Awards Banquet Honours 4-H Members for 1967 Successes

Stewarttown hall was the scene of an Honour Banquet, planned and conducted by the 4-H Agricultural Club members of Halton County, on Friday, January 12, in honour of all the 1967 4-H award and trip winners.

The special speaker of the evening, John McGee of Norval, former 4-H member, presently enrolled at York University, gave a report on an exchange trip to Israel, sponsored by the Pioneer Women of Canada. John represented all Canadian 4-H'ers. His presentation included slides and a commentary on his visit, which took place immediately after the Arab-Israeli war.

Other 4-H trip reports were given by Lois Hunter, Keith Aitken, and Doug Gardhouse, winner of the Rural Winter Fair Youth Award, represented Halton County for ten days in Montreal as guest of the Rural Learning Association; Keith Aitken was Halton's delegate to the Provincial Leadership Week at the University of Guelph; and Doug Gardhouse was one of the 4-H'ers selected to travel to Maryland, USA, Murray Brownridge and Carl Middlebrook, the 4-H Inter-Club Field Crop Champions, were presented with sweaters for their achievements.

Entertainment was provided by Joy Hayward, Provincial Director of the Junior Farmers of Ontario.

Jeff Nurse was presented with an award certificate for winning the Royal Winter Fair Judging Competition. The certificate, the P.K. Morrow Scholarship, assists him to attend a college of agriculture of his choice. Bill Lasby, member of the Acton 4-H Calf Club, also received a certificate for winning the Queen's Guineas competition at the Royal.

Special guests included the newly-elected Warden Reeve William Hunter and Mrs. Hunter, Mr. Henry Stanley, Agricultural Representative for Halton County, and Bill Wilson, president of the Halton 4-H Club Leaders' Council, and Mrs. Wilson.

Crackdown on Drinking Drivers In Crown Attorney's Platform

Crown attorney Peter McWilliams has called for a sweeping program of road improvements and a crackdown on drinking drivers.

In his year-end report of traffic deaths, just released, McWilliams noted the drinking drivers continued to be the largest single cause of fatalities, being at fault in 12 accidents in which 20 people died. Three of these accidents were double fatalities, two were triple and one quadruple.

Drinking Drivers

Two drinking drivers who were at fault refused to submit to blood or breathalyzer test, and three more drinking drivers were unconscious or too badly injured to give consent.

Recently announced changes in the Criminal Code will help overcome the refusal of conscious drivers, he said, but further legislation is needed in the case of those badly injured.

The Code might well be amended to allow doctors in hospital to take a blood sample when an injured driver is admitted, to be held until he can be asked for consent, he said.

"Fixed objects were again the favorite target of drinking drivers," he said; "and it is difficult to see how highways can be made foolproof for them."

But he indicated several engineering faults in the county road system that have taken the lives of sober drivers and should be fixed before they cause more deaths.

Driver Impaled

One accident involving a sober driver occurred when a car was impaled on the spear end of a steel guide rail — the sixth accident and eighth fatality of this kind on the Queen Elizabeth Way in the last three years.

PETER K. McWILLIAMS
CROWN ATTORNEY

"Not only was the guide rail not buried, McWilliams said, "but it started in the curve where the vehicle is subject to centrifugal force toward the guide rail.

It is to be hoped that the Department of Highways will continue with all speed its announced program of burying the ends of these guardrails, and that they will be extended so that they start before curves."

Another fixed object struck by a sober driver was the concrete abutment of a bridge. Built several years ago, the bridge is only 20 feet wide, as compared to the 28 foot width required under provincial standards.

"A general review should be made by the county and local municipalities of the adequacies of their roads for presentions, width of bridges and shoulders, so as to conform with current design standards," the crown attorney said.

McWilliams also noted in his report that three train accidents, all on crossings unprotected by signal lights, accounted for seven of the centennial year deaths.

Halton County is crossed by two main lines of the CNR, one of the CPR and also the heavily travelled CNR bypass, he said. "These tragic accidents surely show that it is time that all the crossings be protected."

Paint Sides

He also endorsed a suggestion made by a coroner's jury probing the November 25 four-death train crossing crash near Campbellville that all railway cars be painted on the side with reflective patterns. The jury blamed that accident partly on the driver's inability to see the low, black gondola car he collided with.

Referring to a death caused when a truck overloaded by 14,000 pounds failed to stop for a vehicle stopped ahead, McWilliams said the maximum penalty of $50 for a first offence of overloading appears to be inadequate.

In his report McWilliams also made a breakdown of the "second collisions" — the impact on bodies inside the car after the crash. These second collisions are usually the actual cause of death.

He noted none of those who died had been wearing seat-belts, although in five of the

LEGION NOTES

Norm Ward New Member Of Branch Executive

by Ralph Hawes

The General Meeting which was held on Thursday, January 25 was well attended when compared with the two previous meetings.

At Thursday's meeting, the cost of living took a jump from 30c to 35c and 40c on Saturday evenings.

Three motions were required for the executive to be permitted to send two men, of the executive's choice, to the Dominion Convention with travelling and living expenses paid.

When Russ Stephens resigned from the executive several weeks ago owing to pressure of business, his action created a vacancy which had to be filled at the General Meeting by the vote of the membership.

Six members were nominated for members stood for office. Norm Ward was elected to serve on the executive for the remainder of the term.

We feel that the members made a wise choice when they elected Norm to office. Last year, Norm was Entertainment Chairman. A position he held with confidence and ability.

A motion was put on the books that in the event of any major renovations being made to the building in the future, a qualified architect will be engaged.

The proposed Branch rules and By-Laws were discussed but nothing definite came from the discussion and the subject was shelved until the next meeting. In the meantime, the rules and By-Laws Committee will attempt to have their recommendations made known to the members.

It was a happy Ways and Means Chairman who, on Friday evening watched the big crowd filling the rooms for the first Friday evening Dart Shoot. The evening was successful with all having a good time.

Nine prizes were won. The lucky winners were M. Winters, H. Holloms, B. Dore, J. Foister, P. Boyd, D. Hale, D. McCartney and J. Wilson. June Wilson and Doris McCartney were the winners of the ladies' only draw — white Frank Winters took home a roast of beef. We hope we have yhrased that correctly. This time last week, we mentioned a joint of beef and it was pointed out by a good and respected lady friend that one does not speak of joints of meat in Canada. We do appreciate criticism. It means someone is reading our notes.

However, to return to the Dart Shoot, next week's prizes will come from the butcher and delicatessen stores. Could be you may end the evening of fun with a good meal.

Saturday dance music this week was really good. The Debnaires were up to the standard they have maintained over a number of years and the five piece orchestra was a joy to dance to.

Bruce McCartney won the big one. Mrs. K. Hue and N. Ward received door prizes.

John Tocher and his group will be supplying the music next Saturday, another good dance band. Lloyd is engaging good entertainment for the members.

The winners of the monthly draw were Mrs. K. Hue, D. Bowman and F. Engleby.

Last week we wrote that Zone Darts would be played on March 12th. That should have read March 9th. Sorry!

Those unlucky people who were unable to attend the last Branch Ten Dollar Dinner which took place in September should be warned that tickets for the next such night are on sale at the Branch now. The date of the dinner is Friday, March 1st.

Our ladies enjoyed a social afternoon and evening at Oakville where the Oakville Auxiliary were host to ladies from seven branches. Oakville took the first and second places in the Bowling Tournament which was the main attraction of the day.

At Georgetown next Saturday the Ladies Auxiliary Zone Darts Tournament will be played. Branch 120 ladies hope to enter eight teams in the contest. Teams will be representing the other ten Branches in the Zone.

CAUTION

Drivers are reminded by the Ontario Safety League that the yellow caution sign on the traffic light doesn't say "C'mon, hurry up, you can make it!" It does say, "You've got time to clear the intersection if you're in it."

Wardens, Tom Hill and Lyle Armstrong were able to report that all outstanding bills had been paid, and Church Mission Target met.

There was considerable discussion regarding the low number of children attending Church School, and the possibility of building a new parish hall.

The following were elected for the year 1968:

Rector's Warden Tom Hill; People's Warden, Lyle Armstrong; Lay Delegate of Synod, Gordon Graham; Alternate Lay Delegate and Representative to Laymen's Council William Korzack; Treasurer, Sylvia Norton; Co-Chairmen of Sidesmen, Len Hinds and George McAulley; Envelope Secretary, Edna Korzack; Vestry Clerk, Eva Murdoch; Maintenance Committee, Henry Lorrman and Bill Service; Auditor, Graeme Goehlle.

The 1968 budget was struck at $4,715, and this included full allowance of the Church Mission Target for 1968.

Glen Anglicans Discuss Building New Parish Hall

A highlight of the annual Vestry meeting of St. Alban's, Glen Williams, was a roast beef supper, prepared and served by a number of the men of the congregation.

The rector, Rev. Harold L. Llewellyn, reported on the events of the past year covering the areas of worship, education, pastoral work, and buildings.

The highlight of the Centennial year was the re-decorating of the church building, together with the gift of a new rug, by a friend of the congregation.

Wardens, Tom Hill and Lyle Armstrong were able to report that all outstanding bills had been paid, and Church Mission Target met.

There was considerable discussion regarding the low num-

WINTER WORK ADVANTAGES

People stand to gain when they have renovation and repair jobs done in the winter. Tradesmen are on hand, and so can be quickly on the job, and the extra care and time skilled workmen can devote to a task during slack months gives the plant or office official, or the householder, more for his money. He is also likely to find there are fewer delays in the delivery of materials, and in the case of an addition to a home or business premises there is the likelihood of earlier occupancy.
