

WHEELS PASS BLADES

Now in its fourth year, roller skating, that very popular pastime the Georgetown Arena Board came up with to fill the summer void, at the John Street Taj Mahockey has passed 200 to 300 put wheels on their feet every arena's financial statement. Large crowds of evenings during roll-along season which lasts Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday ice skating as an attraction according to the from May until just past Labour Day. The roller skaters do their thing accompanied by local music groups who test their decibels against the roar of a couple of thousand little wheels.

Junior League, Tues., July 1st
Georgetown Upholstery 7 vs. Georgetown Cycle & Sports 4
The Upholsters held on to their perfect record by taking this lead into the opening inning and holding on. The only homers were off the bat of Upholsters pitcher Kathy Oprica who hit 2, and Cathy Townsend, who belted out one. Game star was Kathy Oprica.

Zenith Tool and Die 18
Dairy Queen 4
After a scoreless first inning, Zenith broke the tie with a ten run 2nd, enough to put the game in the bag. Game star awards were shared by two Zenith players, pitcher Lyn McCristall and fielder Kathy Snyder. The home runs also went to Zenith's with Kathy Snyder, Julia Phillips, Judy Mack and Penny Todd each tagging one.

Superior Foods 25
Mardell's Hair Styles 24
This was a game with lots of action and one that looked like a walk-away for Superiors in the first two innings. But Mardell's came on strong to capture the lead briefly, lost it again, and pulled off another rally that left them only 1 run short.

Game star was Lynn Anthony — pitcher for Mardell's, who matched her excellent mound performance with a 5 for 5 at bat, including 3 homers, a double and a triple. Lynn's final homer came in the last inning, and drove two runners across the plate, starting her team on the rally road. Second game star went to Sandy Mundy also of Mardell's, who tagged herself a grand slam home run, and another homer in the final inning, to bring her team to within one run of the opposition. Teammate Cathy Burgoyne was also on the home run path lobbing out the 6th one of the night for the winless Mardell's team. This team is a pleasure to watch in a game. They are a long time winless, but seem to have the most fun of any team at the park. They are a real credit to the spirit of the league and to their coach Hank Russell.

Beaver Lumber 15
Kinette Kruisers 9
In a game that was liberally sprinkled with home runs, C. Lynn Barber once again emerged the game star. She had a 5 for 3 with 3 homers, and pitched herself proud. Teammate Margo Butler tagged the only other long ball for the winners.

For the Kruisers, Miss April Sacco was the home run hitter with two for the night, while teammate Barbara Curry belted out one.

Shoprite 5c to $1.00: 4
Murray Motors: 2
Shoprite held on to their second place tie with Superior Foods by breaking loose from 3 innings of tied ball, and squeezing out a win over the Motormen.

Patti Holotluk for the losers hit the lone homer of the game. First star went to Susan Powers of Shoprite for her excellent fielding while Murray's pitcher Pam Little also rated a mention for her mound performance.

Junior League Standings
In a three way tie for top spot are Beaver Lumber, Zenith Tool and Die, and Georgetown Upholstery, all with a perfect 8 points. Shoprite and Superior are tied with six each for 4th rung, while 6th and 7th spots are being battled over by Kinette Kruisers and Cycle & Sports each with two points. Three teams are still trying for that first win: Dairy Queen, Murray

Court Charges Follow February Hockey Brawl

A brawl between Georgetown and Ajax Junior C hockey fans after a final game last February was condemned in court by Judge James R. Black who said the brawlers were just "looking for trouble" because they do not have the ability to "lace up a pair of skates."

Several youths appeared in court on charges of causing a disturbance, obstructing police and using obscene language.

Clashes between Georgetown and Ajax fans are not unusual, court was told.

This game was played in Georgetown Arena with Ajax fans coming up by special bus. Georgetown won the game 7-2.

Georgetown police used a paddy wagon to round up the brawling youths and take them to the station.

Juvenile Actions
The judge said a certain amount of exuberance at a hockey game is to be expected, but he condemned the brawling and swearing that followed the game as juvenile actions by people "looking for trouble."

ter him, presumably to get his father, the youth told the court.

They kicked and punched the youth, who was protecting his father, court heard.

Judge Black told the Ajax youth the court believed his story.

"This court believes that each of you Georgetown fans were 'looking for trouble,' he said."

knocked hot chocolate over an Ajax fan. He was remanded until July 16 for a pre-sentence report.

The judge dismissed a charge against another Georgetown youth whom police said impeded other persons after the game by walking on the road instead of the sidewalk.

The youth said he didn't hear a police order to walk on the sidewalk.

An Ajax fan charged with obstructing a police officer in the execution of his duty, was remanded for sentence in Oakville on July 7.

The youth admitted grabbing a police officer by the shoulders as he tried to apprehend another person (who subsequently escaped) out said he got excited and did not realize what he was doing.
