

Eighteen From Here in Air Cadet Squadron 121

by Ralph Hayes

It is difficult to attempt to cover all aspects of an organization so large and all embracing as the Air Cadet League. We believe it would take volumes to do it justice.

Your first vice president, Comrade Hale, along with the Branch PRO visited Guelph on Monday evening to witness the annual inspection of Air Cadets of the 121 Squadron.

The reviewing officer was Colonel E. W. Ryan, Base Commander of Clinton Air Base.

Outstanding Cadet

The Squadron which is made up of 71 young Canadians, mustered 65 for parade. Of this number, approximately 18 are from Georgetown. Among the many awards, Cpl. Seeler of Georgetown received the outstanding cadet of the year award.

"We were impressed by the smartness of these lads, and the way they have themselves disciplined on parade and off. Since the air cadet movement was founded in 1941, 225,000 young Canadians have enjoyed the benefits of Air Cadet Training, which consists of summer camps at air force bases, trips overseas, pilots' courses, career training, educational scholarships and many other activities which go towards good citizenship.

New Squadron

With lads from town travelling at least once a week to Guelph there has been a great deal of thought at the Branch that a Squadron should be formed in town and that the Branch should sponsor the new squadron.

For a while it seemed that this might be impossible, because of lack of accommodation, however it seems that this obstacle may have been overcome.

Should the Branch sponsor the cadets, four very civic minded members will be required to form a sponsoring committee.

Civilian instructors, will be needed, along with four squadron officers.

Open House Week

Wednesday evening, the committee in charge of the Branch open house week, which will commence Wednesday, June 12 with a civic dinner, met and started the wheels turning. Tickets, programs etc. are ordered.

The Boer War and First War Veterans Night, has been renamed Veterans Night thus it will include all veterans.

Entertainment has been organized for the Vets Night, and for the games night which will be on Friday.

Ross Hillier and his group have been booked for the wind up night which will be Saturday. Lloyd has quite a few pleasant surprises for that night. We understand, again this year there will be a museum. This time it will consist mostly of aircraft and space age subjects.

Leaps and Bounds

The popularity of Friday night dart shoots is growing by leaps and bounds. Last Friday Bruce McCartney opened up another dart board to cope with the enthusiastic shooters. The prizes were chickens and turkeys, won by Fred Dickenson, Pat Boyd, Tom James, Irene Randall, Bob Waltes, Jack Kerr, Roy Wieland, Frank Bull, Alva Grieve and Bob Waltes.

Incidentally we should remind you that there will be no dart shoot this week, but Lloyd will be back in business on Friday, May 31.

Perhaps it was because of the holiday that there was a small attendance at the Saturday night dance, however the small crowd seemed to enjoy themselves. Prizes were won by Win Telford, who took home the big one. Door prizes went to Alice Bulmer and Betty Louth. Next week patrons are in for a treat. Bob and Cory are back after a long absence.

Task master Bruce Collins had a fatigue party out on Sunday, doing a king sized clean up job on the floor at the Branch. The volunteers were Joe Poirier, John Beattie, Jim Gordon and Orville Ganes who represents the Holcomb Company.

Survey Site

Also on Sunday president Dave Bowman was busy surveying a likely picnic site for the Branch annual picnic. Norval could likely be the location of this year's picnic. Dave was at the home of Comrade and Mrs. Gord' Browne, which seems to be an ideal spot for picnicking. Buses would carry the children to and from the swimming pool and grown ups to and from the Branch. A definite date will be set in the near future.

Remember to be on time for the general meeting on Thursday which will be followed by nomination of officers. Come along and nominate that member you know will make a good executive member.

Wins First Prize at Ottawa Bridge Tourney

Wellington (Duke) Wilson, 21 Union Street director of Georgetown duplicate bridge club, placed first in one of the competitions at an Ottawa tournament last weekend. It was the Can-Am regional tournament.

Playing with a woman from Regina, Saskatchewan Mrs. Carson, they took first prize, and were awarded coveted 'red' points in the open competition on the third day of the tournament. The competition is restricted to players with 50 master points or more.

Mr. Wilson teamed with an Ottawa man Mr. Washington, to place fifth on another day, and with Len Moore of Ottawa to place third on another day. He also competed with Mrs. Keast of Sudbury, but they did not reach the win column.

Another member of the Georgetown club, Richard Raymond of Brampton also competed in the tournament.

A great thrill for Mr. Wilson was meeting the Canadian champion Sammy Kehala and partner in one round, and beating them in the score.
