

(BARGAIN) HUNTING IN THE GREAT OUTDOORS

Shoppers stop to sort through the bargains in front of Silver's during the third annual Downtown Sidewalk Sale which gave the downtown a carnival atmosphere Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. Forty-seven firms took part in the celebration which featured balloons and lollipops for the youngsters, Highland music by the Georgetown Girls Pipe Band Thursday night, and street dancing Friday evening.

Merchants took their wares to the customers with outdoor displays during the three-day sidewalk sale downtown. Here a young family checks the values in front of McNamara Jewellers.

Expect Sell-Out Crowd For Hockey "Greats"

Due to the limited space of the Branch auditorium, it appears that there will be many disappointed and frustrated youthful hockey players in Georgetown, Milton, Erin and Acton who desire to see and hear their hockey idols, John Bellevue and Bobby Orr, at the Little NHL Hockey Hall of Fame Inaugural Dinner, Sept. 8 where these two hockey greats will be on hand.

Gordon Alcott is organizing this evening and we have no doubt it will be an evening long remembered by the small fry and a great occasion for the adults who will witness the beginning of an audacious venture which will be surpassed by few such undertakings. Inquiries regarding this evening are coming from as far away as Toronto.

Gordon's intentions are to have scrolls which will symbolize the occasion presented to Bob Goldham, John Bellevue and Bobby Orr. The executive of Branch 120, which is the sole sponsor of this imaginative project, have set their sights on a very high target; but just as their predecessors who originated the Legion Saturday Morning Hockey hit their target, so will 120 hit the target again, and there will be a hall of fame in Georgetown.

The Branch sportsmen who toss horseshoes rose to the occasion on Saturday when their horseshoes encircled the stake while other teams were coming close. After being bested by Brampton several weeks ago in Zone B7 contest which Brampton won by one point, the scores being 35 to 34, Branch 120 fellows became very serious at the District B Horseshoe Competition on Saturday and let Legion members from Mount Hamilton, Brampton, Dundas and Niagara Falls know in no uncertain manner that the Georgetown Branch is a championship Branch when it comes to horseshoes.

In spite of the contest being rained out, Bill Collier and Lloyd Keir of Branch 120 were so far ahead in points that it was impossible for any other team to catch up with them. Branch 120 became District B champs and along with Mount Hamilton and Brampton will represent District B in the Provincial championship contest at Waterloo Road and Gun Club where Branch 530 will be host on Saturday, September 8.

Because of the rain, it was impossible to play the singles which will be played at a later date.

Tossed Ringers

Carl tells us that it is hoped eventually to fly the models by remote control. At the moment they are being flown on cords by manual control. The cadets, it seems, must complete their radio training to assist them in handling the very precise equipment of the remote control.

Still on the military bit, the Branch was represented in the

Flying Models

During the summer recess, 10 to 15 of the cadets have been keeping their hands in by attending the hobby club every Wednesday and Saturday. Here the lads have built model airplanes which are power driven and have been flying them under the watchful eye of Lt. Carl Groskorth and other interested adults. This can be an expensive hobby for after building the plane which might take several weeks, there is always the possibility of crashing on its maiden flight. Then it's back to the drawing board and a rebuilding job.

Cadets Get Ready

With the coming of fall, Georgetown Legion Air Cadets are having their uniforms pressed in readiness for Monday, Sept. 8 when they will go on parade. It is expected there will be a 10% change in the squadron. This seems to be general every year when the cadets form up in flights after the summer recess. There are still many lads names on the waiting list.

With the present strength of 756 Squadron being 74, it is expected that there will be 20 cadets take the first year's training, 40 the second year, while the remaining 14 will have 3rd year training. Although the instructors can handle up to five years which includes aero engines, electronics, photography, high speed flight, etc. at this time the cadets of 756 Squadron being a newly formed squadron do not qualify.

These is room for six promotions when things get rolling again in September.

Warrrior's Parade by Comrade John Beattie, who paraded with the contingent from Brampton Legion. The three busloads of members and their families who visited the Ex on Warrrior's Day were fortunate by leaving the grounds before the rains came.

Great Henchman

Pat, Ways and Means Chairman, Chamberlain has a great henchman in Jos Poirier who puts so many hours in on the Friday night dart shoot. Last Friday was the best yet and Jos with an eye to business did a terrific job financially breaking all previous records. The club was full to capacity and canteen chairman David Bowman was feeling extremely happy.

We feel that the last shoot is a great crowd drawer. The winners this week were J. Andrews, D. Andrews, J. Valentine, B. Hill, G. Osbourne, H. Atkinson, L. Cross, J. Wambley, S. Wailes, J. Murphy.

In his spare time, Joe is seen helping on Saturday evenings at the dance. Ormie Carter with Art Stamp passed out prizes to R. Dumper, C. Hennessy, G. Bent, E. Emond, and J. Markham. Although the hall was not full on Saturday night, Iva Davidson and her group kept everyone very happy. The floor was full of dancers the whole evening. The lucky ones were K. Nash, A. Gibbon, S. Few, C. Martin.
