

Bennett, Gardhouse Shorthorn Dispersal Brings Good Prices

The annual Shorthorn Sale of S. G. Bennett, Georgetown, R. W. Gardhouse, Milton, and N. D. Hogg, Uxbridge, brought satisfactory prices. Buyers from these states and provinces made purchases: West Virginia; Indiana, Arkansas, Michigan, Kansas, Nebraska, Texas, Missouri, New York, Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Ontario, Quebec.

Sale top of $8,000 was for the two-year-old bull Scotsdale Bullion; he weighed 1706 lbs. and gives evidence of reaching ton size at an early age. The purchasers were Mr. and Mrs. Harding Mott, who are establishing a new herd at Holley, Mich. Second in price was another Bennett bull, Scotsdale Caledon, selling at $5000 to Jos. Hickfeld, Gordon, Neb. Another Bennett two-year bull, Scotsdale Brigadier, was taken at $1850 by M. Nagely, Abilene, Kansas. A younger bull (also from the Bennett string, and this year's grand champion at the CNE) sold at $2500 to Wilson Bros., Lewisburg, W. Va.

Top Gardhouse bull was Aberfeldy Keynote, purchased at $1050 by R. B. Stimpson, Dumfries, Arkansas.

Demand for females was also keen. Gardhouse's two-year-old Aberfeldy Secret 12th was taken at top female price of $2150 by Orval Leonardson, of Camden, N.Y. Second high, $1800, was paid by Sagamon Farm, Dewittville, N.Y., for Bennett's Scotsdale Barbara Clipper. A pair from the Bennett herd, Scotsdale, Flissy Blanche and Scotsdale Crystal Rosewood, were taken at $1500 each, by Allendale Farm, Markdale, Ontario.

Other four-figure animals were purchased by: Four Dees Farm Allerton III ($2300); Mrs. W. C. Pittfield, Pierrefonds, Que. ($1200); Boyden Farms, Unionville, Ont. ($1050); J. and S. Farms, Columbia, Missouri ($1000); Richard King, Andrews, Ind. ($1100).

Red Cross Promoting Friendly Visits to Senior Citizens

Older people may have suitable housing, financial security, adequate health services and proper nutrition and yet find the added years of life futile, frustrating and nonconstructive. Experts in the field of aging have found that loneliness is the most corroding influence in the lives of senior citizens.

To combat this, hundreds of volunteers are needed who will become friendly visitors to the aging section of the population. These volunteers should receive basic training in the understanding of older people and should be prepared to offer all services to meet the needs and problems of this aging group. They should also be conversant with recreational activities which tend to keep older people in the mainstream of life.

The local Red Cross Branch 'Services for Seniors' Committee has set a date for their 4-hour Friendly Visiting Training Course. For further details, see coming events and advertisement.

The Canadian Forestry Association and member Provincial Forestry Associations are public service non-profit organizations formed to encourage people to use Canada's natural resources wisely.

'Neatness Counts' Even On Township Dump

Esquusing residents will have to tie their newspapers in bundles, when they put them in the the garbage. Esquusing council decided Monday night.

Tom Haines, and son, John, who run a garbage business promised to co-operate, as long as council backed them up, in asking their customers to tie the newspapers.

"The newspapers blowing around loose, make them impossible to cover, with land fill and necessitate the burning," explained acting reeve Tom Hill. He pointed out that the Department of Energy and Resources have clamped down on burning.

John Haines claimed most of the problem arises from people dumping their own garbage, and maintained there should be supervision eight hours a day.

The question of bringing garbage to Esquusing dump from other municipalities caused a minor furor for a few minutes.

"We want to know if you are bringing garbage from other municipalities to our dump, which is paid for by Esquusing taxpayers," said Cr. Miller.

"You mean to tell me you are ranting about a few people's garbage in your dump, when there are people coming from all over using that dump, and have been for years," challenged John Haines.

"It works both ways," said Tom Haines. "Sometimes we dump in another municipality's dump, depending on the route, but there's not many either way," he added.

"Are you taking garbage from Esquusing elsewhere?" asked Cr. Russell Miller.

"We're bound to, sometimes," replied Tom Haines.

"The RGA and Loblaws always go to the Georgetown dump," he said.

Council assured the garbage contractors they would put a notice in the paper telling residents they must tie newspapers, thus giving the contractors the authority to enforce the regulation.

John Haines suggested definite hours should be set for access to the dump, making sure the dump is open sometime on Saturdays.

Council agreed there should be signs setting out the hours, and prohibiting burning. A gate will also be erected at the dump site.
