

Ouellette-Laforet Wedding in Holy Cross R. C. Church

Father Oger DeVent officiated at a midsummer ceremony in Holy Cross Roman Catholic Church when Judith Ann Laforet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Armand Laforet, 72 Sargent Road became the bride of Daniel John Ouellette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donat Ouellette of North Bay.

The church was decorated with standards of white and yellow snapdragons, carnations and glads for the wedding which took place on July 27th. J. A. Redmond was organist. Mr. Laforet gave his daughter in marriage in the double ring ceremony.

The bride's floor length gown of peau de soie and lace was A-line empire style, with a lace train and a 2-tiered veil with scalloped edges. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and Frenched carnations.

Mrs. Patricia Cummings was matron of honour, wearing a floor length gown of yellow peau de soie, on similar lines to the bridal gown. She wore a matching headpiece and carried a bouquet of apricot orange glamillias and white Frenched carnations. Diane Ouellette, as flower girl, wore floor length white peau de soie with yellow sash and a yellow rose headpiece. She carried a basket of yellow rosebuds.

Tom Ouellette, of North Bay was groomsmen for his brother; Roger Cummings and Peter Lysy were ushers.

At a reception which followed at the Rosetown Restaurant, Brampton, the bride's mother received wearing a pale pink lace dress and matching coat, a pink flower hat and corsage of dark pink roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing a green A-line sheath and yellow rose corsage.

For a honeymoon trip to Kingston, Montreal and Ottawa the bride travelled in a blue linen 3-piece outfit and pink rose corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Ouellette are living in Cooksville. He is employed at Mallon with Douglas Aircraft and she, a graduate of Lakeshore Teachers' College this year, is teaching at St. Gerard's School in Cooksville.

Develop Plans for Craft Group's Annual Exhibition

Business of the Arts & Crafts of Georgetown at the September meeting at the home of Mrs. John Mills, Maple Ave. West, dealt entirely with preparations for the exhibition and sale to be held at the Riviera, Norval in October.

Miss Wilma Stull is convening the luncheon to be served at noon, and the Ashgrove Women's Institute will serve afternoon tea.

Mrs. George's inside has arranged for guest artists in spinning, sculpture, candlemaking and egg crafts. Articles crafted in recent courses in batik, glass making and crewel will be on display arranged by Mrs. Elizabeth Carney.

Mrs. Harry Clarke will again convene the pantry shelf, with home-made delicacies for sale. Mrs. Wallace Thompson will have the what-not table of miscellaneous articles.

Mrs. John Agg, in her floor plans, is allotting space to each member for displays in weaving metal, ceramics, pottery, leather and oil painting, with some demonstrations.

Decorations are by Mrs. A.M. Nielsen and publicity by Mrs. Leslie Clark.

A plate bearing the Arts & Crafts name is to be erected on the hospital gates by the hospital board. The gates were a centennial contribution by the group to the hospital.

Afternoon tea was served by Mrs. Daphne Linwood, Mrs. Charles Fogal, Mrs. R.R. Corbett and Miss Dorothy Stone. A guest, Mrs. Charlesworth of Guelph, poured tea.

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

BY BILL COATS

Shorter days and cooler nights are not the only signs that fall is here. The Acton Bridge Club has also opened its doors for the seventh season.

It has always been our wish and hope that the Acton Bridge Club would provide a service for the people of Acton but we still draw most of our players from out of town. To those in Acton and vicinity who enjoy a game of bridge we again extend an invitation to try duplicate bridge on any Monday evening. The club meets at 31 Young St. Game time is 8 p.m. sharp.

Here is a hand from the game last Monday night. The dealer was West and neither side is vulnerable.

SOUTH

The bidding: West 1 H, North 2H, East Pass, South 2S, W3 H, N4S, E-Double; S-All Pass.

Opening lead: 6 of clubs. West would have been much more effective if he had opened three hearts. This would have crowded the bidding. North is not really strong enough to cue bid hearts but with such a strong hand what else can he do?

South showed excellent judgment in bidding his spade suit in this forcing situation. If North doesn't like spades he can bid his suit at the three level and if he likes spades so much the better.

East has every reason to double. His partner's opening bid should guarantee two defensive tricks and East has a few himself.

West made up for his poor opening bid by making the best lead. If West opens a heart (the normal lead) East would be end played at trick one. On the club lead declarer played low from dummy and East won with the king.

After cashing the heart ace, East got off the lead with a club. Declarer won the club and led one round of trump. A second trump was led from dummy but it was a low trump. East played low and declarer won. At this point declarer made his only mistake. East had shown up with the spade queen (not yet played out), the heart ace and, the club king.

In view of West's opening bid, East cannot have the king.

LIMEHOUSE Boosts Fall Fair On TV Program

Mrs. Walter Linham presented her case clearly when she appeared on TV station 13 on Thursday morning on behalf of Acton Fair Board of which she is lady president.

This was the third trick for the defense. All they needed was one more. If the lead could be put in dummy, West must score the diamond king. East didn't look too far ahead and led a club.

Sure, dummy's clubs were all good, but declarer wasn't going to make two mistakes on the same hand. He ruffed with his last trump in spite of the fact that he was ruffing a good trick. Now the diamond finesse was taken. Dummy's high trump took out East's last trump and dummy's hand was all good cards.

How could East have changed all this?

Instead of trying to put dummy on lead with a club, East should do it with a trump. If East leads the spade queen, it takes out South's last trump and placed the lead in dummy's. Now, declarer must go down to defeat.

The Limehouse Presbyterian Church W.A. had a sell-out at their food booth at Acton Fall Fair. They are now preparing for their next big event, with anniversary and the annual turkey supper the coming weekend.

Mrs. W.A. Benton Guelph, poured tea.

Mrs. Robert already has twenty little folks of a possible thirty enrolled in her Happy Day Nursery School.

It was a far cry from our childhood when one was not accepted in any school until six years of age.
