

Snow's Building Proposal Finds Gov't Favour

James Snow, MPP for Halton East, has expressed satisfaction over the government's acceptance of his private members' bill proposing that all government buildings be constructed according to a modular co-ordinated plan designed to reduce labour and material costs.

The bill was introduced by the Halton East member on November 23. On Friday morning Hon. Ray Connell, minister of public works for Ontario, announced that as of April 1 this year all buildings built for the government will be constructed on the principle suggested by Snow.

According to the modular co-ordinated plan, all measurements used in building must be divisible by four.

"This allows everything to be built with standard modular materials with a minimum of cutting," Snow explained, "and allows construction materials to be manufactured on a standard module. This will bring about economies and decrease the necessity for stocking large quantities of materials."

Snow's proposal received support from the building industry and from architects after it was presented to the government.

"I think the department had been looking at this before," he said. "After I brought it to light they gave it serious consideration. I was happy to have my resolution adopted by the government."

In March 1968 the Halton member, head of a building firm, proposed a resolution to adopt the National Building Code. A government committee which includes architects and engineers has been appointed to make a study of this proposal and to make a report some time this summer.

Good Posture Demonstrated

The Ashgrove Boutique 4-H club met for their sixth meeting at Pineview school. The roll call 'Demonstrate good standing and sitting posture' definitely made the girls conscious of their posture during the business meeting.

Mrs. Rentenaar showed how to sew on a button properly by making a thread shank. The girls read the instructions for making a belt, making buttonholes, hems and slip stitching. Then they continued working on their clothing project.

Liz Anderson and Lydia Rentenaar served lunch and a social hour followed.

Cut County Grant to Botanical Gardens

A five thousand dollar cut in the annual grant to the Royal Botanical Gardens was approved by Halton County council last week. Last year the grant was $15,000, this year they will receive $10,000. They had asked for $24,250 this year.

Reeve Gordon Gallagher claimed it was a great disappointment to Burlington.

Deputy Reeve W. Gillies of Oakville stated the $5,000 cut was the beginning of a phasing out of the grant altogether, in his opinion. He contended it was not a proper charge against the people of Halton County at all. "It is attended by people from all over Canada, with most of the benefit going to the City of Hamilton," he concluded.

Pablum Dinner for Five New Kinsmen

Five new Kinsmen dined on pablum and other baby food at a Kin initiation night Monday at Stan's Restaurant.

Warren McLay, Paul Luyes, Rick Gill, Clive Searle and Tony Walker were seated at a special table for their "din-din" part of an initiation ceremony conducted by the Stratford Kinsmen's initiation team.

The Stratford Club is well known in Kinsmen circles for their unique initiations which are a blend of solemnity and practical jokes.

Gord Bennett, Dave Schultz and Dave Fenn of the Stratford club were assisted by Georgetown Kinsmen Bob Collett, Bill Sunnucks, Bill Hewitt, and Trevor Moores.

Guests at the meeting were Art Sweezy, Don McColeman, Alan Roxborough, Lloyd Sharpe, Don Currie and Gus Elliott, and past member Herb Wilson.

Tom Kent was fines chairman for the evening and Frank Bryant Sergeant at Arms.

Art Ellis and Fred Harrison led the club in opening ceremonies and Hugh Powell gave the invocation.

Harry Levy reported on the Bantam Hockey Tournament and Gary Alton on the Kin-Gro fertilizer campaign which, he said, had reached 80 per cent of its objective. Al Murphy advised that eight members and their wives had registered to date for the District convention in Sarina.

President Dean Taylor closed the meeting announcing the next meeting would be a nomination night and that a new members' school would be held April 7.

Tells Church Women Of Work With Indians

Mrs. Verna Johnson, born on the Cape Croker Indian reserve and author of a book on Indian legends and folklore soon to be published, spoke at the March meeting of St. John's United Church Women.

Mrs. Johnson, who was introduced by Mrs. George Ironside is now involved in working with Canadian Indian residents of Toronto and had many items of craftwork on display. After a question and answer period she was thanked by Mrs. Cecil Davidson.

The devotional period was taken by a group of CGIT girls who sang 'Kum Ba Ya' in the African language ('I am Coming, Lord.')

Mrs. Stuart Hall, the president, opened the meeting with prayer and welcomed visitors. Minutes were read by Mrs. D. French and treasurer's report by Mrs. J. Nichols.

Rattlesnake Point Toured by Cubs

Georgetown and Scotch Block Cubs tramped the rocky terrain of the Rattlesnake Point area together Saturday. Fifth Georgetown B Pack Cubs and their rural cohorts thoroughly enjoyed the hike which involved a lot of climbing and exploring interesting caves and crevices. They munched cookies and apples during a break on the trail.

Leaders Bill Schreiber, Ross and Terry Colter, and one of the boy's fathers, Craig Dunn accompanied them.

Appeal Court Chops Sentence Five Years

A court of appeal this week reduced the 15 year jail sentence against the 22 year old who robbed the Hornby general store and kidnapped a girl last June to 10 years.

Toronto lawyer Sal Hany, acting for lawyer Peter McWilliams QC who defended the accused at the trial last October, was appealing against conviction and sentence.

The accused was sentenced by Judge Kenneth M. Langdon to 10 years for armed robbery of Crawford's store at Hornby and five years consecutive on the charge of kidnapping a Kitchener girl during his get-away.

Appeal against the conviction was dismissed by Chief Justice G. A. Gale and Justices G. T. Evans and Arthur Kelly. Appeal as to sentence was granted with the court increasing the sentence on the kidnap charge from five to ten years, but making it concurrent instead of consecutive with 10 years for the armed robbery, making a total sentence of 10 years. The prisoner will be eligible for parole after three years.

McWilliams was appealing the conviction and sentence on the grounds that the accused should have been receiving psychiatric treatment in a hospital instead of behind bars in Kingston.

McWilliams said his client has a history of psychiatric disorder and although he is not a drug addict he was under the influence of drugs when he robbed the Hornby store.

During the holdup two people, one of them a customer were struck with a sawed-off shot gun. The take was $190.

GLEN WILLIAMS

On behalf of the Essex Dean Construction Bantam Hockey Club, the Essex Minor Hockey Association, Mr. Wm. Waldron, coach, Essex parents, and myself I would like to take this opportunity to extend our most sincere gratitude for the reception given by yourselves and the people of your town to the boys of our hockey club and those associated with it.

At the risk of singling out any particular person, I wish that you would extend our sincerest thanks to all those people directly connected with the Tournament who so ably saw that our boys were fed and billeted. I know that a tremendous amount of work was undertaken by yourselves to ensure that our boys were properly taken care of, and from the comments received from the members of our team, their feeling at this time is that Georgetown is second to none.

It goes without saying that after this tremendous week for all of us we are already looking forward to next year's tournament.

Thanking you all, I remain, Yours truly, Essex Minor Hockey Ass. Ronald W. Beneteau, 2nd Vice President.

Beautiful bouquets of daffodils were placed in the churches here by the Cancer Society last Sunday to signify the launching of the campaign. Volunteer canvassers will be calling on you soon.

Get well wishes are sent to Mrs. Florence Little who is in Georgetown hospital.

Mrs. Dave Stamp Sr., had the misfortune to fall in her home and break her hip. She is a patient in Georgetown hospital. Friends and neighbours hope she'll soon be feeling better.

In the last issue of the United Church Observer there was an interesting article on Rev. Tom Forgrave who is ministering in Northern Alberta. It is of special interest to village folk having served in the Glen church while still a student, and also having an aunt here Mrs. Harold Wheeler, as well as his father having been a Glen boy.

Many Hands Make Light Work for Catering

Dear Sir: Once again the town has been invaded, and is the better for it. The invaders were the hundreds of young hockey players who made up the 50 Bantam hockey teams from as many towns or cities in Canada and the USA.

As catering supervisor and responsible for seeing that the young men were fed during their stay I would like to bring to everyone's mind all those who laboured so willingly in the background, giving so freely of their time and talents.

I would like to express my thanks and deep appreciation to all of the following organizations. The Kinettes, Dave Bowman and his men of the Canadian Legion, Fire Department auxiliary, St. Alban's Ladies Guild, Legion Ladies auxiliary, Knox Church Ladies, St. Andrew's Church ladies and St. John's United Church ladies. Their congeniality and willingness was above anything anyone could expect.

My sincere thanks also to the many teenaged girls who gave up their school holiday to wait on tables, run errands etc. Without them, the job could not have been done, at least the burden would have been most gigantic. My gratitude is also extended to Steen's Dairy, Sykes Bakery, Buck's Fine Foods, The Golden Fish and Chips, for supplying and helping to prepare the food.

A special vote of thanks to Mrs. Norm Long, Mrs. Sheila Smith, Mrs. Dorothy Ireland, Mrs. Vi Haines and Miss Monica Moffat for their long hours each day.

The Royal Canadian Legion deserves the respect and thanks from all for their hospitality and kindness throughout the week, the many willing hands extended whenever called on.

Last but not least, thanks a million to The Herald for the coverage given from all angles.

Again thanks to all. Sincerely, Jessie Hayes Catering Supervisor, International Bantam Hockey Tournament
