

MR. AND MRS. RANDOLPH DAIKENS

Brownie Guard of Honour Daikens-Bradley Wedding

First Drumquin Brownies formed a guard of honour when Mr. and Mrs. Randolph Daikens left St. Stephen's Anglican Church, Hornby, following their marriage on June 21st. The bride, Lynda Eileen Bradley daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Bradley R.R. 1 Hornby is tawny owl of the Brownie pack. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. Daikens, Oakville.

Canon J. E. Maxwell officiated and organist Mrs. A. Bye played O Perfect Love. Candelabra and standards of white and yellow daisies decorated the church.

Given in marriage by her father in the double ring ceremony, the bride designed her own wedding gown. It was floor length, A-Line of crystal, delicate peau de soie, with sleeves bodice and train of fantasy guipure lace. A tulle shoulder length veil was held by a peau de soie bow and she carried a cascade of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Five attendants wore dresses, and overdresses of floor length yellow crepe, the overdresses trimmed with white daisies, and yellow crepe hair bows. They had also designed and made their gowns. Mrs. R. Verheke, Oakville was matron of honour, Mrs. J. Hersey, Burlington and the bride's sisters,

Brenda and Susan were bridesmaids and another sister, Janice, was flower girl. Senior attendants carried bouquets of white daisies and the flower girl a daisy basket.

James Gray, Oakville, was groomsman. The groom's brother, Mr. D. Daikens, his cousin, Mr. W. Ball, Campbellville and Mr. D. Hersey, Burlington, were ushers. The bride's brother Paul Bradley was ring bearer.

St. Stephen's Guild catered for a reception in the church hall and guests were later entertained at the home of the bride's parents. Mrs. Bradley received wearing an overdress of spring green organza over an underdress of white daisies on green, matching picture hat; white accessories and a corsage of baby yellow sweetheart roses. The groom's mother also received, wearing a shrimp coloured dress and jacket of crimp-lene, a petal hat with moss green veil, green accessories and a corsage of baby pink sweetheart roses.

The bride had chosen her parents' 22nd wedding anniversary for her wedding day. Guests attended from Hornby, Burlington, Toronto, Acton, Oakville and Illinois, USA.

For a honeymoon trip to Florida, the bride left in a lime green dress and matching coat and hat, white accessories and a corsage of white sweetheart roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Daikens are living at 190 Kerr Street, Oakville. He is employed there with Maris Transport and she in Clarkson with Universal Drum Reconditioning Company.

Prior to her marriage, Mrs. Bradley had a trousseau tea for her daughter. Mrs. M. Timmings was hostess for a kitchen and bathroom shower; her aunt Mrs. J. Bradley had a pantry shower and Mrs. A. Plant and 1st Drumquin Brownies, miscellaneous showers.

Want Private Road Made Street

A belated lesson in buying and selling was given to Norval residents, Victor Harrington and Ken Sage, by Reeve George Currie, at Equestrian council Monday night, when he told them it is up to the buyer to find out everything before they buy. "That's what lawyers are for," he added.

Both men live in Norval, just past Shea's garage and share a common laneway, which runs 350 ft. back from the highway. They claim they were told on buying the property that it was a street.

Later they discovered it was not, and they had to maintain it privately in winter and summer. They now would like it extended to an existing street.

Road superintendent Bud Snow said he would have a look at it, but promised nothing.
