Royals Rock Rebs with 44-6 Gridiron Triumph

Georgetown Rebels didn't set foot in touchdown country until late in the second half, but John F. Ross Senior Royals didn't wait that long as they rolled up a 44-6 score on the locals in a senior high school football game played in Guelph Friday.

and gave the ball to the Ross offence to score one point on a safety touch, making the score 28-0. Just before the half ended, Steve Dodge ran the ball for his second TD of the game, and then converted it, giving Ross a lead of 35-0.

In the second half, the scoring cooled down as the tempers began to flare on the field.

The Georgetown offence led by Hugh Williams and George Ferguson made some good plays in the third quarter for some sizeable gains, but still the Rebels couldn't find their way to the scoreboard. Rebel Bill Sykes was injured, but played on despite his handicap. The Rebel defence held the Royals scoreless in this quarter but that was not to last.

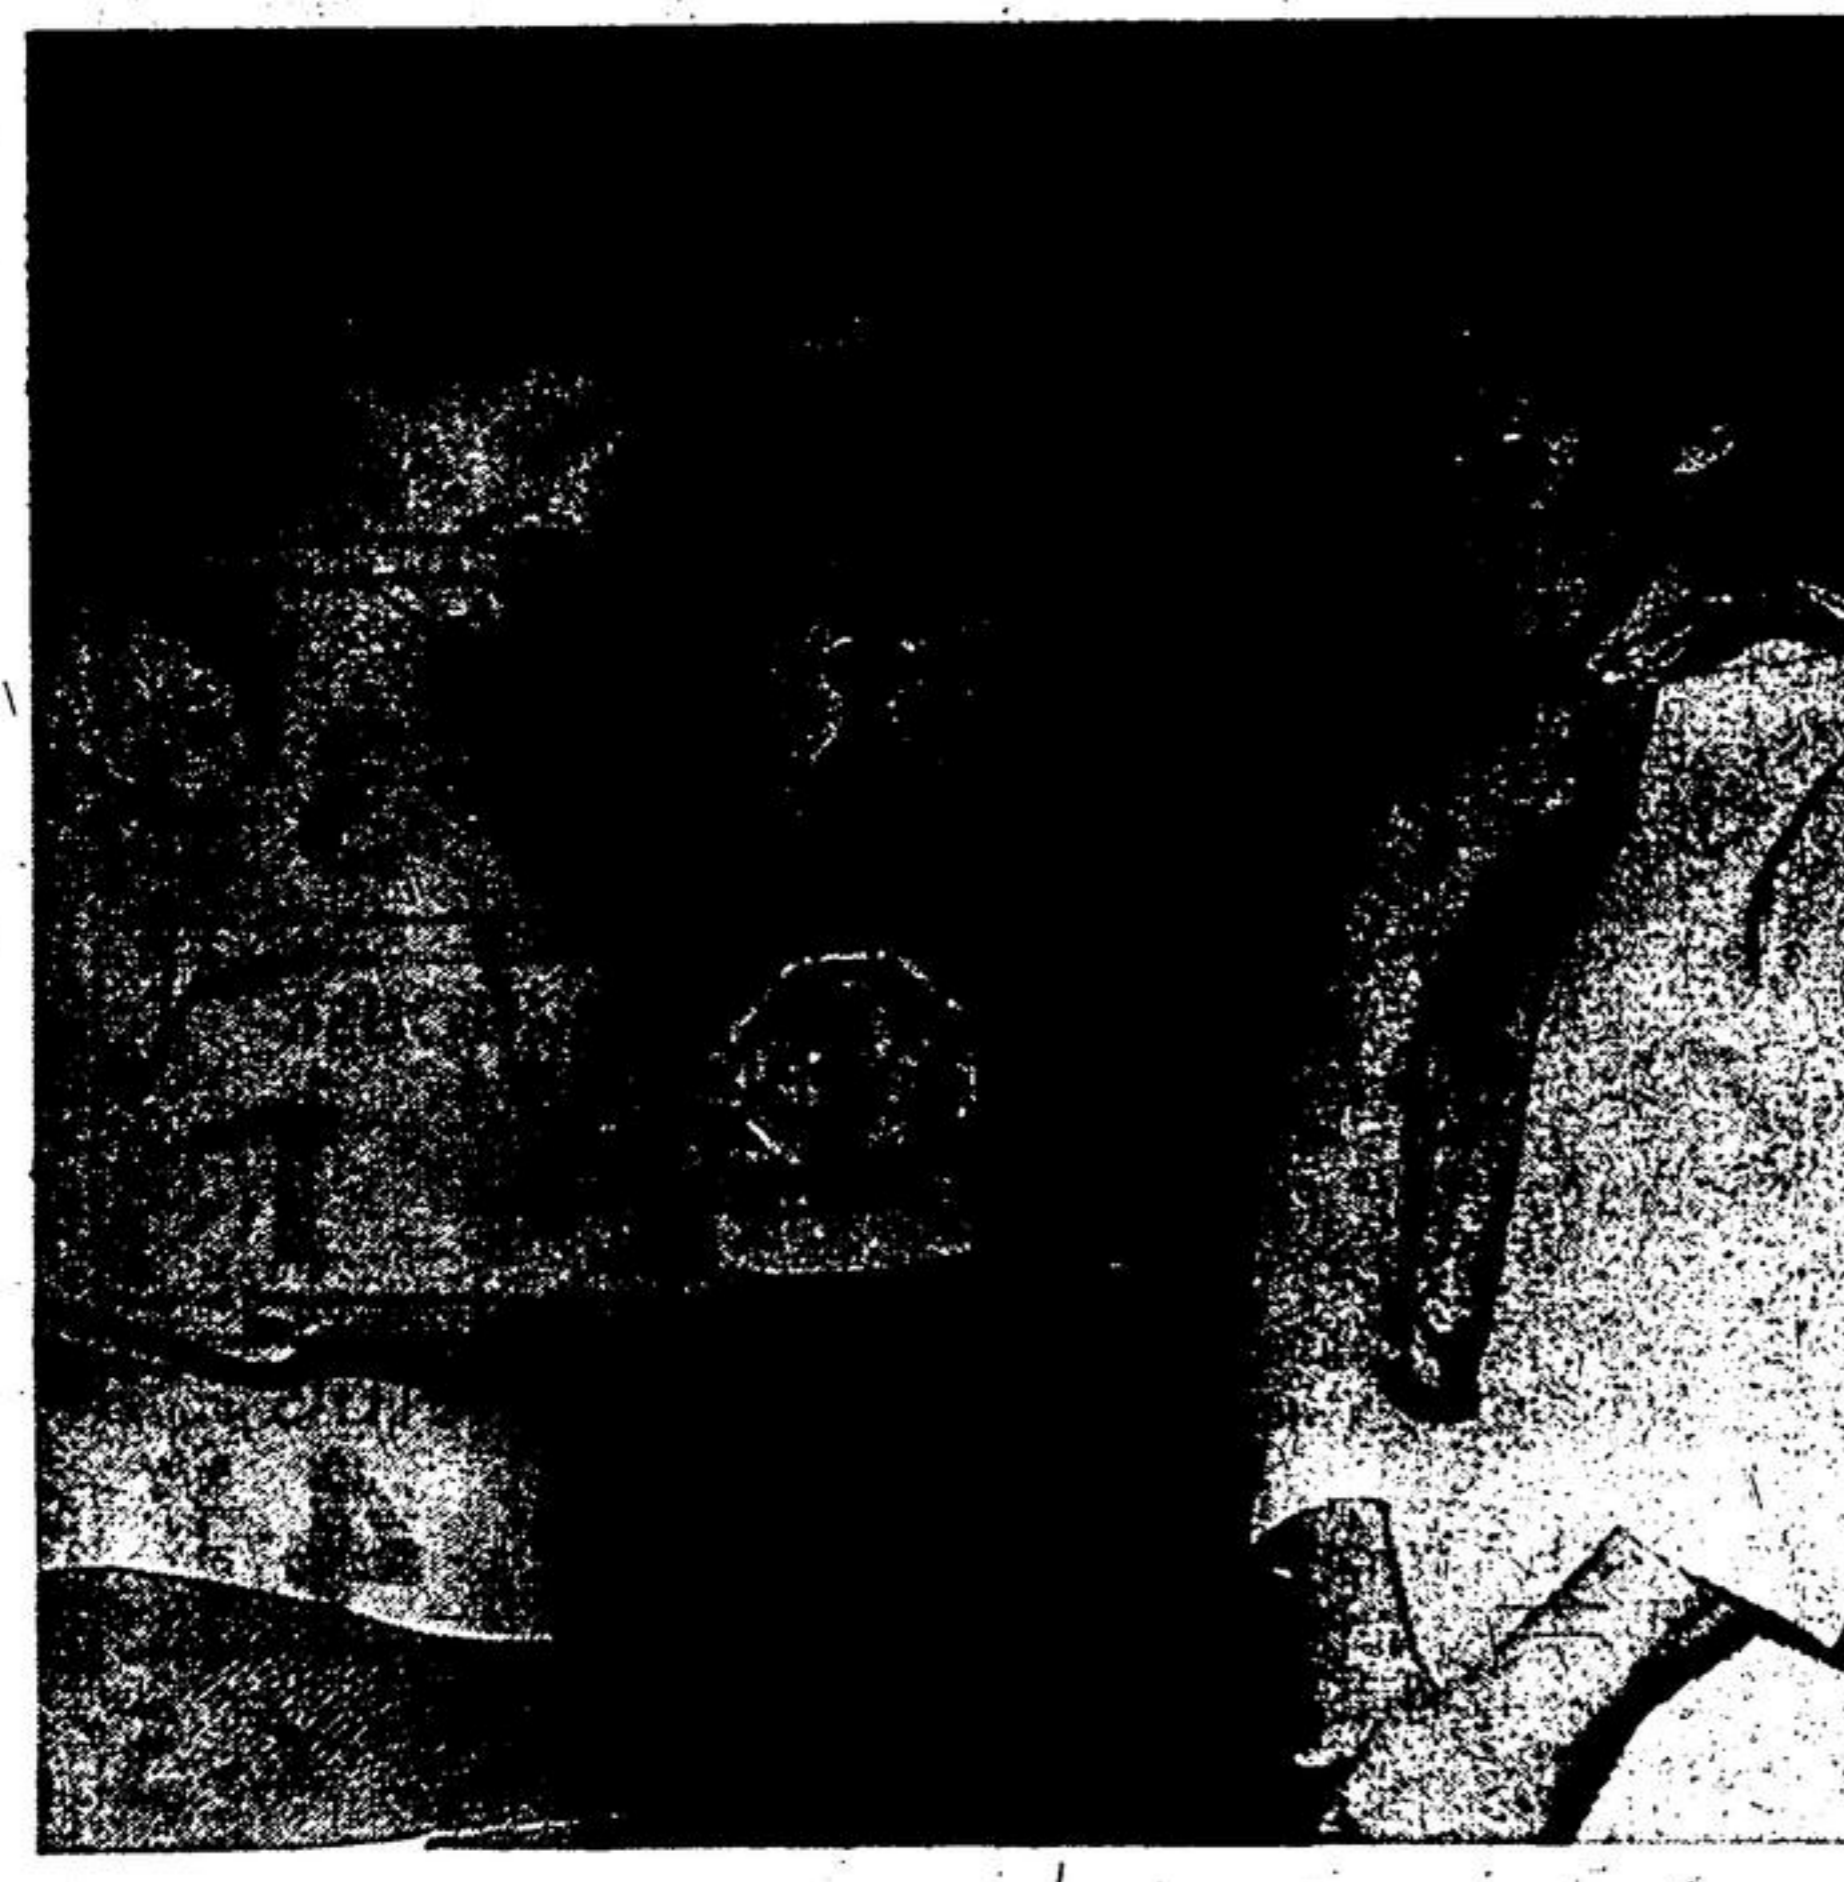

The finals frame's scoring began when Dodge punted into the Rebel end zone, resulting in a safety touch, making the score 36-0.

Georgetown's touchdown came off a razzle dazzle type play which was capped by Todd's pass to Bottomley for the TD.

Ross scored another safety touch and then O'Connell plowed through the Rebel line to score his and Royals' final touchdown.

Rebels play host to GCVI seniors in Georgetown park tomorrow afternoon. That one will be preceded by a junior getown in their own end one.

Acton Anglers Creel 40 Coho at Port Credit

Acton anglers Bob Holmes, John Chisholm, Jr., and John Chisholm Sr. creeled 40 Coho salmon in two days of fishing at Port Credit recently. The biggest one was 19 lbs. in length. One was caught on a grey streamer. The rest of the catch were caught on lures.

The angling trio were disgusted, to say the least when they discovered that 90 per cent of the fish had lamprey scars on them.

The blood sucking lamprey is a loathsome creature, that attaches itself to fish with its suction cup mouth, then its arsenal of teeth which are very fine, grind an opening into the innards of the fish.

One Coho caught recently, had four of the devils attached to it. They must be delighted to find a specimen such as the Coho salmon to prey on.

Big rainbow trout have been known to have had as many as 18 lamprey scars on them, yes, and lived to be caught by an angler.

Angler and Taxidermist John Chisholm caught a nice 8 lb. rainbow trout in the Notawasaga river recently. It was caught on Sunday and it had it stuffed on a board on the following Wednesday. It was a nice female and bore the scar of one lamprey attack. John's wife Maureen was also angling for the rainbow. John Chisholm Sr. hooked and landed a nice clean 8 lb. rainbow. These Acton anglers sure know how to catch them.
