Operated Farms Here and in Erin Township

A man for whom one of Georgetown's streets was named, William T. Sinclair, 87, died at Hutton Centennial Manor Milton on April 4.

Mr. Sinclair's highway farm was one of those acquired by Delrex Developments in 1954 when the firm embarked on a building program which enlarged the town boundaries. Sinclair Avenue, which runs through the former farm was given his name.

Later they moved to Georgetown and when Mr. Sinclair retired their son Campbell operated the highway farm.

Mr. Sinclair served on the school board of S.S. 1 when he was an Erin resident. As a member of Knox Presbyterian Church here, he had been a member of the board of management. He was a member of the Independent Order of Foresters.

"They laughed when I drove up in my Volkswagen convertible."

A lot of people think the Volkswagen convertible is the funniest thing to come along since the Volkswagen.
Which is why we can't guarantee that this sort of thing won't happen if you come along in one.
But while they're laughing on the outside, you're laughing on the inside: a VW will breeze along for 32 miles on a single gallon of gas.
It hardly ever needs oil.
And repairs cost little. (We don't think big repair bills are funny at all.)
What's more, it has a handmade top that's padded with 2" of foam rubber to keep heat in and cold out.
But, just because underneath it all the Volkswagen convertible is still just a Volkswagen, don't get the idea you won't get as much of a thrill out of driving it as you would a big convertible.
In fact, given a good stretch of open highway and maybe a bit of a tailwind, you could even zip past one of those big fancy jobs.
And what could be more thrilling than that?

There are over 280 VW dealers across Canada. The one nearest you is in the Yellow Pages.
