

Dog Man's Report

SNELGROVE — Chingua-cousy's canine control officer, Bill Smith, reported to council this week he had covered 1,467 miles in October on his routine duties.

He investigated 88 complaints, picked up 16 dogs, impounded 29 and sold 26 licenses for a total revenue of $176.25.

The year's income from license fees to Oct. 31 is $4,005, compared to $5,633 for the same period in 1958.

Ratepayers Plan Candidates Meet

SNELGROVE — Altona Public School in Chingua-cousy Township will be the location of the area's first election meeting of candidates on Wednesday, Nov. 12.

The meeting at which rural candidates only will be heard, plus Reeve Ed Blair and Deputy Reeve Bob Williams, is scheduled for 8 p.m.

On Nov. 27 the rural ratepayers will have another opportunity to hear the same candidates at Herb Campbell Public School, starting 8.15 p.m.

Assessment Rise In Chingua-cousy

SNELGROVE — Chingua-cousy's assessment to Oct. 31 has risen $15,368,490 over Jan. 1 figure.

A total of 916 new taxable properties have been built since the New Year, 864 of these being houses, mainly in Bramalea.

In October new assessment totalled $419,440.

Only snag in the fast growth is the percentage of residential to industrial property.

The figures for Oct. 31 show 81.64 per cent residential and farm, compared to 18.36 commercial and industrial.

The hoped for basis to produce ideal revenue for the township is 60 per cent residential and 40 per cent industrial.

'UNKIND MYTH'

VICTORIA (CP) — Those jokes about women drivers are based on an "unkind myth," says John Ratel, manager of Victoria's branch of the British Columbia Automobile Association. He says a United States study shows women between 16 and 25 are better drivers than any other age group of either sex.

Will Survey Bad Corner

SNELGROVE — Location of several accidents, including two fatalities, the junction of Siccles Ave. and the Fifth Line E., was recently the subject of a request from Chingua-cousy Township to Peel County council. The request, for traffic signals, will be considered, said the county, after survey is done of the junction and the amount of traffic using it.

BELL'S ACCIDENT

Alexander Graham Bell accidentally stumbled on the principle of telephony while trying to perfect his multiple telegraph invention.
