

Joanne Mitchell, Roy Bell Exchange Wedding Vows at Knox Church

Knox Presbyterian Church, decorated with baskets of white mums and snapdragons was the setting for the marriage on June 29th of Joanne Louise Mitchell, daughter of Mrs. N. Mitchell, 54 Rexway Drive and the late Mr. L. R. Mitchell and Roy Graham Bell of Hensall, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. Bell.

Rev. Norman Young officiated and Mrs. B. Gowland was pianist. The bride was given a double ring ceremony by her uncle, Mr. R. McKenrick. She chose wedding gown of floor length white satin brocade, with empire waist and boat neckline. Her gown had bell sleeves and a chapel train full from the waistline. She wore a chapel length veil and a headpiece of pearls and lily-of-the-valley, the groom's gift of pearls, and carried a cascade of white roses.

Susan Virginia Mitchell was her sister's maid of honour. Sharon Myers was bridesmaid and another sister, Leslie Anne Mitchell was junior bridesmaid.

They wore floor length gowns of gold-satin brocade with lace waistline, puffed sleeves and square neckline, front and back. The back was accented with a satin bow. They wore topaz necklaces, gifts of the bride, and carried clusters of shafts mums.

William Bell, Hensall, was groomsman and ushers were Fred Funk, Hensall and Barrie Mitchell, Weston.

At a garden reception the home of the bride's uncle, R. H. McKenrick, R. R. 8, Brantford, her mother received wearing a dark brown brocade dress with brown "crepe" overdress, beige hat and brooch, accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses. Mrs. James Bell received for her brother-in-law, wearing a green linen dress, navy accessories, and a corsage of white carnations. Bride and groom cut their wedding cake with the same silver cake knife. The groom's grandmother, Mrs. Stone of Exeter had used on her own wedding day.
