Praise, Luggage, Crest Warden Feted at Dinner

High praise for his conduct of county business this year was given to William Coulter, Nassagaweya reeve and Halton's 1967 warden, at a dinner last week attended by county dignitaries and their wives at Oakville's Galaxy Club.

Mr. Coulter, besides the verbal praise, received luggage and a framed county crest as an appreciation of his year in office.

"It was a trying year, with the dispute with the Health Unit. Nurses and other major matters, besides the normal business, said past warden Herb Merry, in toasting the warden. "Mr. Coulter had leadership and payoung people's future uncerttience in dealing with this."
