Businesswomen Report On English Conference

It was convention report night at the regular Business and Professional Women's Club meeting at North Halton Golf & Country Club on Monday evening.

Miss Jean Mackenzie and Miss Olive Logan gave joint reports on the Tri-ennial International Conference of the Business & Professional Women's Clubs held in London, England, in August, which they both attended. These reports were most interesting and revealing, particularly when it is brought to mind that this was an international conference with women attending from all over the world, and that they would be able to meet and discuss mutual problems and what the effect was in their particular country and what was being done to handle them. Lady Littlewood chaired the conference which was opened by Lord Bedford. The speakers agenda was packed with names of internationally known business women, all of whom brought interesting and informative messages from their countries. The next conference will be held in Edmonton, Alta. in 1971.

Mrs. Ada Wilkinson, president of the local branch, reported on the Tri-Regional conference held in Hamilton last weekend. Mrs. Win Rigg and Miss Jean Mackenzie attended with her as observers. A great deal of the Saturday conference was taken up with mechanics of the three regions. The regional adviser for this district elected unanimously was Mrs. Dena Heather of Brampton Club. Sunday sessions dealt with the proposed redistribution of clubs.

After workshops and discussions the whole issue was turned back to committee for further work and study. The meeting theme was Changes, Choices and Challenge.

During the regular business session of the meeting it was voted to send $25. for the Ramallah Fund and to rejoin the Peel County United Nations Association, with Mrs. Win Rigg as representative. Mrs. Wilkinson reported that the three club bursters will go to Linda Gibbons, Dina Chisason and Carol Wilton. Mrs. Elizabeth Buck will present them on behalf of the club at a high school assembly.

To complete a most interesting meeting Miss Jean Ruddell showed slides she had taken during a holiday in Hawaii this summer. Miss Ruddell has a gift of transporting her audience along with her and the pictures and commentary were greatly enjoyed. The meeting closed in regular form.

Burning Tires is Modern Halloween Funsters Prank

Halloween was a big success for the children of the community this year with more witches, ghosts, goblins and weird looking costumed little ones knocking on doors with the familiar cry of "trick or treat" than ever before in the village.

Over 100 took time out from their tour of Guelph Street to visit homes on Draper Street. Houses on the highway usually get the largest number of Halloween visitors. The excellent weather helped to make the evening a success for the children.

Most carried overflowing six quart baskets of goodies but 3 little neighbourhood children were determined that they wouldn't have to call a halt on their tour of the village to go home and empty a full basket, and then start again as in other years, they carried pillowcases.

One group of boys had fun throwing firecrackers. This should be discouraged by parents as little children's costumes could catch fire very easily. Some are made from paper, most fit loosely, and some trail out behind the little ones. Parents who were out with the smaller children were concerned about the danger of the firecrackers when the boys threw them among the children. These boys also had the wrong idea of Halloween, they waited until they received their treat then threw a firecracker under the feet of the one who had just treated them. They missed the whole meaning of trick or treat. They tricked the one who treated them, not the one who didn't.

Some of the bigger boys also (continued on page 18)

Rotarians Host Seniors to Dinner

It's that time of year again when the Rotary club honours the town's senior citizens, at a dinner, complete with entertainment and gifts.

Since it is difficult to know all the over seventies group in town, the Rotary club would like anyone in this age group to call, so they can be put on the invitation list.

The Rotary Club stresses this dinner is one small way they can show their appreciation to the people who helped make the community in which the younger people now live.

If you are seventy or over call Ralph Ursel at 877-4078, who is chairman of the Senior Citizens' Dinner.
