

Council Switches, Now Plan Fight Mandamus

Council switched and decided to fight Monday night. After voting last week not to be represented at the Supreme Court hearing, originally scheduled for Tuesday, April 30 they voted unanimously to authorize the town solicitor to represent the town or engage counsel.

Mr. George Thomas, who has been seeking a building permit for an 83 suite apartment on Mountainview Road for a year, brought the suit against the town.

By letter F. A. Nelson informed Council he had asked for a period of two weeks to give him time to acquire and study all the documents. However, at the moment Mr. Thomas' lawyer was willing only to give one week's delay, claiming the town had a year to work on it.

At the beginning of the meeting, Jim Costigan, a member of the Planning Board asked, the councillors who opposed representation the previous week to explain their stand.

Reeve Hunter, Deputy reeve Spraght, and Cr. Emperson all stated they had been in favour of granting the permit all along and by favouring representation they would have been telling the lawyer to fight against what they believed right.

25 Relatives Meet Plane, Welcome English Visitor

It was a very happy occasion Sunday afternoon at Malton Airport when sisters, brothers, nieces and nephews, twenty-five in all of the Presswood family met Mrs. Emily Hill from Bradford, Yorkshire, England. With the exception of her brother, Albert who visited her when overseas in World War II it was a reunion after forty-five years. It was the first plane trip for this lady of eighty years and she thoroughly enjoyed it. She intends to be in Canada until July and at present is with her sister Mrs. Janet Bell of Rexdale. Sisters and brothers in this district are Harry and Albert who live on the 10th Line and Ivy (Mrs. Charlie Gibbs) of Bennett Place, and Susie (Mrs. Oliver Carey) of town as well as Mrs. E. Sharpe (Mrs. "Ethel") of Rochester and Mrs. C. Patterson (Annie) of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wagstaffe spent a week's holiday recently at Juno-by-the-sea, Florida. Little David Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Collier of tenth line, spent a week in Georgetown hospital. He is home now and we hope he's feeling much better.

We welcome into the village two new families. Mr. and Mrs. E. Searle and Joanne and Kevin who have moved into the Alf Spence house on Main St. and Mr. and Mrs. Hank DeBoer and family who have moved into the Grady house.

Get well wishes are sent to Mrs. Harold Crisp of the tenth line who is in Georgetown hospital.

Arlene Crawford and Jane McNally are in charge of the dance, with much help from Irma Schouten, Jane Graff, Brenda Elliott and Liz Clark.

Dr. Ed Edmund of Detroit Psychiatric Hospital concluded that for no other reason than mental stability of an individual the family is essential. The majority of people he treats for mental problems, he said, come from unstable homes.

Miss Dorothy Sheek, a high school teacher, pointed out at one stage of the discussion that teenagers can accept anything they see is genuine. The problem is that parents do not practice expressed values. She urged parents to give children responsibility at an early age.

Dr. Seidenspinner mentioned that spiritual welfare governs the well-being of every member of the family. When Rev. Kenn Opperman moderator, asked for questions from the audience, there was an immediate response with many questions directed to panel members.

Pastor Paul Collins of the Georgetown Church, gave the introductory remarks and introduced Mayor Joseph Gibbons who spoke to the audience. Each

Underwater Fiesta Theme for High School "Formal"

"A Voyage to the Bottom of the Sea" could well be the title of the High School formal this year, since the whole theme is an "Underwater Fiesta." Murals of underwater scenes and sunken ships hang from the walls and the band shell will become a clam shell, literally. A large canopy shaped like a shell will house Peter Appleyard and his Orchestra.

A Queen and princess will be chosen Friday night at the dance, and after 10:30 when the judging is done will reign over her undersea domain for the rest of the evening.

Reflecting the affluent society is the amount normally spent by a boy on this date alone. A great many are wearing white dinner jackets, cummerbunds and patent shoes, roughly at a cost of fifteen dollars, more if they rent a complete tuxedo. Next comes the corsage, at possibly five dollars, then the admission ticket at four dollars, plus eats afterwards.

A far cry from the first formal held in 1954 at Hilltop Lodge where many a dinner jacket was in sight.

The students point out that most of the older boys who attend the formal have weekend and summer jobs, and can afford to rent tuxedos. If they wish. They also happen to point out that many will wear their plain dark suits.

Church School Class Has 'Game' Afternoon

The Grade Five class of St. Paul's Anglican Sunday School invited their friends to an afternoon of games at the Parish Hall on Saturday, April 27th.

There were over 30 young people competing for prizes. The Marble Champion was Douglas Jarrett, Skipping Champion Marianne Robinson and Twister Game Champion Gwen Manteley.

The class planned the afternoon themselves. Those in charge were, the refreshment booth Kim Mahaffy, Carol Russell and Deborah Moore; the marble game, Randy Fendley and Paul Draycott; the skipping Stephanie Gorin, Sharon Jarvis and Julie Phillips; the twister game Nancy Hamilton and Lauren Ashley.

On Wednesday, April 24th, members of St. Paul's ladies Guild met for a business meeting in St. Paul's Anglican Church, Norval.

It was decided to cancel the Bake and Rummage Sale planned for the 4th of May as members help in serving and supplying 90 dozen cookies was requested by Norval Presbyterian Church in aid of the Oxfam Walk, cookies to be at the church before 12 o'clock on the 4th of May. The rummage and Bake Sale day was changed to Saturday, May 11th.

President Sylvia Coomber stated that an estimate of $110 had been given by carpenter for storage box with mahogany front for altar vestments. Motion carried to have this work carried out.

Joan Carter requested canvassers for the Bible Society. Anyone wishing to help contact her. All donations to be given to Joan Carter.

President stated that the Guild had been requested to cater to Guilders Banquet, approximately 85 people would be attending. Date set for Wednesday May 29th. Cost would be $2.00 per head. Also the Guild had been contacted to cater to a wedding on August 31st, details to be discussed later. May 22nd being the next business meeting before Guilders Banquet, the catering for same would be discussed in detail, all members requested to attend this important meeting.

Malina Dunn and Ross Handley volunteered to handle the Bake table on May 11 at the Bake and Rummage Sale. Betty Phillips and Joan Carter to make and distribute posters. Hazel Gorin to book hall and advertise in paper.

The next meeting to be held in the parish hall, Norval, on Wednesday May 8, at 8 p.m. would be a pot luck supper and games night. Members to bring a friend. Refreshments were served.

Congratulations to Christina Pomroy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Pomroy, who won a gold medal for playing the piano in a class of 26 competing at the Pool Music Festival, held in Brampton recently. Christina is a pupil of Mrs. John Holton.
