

Rotary-Sponsored German Visitors Tour Two Georgetown Plants

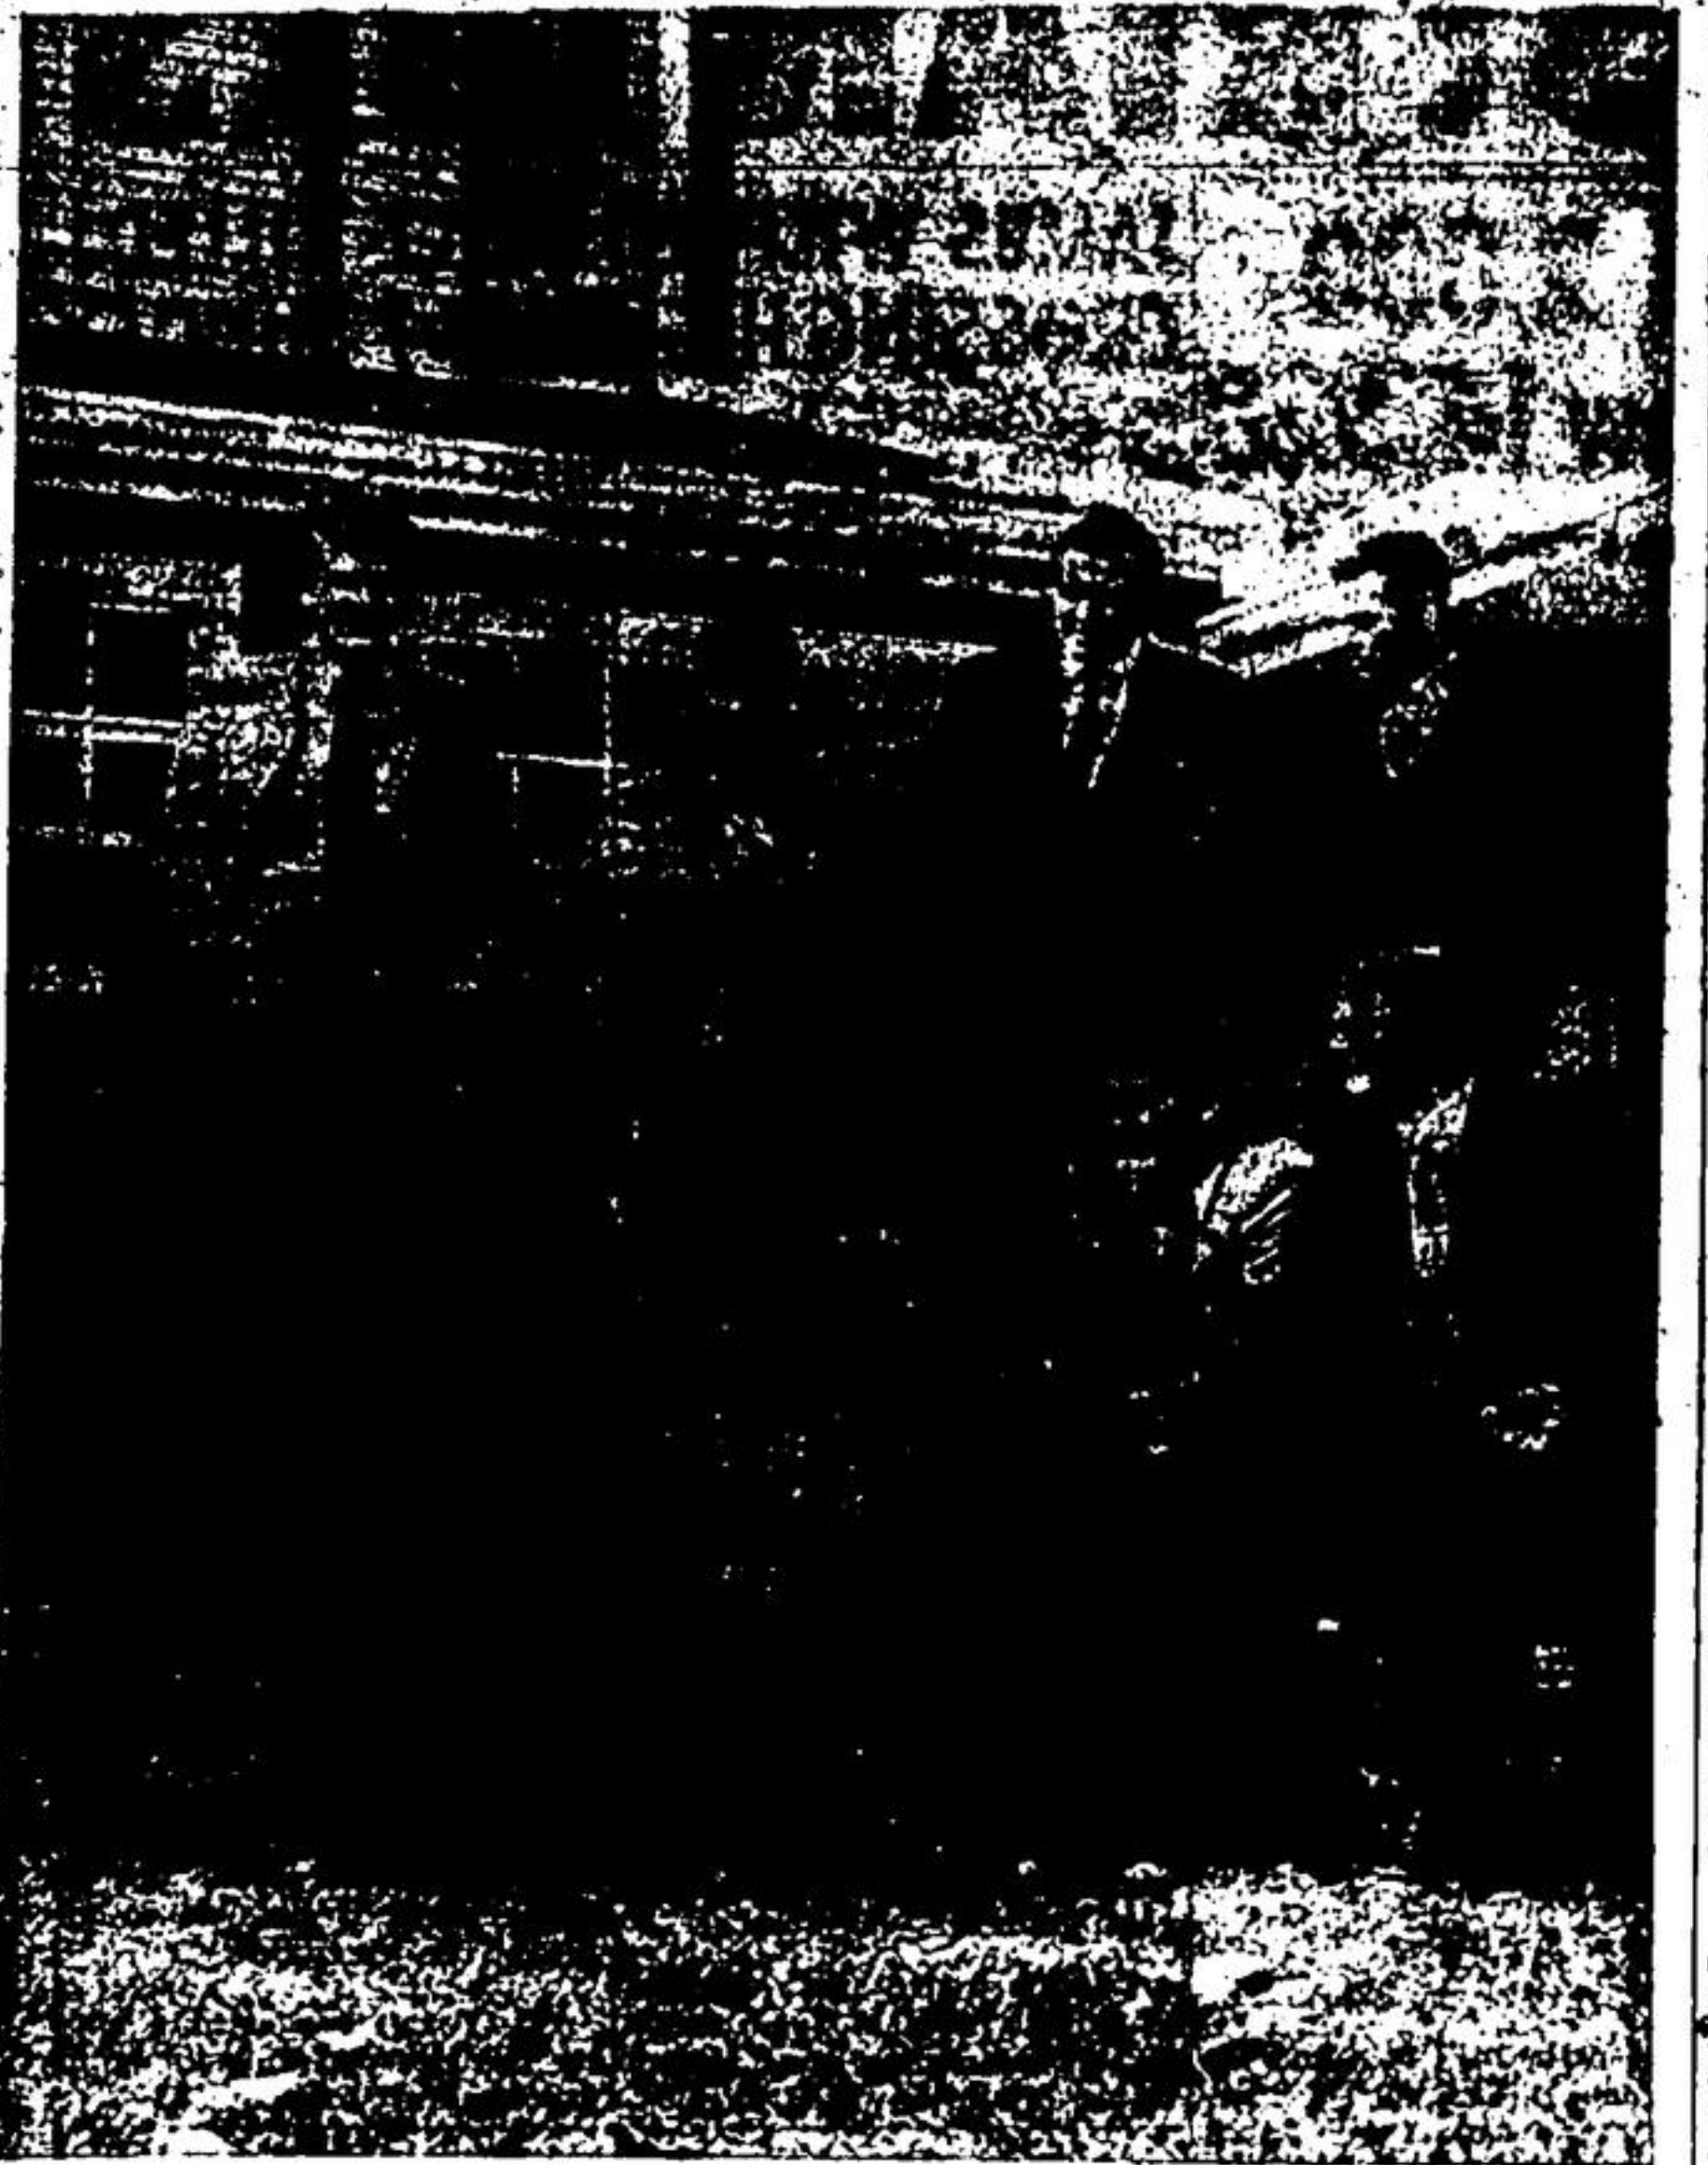

Seven German teachers and businessmen, on a Rotary-sponsored tour, were welcomed Saturday evening as guests of the Acton and Georgetown Rotary clubs at a social evening in the Music Centre in Acton. Their study exchange tour is sponsored by Rotary International and they will be in this district of Ontario for five weeks, as guests in Rotary homes.

Leader of the group was the only Rotary member, farmer Fritz von Buttler of Eberberg.

With him were Horst Meusel, Heidelberg, a teacher of Latin and Greek; Wenzell von Boch, Garmisch, a business administrator; Klaus Thalheim, Eachwege, an electrical engineer; Alex Windner, Cologne, an engineer in a glass factory; Edmund Brueckner, Nuremberg, a lawyer; and Eckhart Dohrenbusch, Mainz, a vocational school teacher.

Each was given a leather billfold as a memento. Steaks were barbecued outdoors for the dinner and afterwards there were plenty of German songs included in the music for dancing.

Expressing the group's appreciation Herr von Buttler said distances are becoming less and less important. After leaving Frankfurt they were in Toronto in seven and a half hours. Time and cost will be even less, he predicted. "In the homes of Rotarians we are always received as friends — that is the finest thing you can experience in your life," he concluded.

GDHS DROPS SOCCER YILT

GDHS welcomed the visiting team of J.F. Ross last Friday afternoon in a soccer match won by the Guelph team 1-0.

Both teams displayed offensive attacks so it was not long before there was a score. There was a penalty on Dave Foster for handling the ball and Andy Smith netted the ball for J.F. Ross.

During both halves of the game most of the play was in centre field. Both teams fought hard and as a result there were a few minor injuries. Georgetown could not quite get past J. F. Ross's defence to score a goal.

Alliance Church Hosts Missionary Convention

Viet Nam, Ecuador, India and Mal were the countries represented by missionaries at the second annual missionary convention of the Alliance Church this week in Georgetown.

The pressures of warfare and threats of violence and death have not been able to halt the progress of the current missionary endeavor in Viet Nam, it was reported by Rev. Ross Duncanson on furlough from that country. The Duncans went to Viet Nam in 1968, living among the Hmong tribespeople but in 1967 were forced to move to Saigon due to the heavy communist activity. Since 1966 the Duncans have been in Malaysia at the Alliance school for missionaries' children.

A radio and literature ministry has been carried on by Rev. and Mrs. Karl H. Kose in the city of Ahmedabad, India. They have contacted thousands of university students with the Christian gospel.
