Julian Reed gave the children's story.

At Home United Church George Bracken of Caledon East gave the sermon. Others taking part were Mrs. C. Williams, Howard Laidlaw and Mrs. Emmerson Boucher.

A new mercury vapour street light has been installed on Mary Street at the entrance to the public school and this former dark corner is now well illuminated. Residents at the west end of the village petitioned Esquesing Township council for a light for this dark street several weeks ago with a letter to Mr. C. F. Patterson, the Norval member of the Council. Many will appreciate the light, especially the Cubs, Scouts and the Art class, all of whom use the old school in the evenings, and the parents of pupils when they attend "Open House" at the school.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Louth for several days recently were Mrs. Louth's aunt Mrs. T. Martindale, and her cousin Mrs. E. Currie of Sovereign Sisk.

Congratulations to Margaret Alexander and Ron Duncan who were married in Norval United Church on Saturday, October 14.

Norval was a very busy place on Saturday October 14th. The very popular annual Georgetown Arts & Crafts Display and Tea held at the Riviera had an excellent attendance. There was a wedding in Norval United Church in the afternoon and many folk took advantage of the wonderful weather to just take a drive to see the lovely autumn colors. A traffic cop at the main corner would have been kept quite busy most of the day.

Prevention Week Culminates With Firemen's Church Parade

GEORGETOWN YOUNGSTERS are firemen for a minute as they man a pumper truck in the Georgetown Fire Hall during open house.

Fire Prevention Week in Halton County was again a busy one and members of the Halton Fire Prevention Bureau reported it was a "highly successful" celebration at their October meeting held in Milton last week.

The Bureau's member departments in Acton, Georgetown, Milton and Oakville carried out their own fire prevention programs, with the assistance of the Halton Bureau in planning and literature.

Milton Firefighters held a successful open house and film night at the fire hall, and conducted drills in town and district schools and institutions such as the hospital, Halton Manor and Ontario School for the Deaf. The Oakville Fire Department had a busy week of promotion which included library displays and school drills, and culminated in the official opening of the new Central Fire Station on Saturday afternoon.

Programs in Acton and Georgetown were similar. Acton firefighters also concentrated on setting up an industrial fire prevention program to encourage industrial employees to be more aware of fire hazards. The Georgetown brigade hosted an open house at the fire hall on three evenings, conducted school drills and inspected commercial and industrial buildings for fire hazards.

Throughout the county, member departments distributed thousands of pieces of literature through schools, merchants and industries. Several billboard displays and newspaper advertisements were used to remind everyone it was Fire Prevention Week.

During the week firefighters collected the Grade Five posters to be entered in the Bureau's annual competition. The winners at the county level will be honoured at a banquet in November, and the municipal winners will also receive awards from their own fire department.

The Bureau's annual church parade will be held in Georgetown on Sunday morning, October 22. Firefighters from the county will gather at the fair grounds for a parade to St. John's United Church. This annual parade is the climax to Halton's Fire Prevention Week activity.

Church Ladies Report Fair Booth Success

Members of the St. Stephen's Anglican Church Guild met at the home of Mrs. James Plant, on Tuesday evening, Oct. 10th. The president, Mrs. Gordon Miller, welcomed the 14 members to the meeting which was opened with the Guild Prayer. Mrs. Edgar Oliphant, read the minutes of the last meeting. Mrs. Geoffrey Drew-Brook gave a very gratifying report on their refreshments booth at the Georgetown Fair. It was decided that a donation be given to the General Fund of the church. Plans were discussed for the annual Rummage and Home Bake Sale. Mrs. Clifford Hunter, will convene the Bake Sale. Plans for a Centennial Party for all members, their husbands and former members is being planned for the latter part of November. The meeting was closed with a Thanksgiving Prayer by Mrs. Pat Flippance. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Bridgen on Tuesday evening, November 14. Lunch was served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Flippance.

parade will be held in Georgetown on Sunday morning, October 22. Firefighters from the county will gather at the fair grounds for a parade to St. John's United Church. This annual parade is the climax to Halton's Fire Prevention Week activity.

WHAT ONE MAN THINKS OF FOBERT SERVICE

September 29th, 1967
To: Fobert Real Estate: Georgetown, Ontario
Dear Sir:
As the originator of Superior Food Market in Georgetown in 1960, I know what it means to have satisfied customers, they are the best advertisement you can get. When we decided to sell our house here in Georgetown, we listed with Fobert's Real Estate as we noticed in the past while driving around how quickly Fobert's "Sale" sign is replaced by "Sold" sign. Through one of their sales representatives, we listed our house on Wednesday morning and it was sold on Saturday morning the same week. I would also like to say that while on sale as well as after the house was sold, we received courteous attention even to the smallest detail. So I would like to thank Fobert Real Estate and the sales representative very much and like to recommend them for quick and efficient service.
Yours very truly,
Henry Barkoskie,
8 Prince Charles Drive.

The original of this letter is in our files. In simple language it describes, better than we could do, the quality of service we try to provide to all our customers. We take this method to publicly express our appreciation to Mr. Henry Barkoskie for his letter which is reproduced above.
