Can't Keep Up Nith Dying Elms

Dangerous elm trees hanging ver the town line just north Norval are worrying Chingua ousy councillor Harold Wilson. At council's general meeting fonday. Cr. Wison urged that township's engineering staff do something about the trees efore they crash down on omeone or something for which they are liable."

"I thought we brought this o in spring and the departnept was going to do someling," said Cr. Al Ferri. "The engineer said he roing to take care of it," said T. Jack Wallace.

Deputy township engineer Dick Stolz said: "We cut down aundreds of dead elms, and ight now we are so busy with or parks that we have no one o spare for the work."

"I sugge'st we get a private contractor. He can probably do t at a third the cost of our own-staff," said Rouve Clark let's spend a little money and tof these trees cleaned up beore it is too late.".
