Kin Stag Nets Profit Of $1385. for Kiddies

E. J. Dale, Martin Lynch and Garry Snow plus various other prize winners were Lady Luck's favourites at the 10th annual Kinsmen Club Stag in the Branch 120 Legion hall Friday night. But the real big winners were the kiddies in the Kin slogan "Help Kin Help the Kiddies."

The stag net grossed over $4,000 for the first time in its history and bolstered Kin coffers with a $1,385 net profit, according to a report by project treasurer Harry Levy at the club's regular dinner meeting Tuesday night.

Officially the $1,000 elimination draw grand prize went to E. J. Dale but prior to the drawing of the final three names, Dale, and the other remaining hopefuls Marty Lynch and Garry Snow made their own pact to slice up the money. Other winners were Ray Rob-administration.

Other committee reports delivered at the Tuesday Kin meeting were from Christmas trees project chairman Hugh Powell, and club Santa Claus parade float chairman Doug Ditchfield.

Kinsmen Deputy Governor Bob Lishman was an honoured guest at the meeting and since it was "bring a buddy night" there were a number of other guests of the members in attendance.

Trevor Moores was Sergeant at Arms, Dean Taylor was chairman, Russ Diegel was mystery man, and the jokers were Gary Alton and Bob Collett. A Chinese auction was won by Dean Taylor.

Other reports were delivered by secretary Don Puckering, registrar Russ Diegel, and treasurer Ron Roberts.

To cap the sports nite program Kin and guests watched Saskatchewan Roughriders do it all over again to Ottawa Roughriders in a colour film of the 1966 Grey Cup.
