

Township School Board Gives $450 to Library

Esquimaux school board has sent $450 to the Georgetown Library Board and $250 to the Milton Library Board, school board chairman William Lawson told Esquimaux council Monday night.

"We arrived at the decision to reimburse both boards on the basis of the adult non-resident fee for 1967, charged by Georgetown," said trustee W. Lawson. He went on to explain there were four hundred and fifty pupils going to Georgetown Library and two hundred and fifty going to Milton Library, at a dollar a head, the figure was established.

In explaining the background of the student visits to the library, Mr. Lawson claimed a principal had asked the librarian and had been told there would be no cost.

"We've learned our lesson," commented deputy reeve Tom Hill, "when dealing with Georgetown, get it in writing."

A new source of irritation between Georgetown and Esquimaux followed the library question, this time deputy reeve Tom Hill accused Georgetown residents of using Esquimaux's dump on Saturday afternoons.

He maintained four Georgetown residents were seen dumping in Esquimaux dump Saturday afternoon. "If Georgetown can charge Esquimaux for one thing, we should charge them for dumping."

Cr. Pat Patterson told council of garbage being dumped on the 10th and 6th lines.

Reeve George Currie suggested the gate to the dump be controlled but Cr. Patterson felt the garbage would only be dumped on the road.

Adopting an idea put forth by Cr. W. Leslie, council decided to hire a guard to be stationed at the dump on Saturday to prevent residents of other municipalities from using it.

In addition to the library question, school board members W. Lawson and Chester Early asked council to seek OMB approval of a $75,000 addition to the Glen Williams school.

The addition will contain one classroom, one kindergarten, and a library resource area. Chairman William Lawson explained this meant a small working area, less than half the size of a classroom, where books would be kept and used for reference by the children.

Included in the proposed cost are alterations to the front entrance, which would convert it into a guidance centre, and remedial reading area.

Clerk K.C. Lindsay pointed out that a break-down of costs is necessary before council can approach the OMB.

Building permits issued during February amounted to $10,350 Esquimaux building inspector Tom McLean reported to council Monday night. In March, the figure more than doubled, rising to $281,250.

The few exceptions to the residential permits were a new addition at Terra Coita Conservation Area, a Jehovah Witness hall on the 4th line, an addition to Twins Woodworking on the 5th line, and a dental clinic and residence on the 8th line, lot 16.

The permit for the dental clinic was issued to P. Kurylowicz.

C. A. Grant was reappointed Welfare Officer at an increased salary of $2,000, plus ten cents a mile travelling allowance. The $1,100 increase from the previous $900 will be retroactive to January 1st.

Dissatisfaction with the state of 20th sideroad, spurred council to have the solicitor write Wimpey Homes Ltd., reminding them they are supposed to maintain the road in the state they found it for two years.

Explains Rock Jewellery Craft to Council Women

John Farmer spoke on rocks and illustrated his talk with a beautiful display of stones, some native to Canada, some from distant lands, when he spoke to the Local Council of Women on March 29.

The stones had a common characteristic — an adaptability to cutting, polishing and setting in pieces of jewellery. Mr. Farmer related many legends and traditions surrounding the various stones and also had on display a fascinating collection of jewellery of his own crafting.

He was introduced by Mrs. H. H. Jones and thanked by Mrs. Clarence Hayes.

Mrs. Floria Nodwell was joint hostess with Mrs. J. W. Kerr at the latter's home, 2 Myrdock St. and president Mrs. A. Pritchard was in the chair.

Mrs. Jones, corresponding secretary presented items of correspondence, many of which led to general discussion. One was from the national convener of history, asking that as this is International Year for Human Rights, Councils should discuss references to Canadian Indians in our history books and consider whether action should be taken to rewrite these to correct false impressions damaging to their race and culture. Considerable discussion followed, some members upholding the view that actual historical facts should not be tampered with or erased from the record, while others contended historians may have been unduly harsh and that some factual representation of early episodes involving Indians might well be modified.

Mrs. Nodwell gave the report of the Canadian Association of Consumers. Mrs. A. M. Sutherland reported for the Red Cross and Mrs. Jack Nisychuk for the Safety League of Canada.
