Underwater Fiesta — that was ranging from a tiny starfish to an enormous whale added to the marine decor.

The Queen's throne of red velvet was truly the seat of an underwater kingdom since its setting was a huge deep sea shell.

Girl Pipers Will Help to Usher in Soccer Season

Georgetown Minor Soccer Association opens its first season on Saturday at the high school grounds, with six exhibition games. Each of the 12 teams in the Pee Wee and Bantam divisions will play a 20 minute match.

Starting at 2 p.m. the teams will be led onto the field by pipers from the Georgetown Girls Pipe Band and a prominent citizen of Georgetown will officially start the season by kicking off for the first game.

A representative team made up of boys 14 to 18 years old, were invited to Bronte on Saturday, May 11 to play them a friendly match. In a very hard fought game Georgetown triumphed 3 goals to 2. This was a superb achievement by boys who a few short weeks ago had never kicked a soccer ball in their lives. Goal scorers for Georgetown were Gordon Barclay with 2 and Chve Llewellyn with one.

In other soccer activity, over 150 boys attended a free film show in the legion hall last Saturday morning. They saw movies of the 1958 world soccer cup series, plus two instructional films.

The first GMSA held in the Old Fellows hall on Friday was a great success, and a few more badly needed dollars were added to the bank balance. Six sets of uniforms have been purchased so far with the following sponsors supplying the necessary funds.

The Imperial Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion, Andrew Murray Motors; The Sons of Scotland; Georgetown Cycle & Sports; Branch 120 Royal Canadian Legion and The Georgetown Minor Soccer Association.

Over 230 boys are now registered players. Any boys still wishing to play should approach Don Henderson, if they are between 8 and 10 years old or Jim Blair if they are between 11 and 13 years old.

You Just Want To Talk, Mayor Tells McCaig

Jim McCaig, Maple Avenue launched an attack at Mayor Gibbons at council Monday night. He objected to the police budget, and to statements he claimed the mayor said regarding it.

Mr. McCaig contended the mayor was out over seven thousand dollars in the amount he claimed he inherited as a police deficit.

"How much of this deficit was incurred in your Centennial project known as 'Getting Rid of Police Chief Roy Haley,'" demanded Mr. McCaig.

Warning to his subject, he asked why the mayor opposed the 4 1/2 mill tax rise, when 3 mills of it was due to his own police budget. "You want to say you tried to hold the tax rate down," he remarked.

Mr. McCaig also demanded to know the outcome of the appeal by George Thomas against his proposed apartment.

The mayor refused to answer saying "You don't want an answer, you just want to talk."

Reeve W. Hunter did answer however. He told council Mr. Thomas had won his case. He stated a lawyer named Campbell acted for the town and did an excellent job, but did not have enough ammunition.

"The judge just laughed at a by-law passed recently," said the reeve, "I don't think we had a case at all."

"One of the reasons Hanson and Campbell had trouble," remarked the mayor, "was the fact you didn't see fit to appoint him till the night before the trial."

The reeve insisted the town should either give a permit or be able to defend its position in refusing it.

GEORGETOWN RESTRICTIONS

Special Family Day Service, Glen Church

Family Day Service was observed Sunday morning in the United Church. The theme was "Strong families — strong community" which is the theme of Christian Family Work in 1968.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Spiegelberg of Toronto were a home with the C. Barths for Mother's Day.

A poem "So long as there are homes" was read by Billie Klaseen. The story "Golden Windows" was told to the children. The junior choir sang two selections "Hark to the voices ringing on this happy family day" and "Jesus loves the little children" with Cheryl Spence singing the solo part very sweetly. Diane Giles read a paraphrase of 1st Corinthians 13 — "My Home" — Faith, hope and love will last forever in our homes, but the greatest of these is love. The sermon — "The responsibilities of Family Life" left something for everyone to think about. "To be happy in one's own home is the ultimate of all ambition."

The Kindergarten class of the public school entertained their mothers, about twenty of them, at a Mother's Day tea last week at the school. One little boy ushered the mothers to their seats and the tables were set with candles, daffodils and tulips. The children served the cookies, which they made and tea and coffee with not a mishap. Credit goes to Mrs. Newman, their teacher for this lesson in entertaining.

The United Church Women met on Monday night at the home of Mrs. Alex Hunsdale, Prince St. Mrs. Paul Wagstaffe opened the meeting. Roll Call was answered and minutes read. A financial report was given and flowers and gifts were sent to sick and shut-ins. The church kitchen has been painted and now volunteers are invited for a cleaning bee. A penny show will be held on May 30th with items brought in for a bazaar and a social evening will be held. The bus trip of June 11 was announced. The devotional on "Finding Happiness" was taken by Mrs. W. Everson. Hymn "What a friend we have in Jesus" was sung. The next meeting is June 3rd at Mrs. John Wagstaffe's, when there will be a plant exchange. A lovely lunch was served by the hostesses.

Mrs. Janet Bell of Rexdale and Mrs. Emily Hill of Bradford, England returned from Rochester on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Sharpe for Mother's Day where Mrs. Sharpe visited her son, Douglas Starret and wife and family.

At the Explorers and CGIT meeting last Wednesday evening Debbie DeForest took charge of the worship service, Beverly Campbell chaired the programme and Cheryl Fendley was awarded 2nd blue star and Wendy Stafford and Joanne Clark the 2nd red star.

Get well wishes are sent to Mr. Alf. Allen of Park St. who is a patient in Georgetown & District Hospital.

Miss Pamela Norton of Alexander St. entertained on Saturday evening, April 11 in St. Alban's parish hall, the occasion being her sixteenth birthday. Guests attended from Toronto, Hamilton, Thilltown, Georgetown and Glen numbering sixty in all. Brian Preston was the disc jockey. During the evening of dancing spot dance prizes and a door prize were given.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Chalklin of Kitchener visited with her daughter, Gail and Alf Spence and family for Mother's Day at their farm on the 8th Line.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Allen, Beaver St. and Mrs. W. Everson and Carolyn of Confederation St. visited with their cousin, Mrs. Brimblecomb of Drayton on Sunday.

We extend belated congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hunter of the ninth line on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary on May 8th. Their daughter, Catherine and husband, Doug Wood of Georgetown, entertained for them last Saturday evening.

Ken Allan Best in Honey Pot Tourney

A honey pot tournament, the highlight of North Halton Golf men's section's opening day Thursday was won by Ken Allan with 20 1/2 points.

United Church Service is withdrawn for next Sunday as all may attend Home Church Anniversary when Major A. MacCorquodale of the House of Concord (Salvation Army) will be the speaker.

Promise Action on Delrex 'Dust Bowl'

Termining his area "The Dust-bowl" R.B. Morrow 301 Delrex Blvd., asked council Monday for action to combat the dust.

"I was here three weeks ago, I got nice words and smiles but on action," he stated. He claimed not one truck with water or salt had been in the area.

Deputy Reeve Art Speight told him he should have contacted the town engineer. "The engineer and the subdivider are now both aware of the problem and we expect calcium will be applied," he concluded.

Expect 40 to Compete in Motorcycle 'Endural'

Sunday, forty motorcycles will take part in an endurance run covering one hundred miles in this area.

The "Limestone Endural" as it is known because the terrain around here is mostly limestone, will curve uphill, downhill, and across creeks, with a small portion of road travel.

Most models will be 'endurable models' meaning conditioned for this sort of rugged test, most will be water-proofed.

Entries will come from the Northtown Motorcycle Club, Steel City Club, Brampton Club, the hosts, the "Yellowjackets", and individual entries from Welland and Kitchener.

The trail starts and ends at Georgetown Market Centre, with eight checkpoints in between. The checkpoints' locations are not revealed till starting time so no one can case the course.

The trail was laid out by Walter Wilson, of the Georgetown Club.

Make Levy Life Member

Harry Levy has been granted a life membership in the Georgetown Kinsmen Club. The club favoured the move in a ballot after a committee recommendation to the executive. A life membership is the highest honour a club can bestow on one of its members. It is awarded for outstanding service.

At the same meeting, Kinsmen decided to add facilities to their parkette on Edward St. New slides and benches will be added and trees will be planted.

Art Club Exhibition Is Planned for June

The Palette and Pencil Club is busy this spring preparing some of their paintings and drawings for a show June 4. Local artists will also be exhibiting works at the show at Centennial Park.

In April the club participated in an evening of Collage under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth Camplin, president of the Central Ontario Art Association.

Several meetings have been devoted to still life study with helpful advice of Frank Black.

Mrs. Mary Cooper and Mrs. Dorothy Scull each exhibited two paintings in the Central Ontario Art Association Regional Show held at Guelph on April 27 and 28. They exhibited in the class up to and including two years painting experience, any media.

An outdoor sketching trip is planned with the Acton Art Club bright and early on Saturday morning, May 26.
