

Ball - Armitage Wedding Ceremony In St. John's United Church

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM STUART HALL

At 3:30 p.m. on Saturday, September 20, the wedding vows between Pauline Marilyn Armitage of Georgetown, and William Stuart Hall of Stewarttown were solemnized at St. John's United Church. Rev. Robert O. Scrivens officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The front of the church was decorated with an altar arrangement of cascading gladioli, roses and carnations, in pink shades. On either side were candelabra with pink tapers and gladioli.

The organist Bernard Shrubsole accompanied Miss Lois Elliott who sang The Lord's Prayer, Wedding Prayer and O Perfect Love.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a fitted floor length gown and train of silk organza over taffeta, appliqued with Swiss lace on the double flounces of the elbow length sleeves, bodice and hemline. Her cathedral veil was held to a headpiece of orange blossoms and trilliums beaded with seed pearls. A double overlay of tulle fell to the shoulders. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses, ivy and stephanotis and she wore a gold locket a gift of the groom.

The maid of honour was the bride's sister Cheryl Armitage with Barbara Smyth of Kitchener and Arlene Crawford of Georgetown as bridesmaids. All wore sleeveless floor length gowns of candy pink ottoman cord with satin sashes and matching satin shoes. Their tulle shoulder length headpieces were gathered to a pink carnation. They carried nosegays of pink mums and white pinocchio mums backed with white nylon lace and white ribbon streamers. Another sister Ruth Armitage was the flower girl and she wore a full length gown of white satin ottoman with fringe sleeves of sparkle organza. Her pink moire sash was gathered at the back in a bow and trailing streamers. She wore a white and pink headband and carried a smaller bouquet similar to the bridesmaids with pink streamers. The attendants all wore gold bracelets, gifts of the bride and groom.

The groom and best man and ushers wore tuxedos. The best man was Jim McKnight of Kitchener and the groom's brothers Jim and Rob Hall were ushers.

At the Georgetown Golf and Country Club the bride's mather received for her daughter in a pink shantung dress and coat ensemble with crystal embroidered neckline, matching shoes, white gloves and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. A band of white and pink rosebuds took the place of a hat. The groom's mother assisted in a dior blue shantung dress and coat ensemble with jewelled neckline, matching shoes white gloves and purse and blue feathered hat, and a corsage of white gardenias.

Rev. Ian Fleming was the master of ceremonies.

For a honeymoon trip east through Ontario, Quebec and the New England States the bride chose a dress with chocolate brown cotton moire blouse top and puff sleeves and cream linen bottom and vest. Her brimmed hat was brown velour and she wore matching brown accessories and a corsage of talisman roses.

Out of town guests were from Toronto Bracebridge, Kitchener, Preston, Hespeler; Lethbridge, Alberta; Fort Simpson, NWT; Detroit Michigan; and Owen Sound area.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honoured with a miscellaneous shower given by Mrs. B. Shrubsole.

The office staff of Smith & Stone presented her with a large Aztec clock and miscellaneous gifts with Miss Linda Gilmore as hostess. Arlene Crawford was hostess for a miscellaneous shower, in her home.

home and was assisted by Cheryl Armitage.

The bride and groom have taken residence in Sault Ste. Marie where the groom is employed with the Canadian Forestry Service and the bride is a new member of the staff for Royal Trust Corporation.

5th Georgetown Cubs Hold Halloween Party

A grand parade around the hall started 5th Georgetown Cub B Pack Halloween party, November 29. Judging by Father Gerald Craig, Mrs. Noreen Michm, and Mrs. Betty Power resulted in the following winners chosen in categories: Mare Williams (garbage can), John Barnes (Robot), John Colter (Marian robot).

Honorable mentions went to Ron Timpon and Danny Fitzmaurice (old ladies) and Don Greig (a young girl), partly for their costumes and partly for their courage.

Music entertainment was supplied by Michael Smyth on the accordion, and Larry Mercer and Keith Dunn on bongo drums and maracas.

The traditional hobbling for apples was one of the contests played prior to the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Michm and Mrs. Power. Each cub received candy apples made by Mrs. Norma Porter and candies when it came time to go home.

Hospital Overcrowding Is Cause For Concern

by Leslie Clark

The administrator tells us that the Hospital Commission is still 'surveying the situation' as regards our expansion. And if they keep procrastinating much longer, we're going to find ourselves hanging the patients on the walls. We know there's a tight money situation, but that doesn't alleviate the terrible overcrowding.

We've had a number of calls about our little item regarding parking. And with all the arguments given us, we still feel that a little walk from the entrance wouldn't do anyone a great deal of harm, in fact, it might just do some good. We hasten to add that this is a personal opinion however, and may not reflect other board members' views. However, we do know, you have to walk a lot farther or pay through the nose in any Toronto hospital. As we mentioned, while we've had a number of calls on this subject, the one lacking so far is an offer to finance the lot expansion.

We made a slight error in our reference to the Auxiliary Christmas Ball last week, so let's hasten to get it straight. It's Friday evening, December 5th at the Riviera, Norval. And do try and be there!

The gals really deserve your support.

A recent picture in the Herald showed gardener John Schenk receiving a large number of bulbs from representative of a Dutch group who are in charge of events to mark the liberation of Holland from the Germans 25 years ago. The two ladies with Mr. Schenk were two who have also been active in the affairs of the hospital. Mrs. Goudekelling & Mrs. Nieuwhof. This wonderful gift of a special bulb created only recently, marks the special and enduring friendship that has developed between the two countries. We are sure this mark of thoughtfulness must have brought back many kind memories of Holland and our treatment received there as part of the Canadian forces some twenty five years ago. Thank you most sincerely.

...not only on behalf of the Hospital, which will be beautified by the Tulips, but by the Canadian boys who fought there, and especially those who remained there. In another vein, but still on the same subject, we were talking only last Friday night to a father of a lad who was shot down over Holland and was a recent guest of the Dutch people in his pilgrimage to his son's grave. For the first time in the many years we have known him, he was quite emotional about the fine treatment accorded them by the Dutch ambassador, the airlines, KLM, and the people in whose homes they were guests during their sad pilgrimage. He tells us the graves are kept in a way hard to describe, and the actual beauty surrounding them is something to behold.

ing formula or set of criteria defining what constituted a justifiable wage or salary increase.

The Labour federations' response was rejection and a suggestion that particular price increases be examined and reported on by boards in relation to increases in wage and other costs.

The commission, according to Young, is pursuing discussions to determine whether some variant of the Labour leaders' suggestion could be useful. Obviously he's not too hopeful of accomplishing much without more co-operation from the union chiefs. He feels failure to find a basis of co-operative action to scale down price and wage increases will mean "needless unemployment for some Canadians and needless economic waste for the country as a whole."

Probably, also, it would mean an end to the Prices and Incomes Commission and the dream of voluntary restraints.

Who needs it?

The Volkswagen Squareback Sedan is in a class by itself.

It's sort of half way between a sedan and a station wagon.

It was designed for people who are sort of half way between a sedan and a station wagon.

People who have better things to carry than car payments.

They sometimes need a station wagon. But they don't need one badly enough to spend $4,000 on something so big it comes with its own echo.

Fold down the Volkswagen Squareback's rear seat and you've got 42 cubic feet of space in the back. (Half the size of an average station wagon, but twice the size of an average sedan.)

And because it's a Volkswagen, underneath all that cargo area is what makes the car go: an air-cooled engine. So up front, where most car makers put the engine, you can put another couple of suitcases.

Also because it's a Volkswagen, it gets around 27 miles to a gallon of gas. And gets into tight parking space easily.

People who like this idea but hate the way it looks.

(All the room is tucked away inside, not tacked onto the outside.)

So when you think about it, maybe what you need is a small station wagon all of the time, instead of a big station wagon some of the time.

Because the big problems with big station wagons are all the biggies that come with them.

Like big gas bills. And big repair bills. And big insurance bills.

And who needs that?

The Volkswagen Squareback Sedan.

With close to 300 VW dealers across Canada there has to be one close to you.
