

Luff-Freeman Wedding in St. John's United Church

Carolebra with tall yellow tapers, mauve gladioli and yellow sheaf mums decorated St. John's United Church on August 16 for the marriage of Carolyn Joyce Freeman and Richard William Michael Luff.

Rev. Kelvin Johnston officiated, Bernard Shrubsole was organist and Mr. Paul Armstrong sang, "O Perfect Love and Handel's Wedding Hymn."

The bride, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm H. Freeman, R. R. 1, Georgetown, was given in marriage by her father in the double ring ceremony. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Luff, Cooksville.

The bride wore a floor length gown of pure silk organza over French crepe, with long sleeves and flowing wattleau train. Her gown had a jewel neckline and lips of sleeves. Hemline and train were edged with Swiss crocheted daisies, appliqued with pearls. She wore a shoulder length veil and a headpiece of tiny daisies centered with pearls and carried a cascade bouquet of bridal roses. Her only jewellery was a pearl pendant, gift of the groom.

Miss Annemarie Wetzel, Rexdale, was maid of honour; Miss Barbara Blain, Niagara Falls, cousin of the bride and Miss Lilla Varki, Toronto, were bridesmaids. Their floor length gowns were mauve nylon swiss over tulle, ruffled at the neckline, with headpieces of the same material in the form of large rosettes with streamers and small rosettes on each streamer. They carried cascades of yellow mums.

The little flower girl, Kirsten Flowers from Ottawa, also a cousin of the bride, was gownned the same and carried a basket of yellow mums.

John Sotnik, Cooksville, was groomsman, and the bride's brother Robert Freeman and Robert Martin, Mt. Clemens, Michigan, were ushers.

At a reception at Georgetown Golf & Country Club, Mrs. Freeman received wearing a mauve crocheted lace dress over taffeta with matching shantung coat, maline hat in shades of mauve and purple, matching accessories and a corsage of yellow tinted carnations. The groom's mother also received wearing a yellow swiss shantung dress with georgette sleeves, matching accessories and a corsage of mauve tinted carnations.

Leaving on a honeymoon trip to Ottawa, Montreal and New York state, the bride wore a mauve and pink linen floral dress, with coat of mauve linen, floral hat and white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Out of town guests were from Niagara Falls, Mt. Clemens, Toronto, Oshawa, Barrie, Hamilton, Guelph, Rockwood and Acton.

Mr. and Mrs. Luff are living at 1867 Bloor St. E. Mississauga. He is employed with the Sunoco garage in Cooksville and she with Chrysler Alrtemp Canada Ltd., Bramalea.

Prior to her marriage, the bride was honored at several showers: Mrs. Frank Freeman at her home in Acton, Mrs. William McCrea at the home of her mother in Cooksville, Miss Barbara Blain at her home in Niagara Falls, Mrs. J. McGinnis at her home in Brampton, Miss Annemarie Wetzel and Mrs. R. MacKinnon at the latter's home in Georgetown. A presentation was made from the office staff of Chrysler Alrtemp.

Hodgson-Duncan Wedding Vows In St. Paul's Church, Brampton

At a late summer wedding in St. Paul's United Church, Brampton, Bonnie Jane Eulline Duncan and David Norman Hodgson were united in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lloyd Duncan, 59 Weber Dr., Georgetown, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hodgson, 75 Corby Cres., Brampton.

Rev. John McDermid performed the ceremony and organist was David Esplin.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown with an empire waist of face over net with a detachable train of the same material. Her flowered head-dress held a waist-length veil. She carried a white Bible adorned with pink and white carnations. It was the same Bible her mother had carried on her wedding day.

The matron of honour was Mrs. Robert Kelley, 76 Dunn St., Oakville, cousin of the groom, and the bridesmaids were Miss Susan Duncan and Miss Velvet Duncan of Georgetown, sisters of the bride.

Junior bridesmaid was Miss Lynn Hodgson of Brampton, Ontario.

The attendants were gownned in white chiffon with pink flowered lace bodices and pink sashes. Their headpieces were pink flowered lace wound through their hair. The matron of honour and the bridesmaids carried cascades of pink and white carnations and the junior bridesmaid carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

The best man was Robert Kelly, 76 Dunn St., Oakville, and the ushers were Glen Cayers of Toronto and Kent Hodgson, Brampton, brother of the groom.

At the reception at the Thunderbird Hotel the bride's mother received wearing a yellow silk shantung dress with beaded neckline and white accessories. Assisting in the receiving line, the groom's mother wore a mint green ensemble with beaded neckline and matching accessories.

For a honeymoon in the Georgian Bay area, the bride chose a turquoise two-piece suit with beige accessories.

YOU need this when deep-fat frying

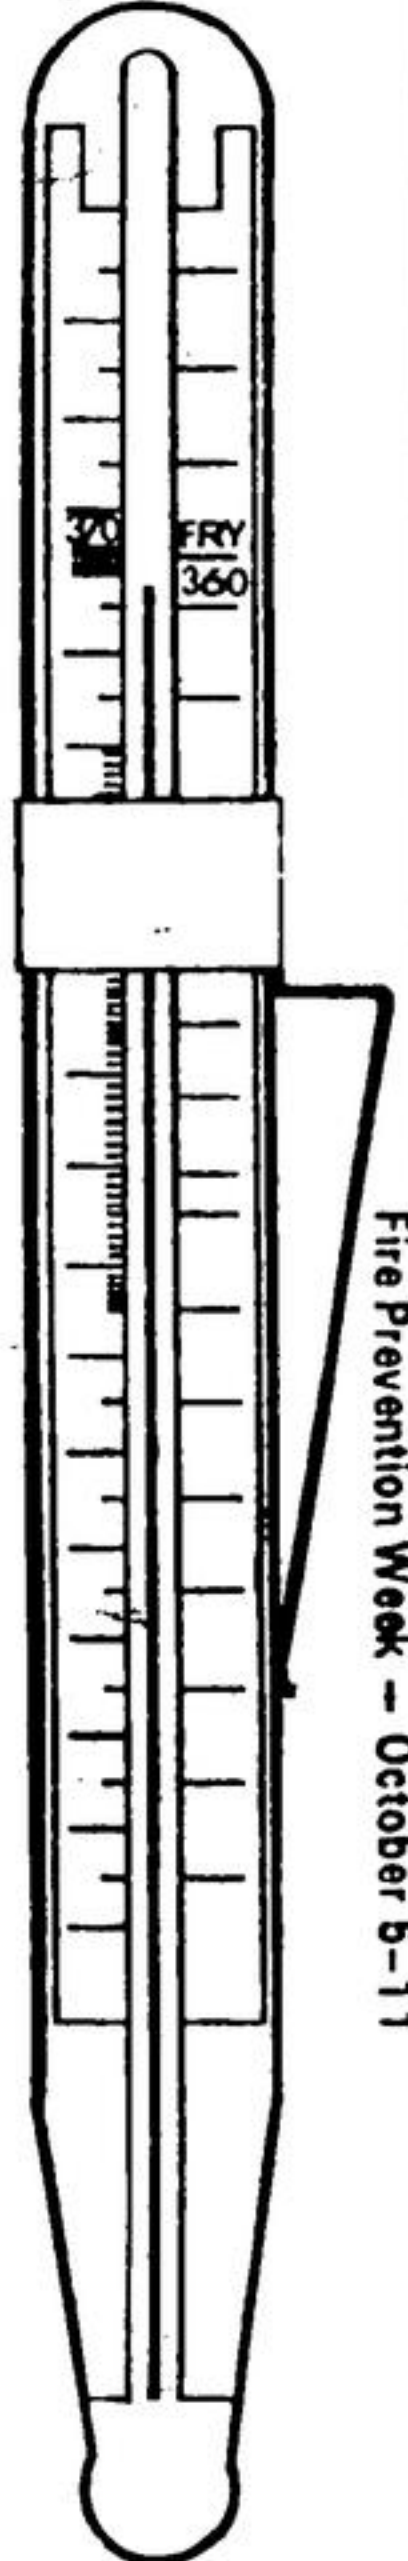

French-fried potatoes, chicken, and many other foods are delicious when prepared in your deep-fat fryer. But, for safety's sake, keep the frying temperature at the proper level by using and watching a cooking thermometer.

The flash point, or temperature at which the vapours from the boiling fat can be ignited by a match flame or spark, is less than 100 degrees above the maximum frying temperature of 400 degrees. And the ignition temperature, at which the hot fat itself can burst into flame, is only about 200 degrees higher than the flash point.

Therefore, it is very important to keep the frying temperature to a controlled, safe level.

Never leave your fryer unattended while warming fat to frying temperature. Because heat from the stove element under the fryer cannot escape rapidly, the temperature of the fat rises, quickly. It can increase past the frying level to flash point and ignition stages in the time you might take to answer the door or telephone. If you are interrupted by a call during frying, be sure to turn down the element under your fryer. Don't rely on fryer thermostats - although they help reduce the danger of overheating, they don't always work.
