Ratepayers Assist

The society's yearly membership fee of $1.00 is real value, he said, citing nine meetings with speakers, films and gardening tips, three flower shows and a few other events. He extended a warm welcome to new members.

Phil Siddall, also a Halton Hills member, explained the ratepayers' participation in a recreation committee. He represents them on a group including service clubs, YM-YWCA, Chamber of Commerce and others.

He mentioned that lack of accommodation is particularly hampering the Scout and Guide program in town, and spoke highly of the Lions Club effort in creating an east end park.

With Mayor Wheldon Emerson attending an important district hydro meeting, Reeve Wm. F. Hunter addressed the new residents.

"If you haven't already realized it, you will find as you go on that you are living in one of the finest communities in Ontario," he said.
