

Tell Esquosing Subdividers Get Health Unit Approval

Two proposed subdivisions, one on the 7th Line, up and opposite from the municipal building and one on part of Miss St. Jean's farm on the 6th Line at No. 17 Sideroad were both given the same answer by Esquosing council Monday. They were told to obtain approval from the county Health Unit before doing any more.

David Mead, appearing on behalf of Eden Mill Enterprises, had I. Thompson, engineer from Orangeville explain the proposal. Mr. Thompson stated the average size of the lots on 7th Line would be 1/2 acre, with many much larger. The water would be either provided by individual wells or by a private water system, owned by the residents. He stated such systems were in operation in Caledon, Mansfield and Alliston.

He explained that the OWRU prefers any water system to be municipally owned, but the municipalities seem to be reluctant.

Reeve George Currie told him he didn't think he had a chance of getting approval of a well and septic tank on the same lot. "And we don't want to take over any water system."

The engineer told council

there is a school site set aside on the 68 lot plan.

Concluding the conversation, Reeve Currie stated "We are wasting our time, unless you can come back here with approval from the County Health Unit."

The second proposed subdivision on concession 4, lot 15, part of Miss St. Jean's farm, owned by Sam Cosentino-Jr., was told the same thing about water and sewers.

Commenting that the "land is more suitable for ducks than houses," Reeve Currie stressed the township is not anxious to get into the water business.

"Nor are we anxious to get into subdivisions, with the school problems," said the Reeve. "We could have had thousands of subdivisions by now, but we turned them all down."

Mr. Cosentino was told to start with the Health Unit.

IODE has Trip to Mexico In Pictures and Curios

Misses Jean and Margery Mackenzie showed coloured slides of their recent vacation spent in Mexico, to members of Counties of Strathmore Chapter, IODE at their June meeting at the home of Mrs. Denney Charles.

They showed souvenirs of Mexico along with the pictures and their commentary about their trip was enjoyed by the members. The meeting, last before the summer recess, was informal and took the form of a pot luck supper. First vice regent Mrs. Stan Wright presided, in the absence of Mrs. Kelth Barber and a special welcome was extended to a guest, Mrs. Ted Genth.

A letter of appreciation was received from relatives of Miss Ann Hickey, thanking the Chapter for their sympathy at the time of her death. Mrs. John T. Armstrong, services convener, thanked members for articles handed in — knitted baby sets, socks and hospital gowns. Patterns of a child's dress were distributed, these to be made from used white shirts. A request was made for used clothing and paperback books, to be sent to IODE headquarters.

Mrs. James Evans, education secretary read a letter of thanks from the school in Newfoundland, for books for the library and a soccer ball.

Miss Margery Mackenzie reported on plans to hold a bridge and other card games evening in the fall. Mrs. Ivan Hay, Mrs. Garfield McGilvray and Miss Mackenzie are conveners, with members responsible for at least one or two tables.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas card project. A penny sale caused a lot of fun and entertainment, every member obtaining a lucky draw prize. Proceeds were added to the general funds. Mrs. Sam Penrice thanked the Misses Mackenzie for their contribution to the program. Mrs. Wright extended thanks to the hostess and also to Mrs. Penrice, Mrs. Ed Wilson and Mrs. R. Ballantine, the committee responsible for planning a pleasant evening.

Sell Own Products at Sunshine School Bazaar

All afternoon last Friday, people came and went at the Sunshine School Bazaar, in the Sunshine School for Retarded Children on the 7th Line of Esquosing, north of Hornby.

Booths manned by the children themselves, who in most cases made change, did a thriving business. All the products on display were made by the students.

They included ceramic ashtrays, dolls' clothes, cushions of all types, pencil holders, and bracelets made from brass buttons. In addition, the children entertained to the accompaniment of principal Mrs. A. Joffe.

That the children are kept up to date with current events was evidenced by pictures of the political candidates on the walls and explanations of their parties, and date of election.

Two students, Bill Gawley and Carl Bickers have reached the age of 18 and will graduate at the adult workshop at Hornby, at the end of this term. Carl Bickers started at the Sunshine School in the first class, when the school was established in 1955, and is the only member to have been there since the beginning.

At the moment twenty eight students are enrolled at the school, ranging in ages from five to eighteen.

The proceeds from the bazaar go towards field trips, special birthday treats, and sometimes necessities of life.

Rare Herald Added to Library Reference Shelf

The Georgetown Library has received a gift of a copy of the Georgetown Herald of December 17, 1913 from Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arnold of Church Street.

The paper is a special edition which outlines the leading personalities and industries of the town at that date, and is of particular interest to the Library because it carries the announcement of the move of the Library to its present quarters in the Congregational Church.

The paper is remarkably well preserved and has been sealed in laminated plastic, so that it will constitute a permanent record.

"The Library is very grateful to Mr. and Mrs. Ted Arnold and to The Herald for this addition to the reference facilities, and would welcome similar contributions from other Georgetown residents, to help build up a reference section dealing with our local history," said Librarian Marjory Nazer. Anyone having such items or any personal reminiscence which would be of interest should contact the Librarian.

Items of the Social & Personal column are always welcome. Phone your news to 877-2301.

Heated Pool More Swimming

Another month's swimming may be possible in the Georgetown pool when heating equipment is installed.

Monday council voted $2180 for the equipment. One advantage will be to start swimming classes earlier in the mornings, which will solve a problem caused by increasing numbers of pupils.

A gas system will be used. Cr. Bill Smith termed it 'one of the best recreation steps' which council could take.

SMILE

"How do you know you were going only 15 miles per hour?" the judge asked the driver accused of speeding.

"I was on my way to the dentist."

Turn Down Limit Plan On Size of Buildings

A proposal to set a minimum size of 800 square feet for new commercial buildings was defeated on a 5-4 council vote Monday.

Arguing that commercial buildings should be treated in the zoning by-law the same as residences and industries, both of which have minimum limits, Reeve Wm. F. Hunter said he would favour 1,000 square feet, but put the lower figure in his motion in hopes of getting majority support.

He said that commercial land on the highway particularly should not be used for too small buildings.

Cr. Jim Young said this would discriminate against a businessman who wants to start in a small way and add to his building as business warrants. Cr. John Hole said he has checked and towns like Brampton have no such restrictions. And Cr. Roy Ballentine said council, by demanding a larger building, would interfere with minimum parking requirements which the zoning by-law demands.

Only Mayor Gibbons, Reeve Hunter, Deputy Reeve Speight and Cr. Emmerson supported the move.
