Thousands From Area "Doing Something About It"

Banners and Band-aids, Good Shoes And Good Humour on Walkers' List

Today sixty per cent of all children alive suffer from malnutrition; eight million of ten million tons remain untreated. In two weeks approximately five thousand Georgetown - Brantford area people will be doing something about it by walking in the "Miles for Millions" Oxfam walk which could raise in the neighbourhood of $200,000.

Agreements as to what amount is to be paid for each mile walked. In Georgetown, entry forms are available at the public library. Walkers can enter singly, as a family, or in a group representing their school, labour union, church group, service club, company, town or township councils. They're invited to take along signs, banners, music, good humour, good shoes, and stuff a few band-aids in their packets before they set out. Because hunger doesn't wait the walk will go on rain or shine. Further details are available at the library.

School Addition Ready, Kennedy Pupils Move in

Last week, pupils moved into the new addition at George Kennedy School. The addition, consisting of four classrooms and a library are already filled up.

The $100,000 addition was started last fall, but a delay in delivery of the steel window frames slowed construction for part of the winter.

Construction was done by McNally Construction.

Lovely spring scenery can be marred if the winter's accumulation of trash is not cleaned away. Let's make Georgetown a town of beauty.

Fire Chief Asks Esqueusing For 'Anti Burning' By-Law

An urgent plea for an anti-burning bylaw to be enacted in the township was made by the Georgetown fire chief, Erwin Lewis to Esqueusing council on Monday night.

Forty eight fire calls in the last two weeks, sixteen in the township and twenty-two in the town have kept the firemen in almost constant attendance at the fire hall, said the Chief.

He claimed a by-law under which permits would be obtained before fires could be set, would cut down the grass fires. Burning without a permit would entail a penalty. Such enclosed fires as barbecues, or outdoor grills would not be affected.

He advocated adoption of the whole national Fire Code, but the provision against burning is the most necessary, said the Chief.

Cr. Bob Lawson suggested (1) permit be obtained at the clerk's office rather than from the Chief, since this would be more convenient for the public.

Council decided to have a sample bylaw drawn up, and permits prepared.

A $200,000 dam in the Scotch Block is proposed by the Halton Region Conservation Authority. Council was informed in a letter from the Authority.

The participating municipalities will pay 25% and the senior government's 75%. The cost would come out of the general levy of 90¢ per capita.

Reeve George Currie reminded council the plan has to be approved by each municipality before becoming reality.

"Deplorable dust conditions on the 8th line" brought E. N. Leeman to council, Monday night. He claimed clouds of dust blew into his house. He told council he had written Jim Snow, the member of parliament for Halton East.

Reeve Currie stated a great deal of work is planned for the lower end of the 8th line this year.

"But will I be free of dust?" repeated Mr. Leeman.

"We can't guarantee that," replied Cr. Lawson, "but there will be applications of calcium. A bad fire at Esqueusing's

RR 4 Man Dies In Head-On Collision

Hockey Players, Woman Hurt in Motor Accidents

Three people were hurt in automobile accidents on Georgetown streets during the past week.

Saturday night, two junior hockey players, Terry Leswick of Port Credit and Brad Johnson of Etobicoke, were injured when the car they were riding in collided with a parked car on Guelph Street.

Johnson, the driver, suffered chest injuries, while Leswick received a head cut and bruised shoulder. The other driver, was James Taylor of 129 Raylaw Crescent.

Police placed total damage at $1,000.

The other accident involving injury happened Thursday night. Police said Eric Allen Smith of 44 Delrex Blvd. N. was driving east on Maple Avenue, and starting a left turn onto Main Street when the car ran onto a traffic island striking Miss Sarah Edwards of 4 Wesleyan St.

Miss Edwards was taken to hospital with bruised right arm, ribs, and side.

A ten year old boy, Carl Currie, of 42 Main St. S. was examined by a doctor and allowed to go home after he collided with a car while riding his bike at the corner of Princess and Drive and Charles Street, Wednesday.

Neither driver was hurt in an
