

Georgetown's Henderson New Mutual Aid Chairman

Halton Mutual Aid Firefighting Service, a group of firefighters from Halton's five fire departments, held its annual meeting and election of officers in Milton Fire Hall recently.

Georgetown firefighter Bill Henderson was named 1968 chairman, succeeding firefighter Glenn Stringer, of Milton in the post. Vice president is Sherwood Hume of Milton, and Rick Burgin of Burlington is secretary treasurer. Auditors are Jim Jefferies and Joe Piery of Burlington.

Chief Douglas Wilson of Oakville, the co-ordinator of Mutual Aid activities in Halton, presided at the election. He announced Chief A. E. Clement of Milton would again be his deputy co-ordinator for 1968. The group has been holding meetings since 1953 to keep the five brigades' personnel coordinated in firefighting and methods and equipment, so each brigade can assist the others with major fires.

The trophy donated by Halton provincial judge James R. Black for the best attendance at meetings during the past year was won by Burlington. Milton had held the trophy.

McEnery, Wm. Henry, and Robert Roughley; managers F. J. Brown, Lloyd McEnery, Wm. Henry, Dick Appleyard, Bert Benton and Cyril Paxton.

An adjoining piece of land was purchased for a parking area last summer.

Rev. F. N. Young opened the meeting with scripture and prayer and closed with the benediction. A social hour was enjoyed after.

Mrs. Swinkles spent the Christmas and New Year's holidays with friends and relatives in Holland.

Mr. S. Kirkpatrick and Mr. Jack Roughley are both at home from hospital. We hope soon both will regain better health. Mr. Pat Patterson has been out this week again after a bout with the flu.

Mr. Howard Roughley of Vancouver is visiting his brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roughley this week.

The W.A. enjoyed a pot luck dinner at the church last Wednesday evening.

BUFFER METRO — The above Department of Municipal Affairs map of the new regional municipality proposed by Hon. Darcy McKeough, Minister of Municipal Affairs shows the seven area municipalities as defined in his January 22nd announcement. The region would have an initial population of close to 400,000.

AREA 1 — That part of the existing town of Mississauga south of the Derry Road, including the towns of Port Credit and Streetsville; a small section of East Oakville is also included; the 1968 population of this area is estimated at 135,000 and the area would have seven members on the regional council;

AREA 2 — The existing municipalities of Chingacousy, Brampton and Toronto Gore, plus that part of Mississauga north of the Derry Road; the 1968 population of this area is 69,000 and the area would have four seats on the regional council;

AREA 3 — The townships of Albion and Caledon and the village of Caledon East, in addition, the town of Orangeville, plus those parts of the three bordering townships that are in the Credit River drainage area; the population would be about 18,000 with one regional representative;

AREA 4 — Includes the towns of Acton and part of towns of Georgetown and Esquesing; this area would have a population of about 24,000 and would get one representative on the regional council;

AREA 5 — Includes the town of Milton and that part of Oakville north of Base Line Road, part of Esquesing and that part of the township of Nassagaweya south of County Road 10; area has about 12,500 residents and would have one regional representative.

AREA 6 — The main part of the present town of Oakville, with a population of about 54,000; this area would have three members of the regional council;

AREA 7 — The town of Burlington, if it is included, in the Peel-Halton region; the present population is over 79,000 and the area would have four regional representatives.

LIMEHOUSE

First Woman Elected Limehouse Church Elder

The annual congregational meeting of Limehouse Presbyterian Church was held in the church on January 22, with Rev. F.N. Young as chairman and Mrs. Bert Benton, secretary. The session reported two new elders, Mrs. J. Crichton (our first lady elder) and Mr. F. J. Brown elected during the year. Previously elected elders include T.H. Price, J. Ross, A. W. Benton, A. C. Patterson, Dick Appleyard and K. C. Lindsay. Membership stands at fifty-eight. The budget was met and donations were made to Nigeria-Biagra Fund, Refugee Relief and Inter-Church Aid Appeal.

All organizations show a good year financially. Officers for 1969 include treasurer, A. W. Benton, trustees Lloyd McEnery and F.J. Brown.

LET'S PLAY BRIDGE

BY BILL COATS

Usually the higher you raise your partner's opening bid, the more points you have but there is a limit to this. If your partner opens one of a major you raise to two with support and 6 to 9 points. You would raise to three with good support and 13 to 15 points.

However, the requirements for a raise to four are quite different. You should raise your partner straight to game if you have five or six card trump support, a side suit singleton or void and less than ten high card points. This last requirement may surprise you but that's the way it is in standard American bidding.

Of course you don't always make game, but it's surprising how many times you can, and if you cannot, the opponents usually could if you gave them bidding room.

Here is an example of this bid in action. The hand came up at the regular weekly duplicate game at the Acton Bridge Club last year.

South dealt with North-South vulnerable.

S-A 10
H-J 10 9 7 5 4
D-4
C-5 4 3 2

WEST EAST
S-Q 7 6 2 S-8 5 4 3
H-Q 8 H-3
D-A K 10 9 D-J 7 6 5
C-A Q 6 C-K J 9 7

SOUTH
S-K J 9
H-A K 8 2
D-Q 8 3 2
C-10 8

The bidding:

SOUTH WEST NORTH EAST
1 H. Dble. 4 H. Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead-king of diamonds.

South has a minimum opening bid, of one heart. West doubled to show an opening bid and support for any suit that East could bid except the doubled suit heart. North correctly jumped to game.

All three requirements are met by North's hand — long trump support, a side singleton and less than 10 high card points.

There is no problem to the play of the hand. South must lose a diamond and two clubs. Once he gets the lead, declarer can draw two round of trump. He can then cross ruff the hand out for the balance of the tricks.

BRIDGE CLUB

Fog and icy roads may take their toll in attendance for many organizations, but it takes more than that to keep bridge players at home and last Tuesday there were twelve tables of players at Georgetown duplicate bridge club's weekly game in the Legion auditorium.

Winners for north-south — 1st, Mike Lorusso, Dick Prust; 2nd, Art Norris, Tom Barber; 3rd, Jim Kall, W. Wandel; 4th, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Barbour. East-West winners 1st, Mrs. George Mundy, Mrs. George Walker; 2nd, Mrs. G. Collier; Mrs. Harry Goldham, 3rd, Cam Sinclair; George Ellenton; 4th Margery Mackenzie, Duke Wilson.

Reminisces Turn-of-Century at W.I. Meeting

Interesting bits of history were revealed in a program convened by Miss Florence Wright at the January meeting of Terra Cotta Women's Institute.

Mrs. Andrew McDonald, who was married in 1903, answered many questions regarding her youth, her trousseau, her wedding and her first home as a bride. This gave many interesting facts regarding early days in the district.

Mrs. John Lyons gave the history of Lyonsdale farm which is a century farm. A history of Terra Cotta junior institute, organized in October 1931, and Terra Cotta women's institute, organized in May, 1944 was given by Mrs. Art McKane. Miss Wright conducted a contest.

Mrs. Jack McDonald presided at the meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Clarence Anderson. Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. John Hunter were appointed leaders of the 4-H Homemaking club in needlepoint.

Mrs. Clarence Anderson, Mrs. Lee Campbell, Mrs. Jack McDonald, Mrs. John Lyons and Mrs. Alan Beardmore will staff the museum on the Sundays in February. Roll call was answered with "Remember When."

On January 23, twenty-three members and friends of the W.I. were at Mrs. McKane's home for a short course on "Treasures in your Attic." Miss Jean Armour, a home furnishing specialist, gave an address and showed slides on old furniture, old glass and other antiques.

The W.I. is sponsoring a dessert and hat show at the Blue Flame Room, "Brampton, in March.

Alf Allen Continues as Senior Citizen President

Georgetown Senior Citizens Club's 1968 officers were returned for the 1969 term at a meeting at the Cedarvale clubhouse January 23. The attendance was low because of snow piled at the approach to the cottage making it impossible for cars to get close.

Alf Allen is president, Mrs. Lena Pond vice president, John Farmer treasurer, Mrs. Farmer secretary and Mrs. Robinson publicity chairman.

"Private Lives" Sparkling Comedy by Noel Coward

Noel Coward's domestic comedy "Private Lives" will be the Georgetown Little Theatre entry in the Central Ontario Drama Festival this year. The play will be presented February 5, 6, 7 and 8 in the high school auditorium, with the adjudication taking place the first night of the production.

The adjudicator, Maurice Evans, while not as famous as his namesake the English actor, is well known in his own right as a director, writer and teacher involved in educational television. He has directed many festival plays, and won the award two years ago for the best play when he directed "A Stranger unto my Brethren."

When the drawing room comedy was first presented in 1930 in London's west end, it starred such glittering names as Noel Coward, Gertrude Lawrence and Laurence Olivier, now known as Sir Laurence.

The local cast features Ron Hill as Elliott, Vera Macdonald as Amanda, Mary Goebel as Vera and Eric Ming as Victor. Elliott and Amanda are a divorced couple who remarry, only to find their spouses and their new mates ensconced in adjoining hotel suites in France.

As the complications develop, so does the typical sparkling Coward dialogue, for which he is renowned.

Betty Fisher is directing the festival entry, which has only one other cast member, a bit part played by Sue Graham.
