After the business part of the meeting was completed, Mrs. Maybelle May read an article on the history of the T. Eaton Store in the past 100 years. It is interesting to know that Timothy Eaton got his first job in Canada in Glen Williams, which is just north of Georgetown on the 9th Line. Mrs. Anderson May read a very humorous poem entitled 'House Hunting'.

Mrs. Ian Break entertained several little friends and their mothers at a birthday party on Saturday, January 18, in honour of her son, Donny who celebrated his fourth birthday. Six motorists submitted letters claiming damage to wheels and alignment suffered when they hit the washout. The claims were all referred to the town's insurance firm.

Deputy Reeve Arthur Speight said he had checked with the police department and was told that two police cruisers had been at the scene from 7 a.m. that morning, while town workmen picked up a load of hot mix in Brampton to repair the damage.
