

GLEN WILLIAMS

White Gifts Will Help Toronto Church Mission

The annual white gift service was held in the United Church Sunday morning, Dec. 7 with Sunday School children taking part. The opening verses were read by Betty Campbell. The school children sang "Away in a Manger" then the old testament lesson was read by Frances Engleby and the new testament by Brenda Inglis. A meditation was read responsively by parents and children. Rev. R. Ridley chose "What can I Give Him?" as a sermon topic. The story of the legend of white gift Sunday was told by the superintendent, Fred Pichl, and after the gifts were placed in large white containers at the front, the offertory prayer was given by a Sunday School teacher, Diane Giles. The offering was received by Peter Wagstaff and Brett Giles. The gifts of food, clothing and toys were given to St. Luke's United Church in downtown Toronto to help them in their ministry in that area.

The special money offerings will go to overseas relief projects supported by the church.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Wulf and family, Mountain St., are enjoying a holiday in their native Germany.

Many of our senior citizens enjoyed the lovely dinner and entertainment provided annually by the Rotary Club.

Get well wishes are sent to Mr. Jim Dickenson a former Glen resident, who has been a patient for awhile in Georgetown District Hospital.

Last Tuesday afternoon the mothers and children of the United Church Cradle Roll enjoyed a Christmas party in the fellowship room. They sang some Christmas carols and Mrs. Ed Green read a story, "The Shiniest Angel" to the children. The babies and children up to kindergarten age each received a gift.

Lunch was served and while mothers chatted the children played together and enjoyed their ice cream and cookies. The Cradle Roll, secretary Mrs. W. McGowan and Mrs. C. Barth were in charge.

NORVAL

Church Junior Choir Sings at Peel Manor

The Junior Choir of Norval United Church entertained at Peel Manor, Brampton, on Thursday evening, Dec. 11. They sang a medley of Christmas songs after which they led the older folk in singing Christmas carols, and then served them tea and cookies.

Choir leaders Mrs. Gordon Laidlaw, Mrs. Garnet Laidlaw, and Mrs. Peter Pomeroy were assisted by several of the mothers of the junior choir.

The hour long program presented by the children was very much enjoyed by the older folk. They were thanked by the superintendent of the home and each child was presented with a bag of candy.

Enrolled into Guides on Wednesday evening, December 3, in Norval United Church were Carolyn Ewen, Kim Woollem, Kelly Frost, Laurie Robinson, Gail Harrison and Kathy White. Guide Lieutenant Mrs. Sweezy enrolled the six girls as Captain Mrs. Jarvie was unable to attend due to illness.

Badges were also presented to Nancy Hamilton and Karen Robinson their Pioneer badges, Joy Harrison the Cooks badge, Debbie Frost the Home Nurse and the swimmers badge.

Lunch was served following the special meeting. The evening was planned by two of the Guides who were working on their hostess badges, Joy Harrison and Marianne Robinson.

A very enjoyable evening was held by Unit One of Norval United Church U.C.W. on Thursday evening, Dec. 11 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Cleave, Georgetown, when the ladies entertained their husbands at a delicious supper with 32 present. All were seated around a long table in the recreation room. Rev. R. W. Ridley spoke briefly and Mrs. Lawrence May said grace.

Following the supper Mrs. Guy Wilson presided for the evening program. Mrs. Spencer Wilson assisted by Mrs. James Laidlaw and Mrs. Ed McLean, gave a Christmas theme devotional with carols. Mrs. Harold Lyons gave the nominating committee's report, president Mrs. Guy Wilson, vice Mrs. W. Cleave, secretary Mrs. Percy Laidlaw, treasurer Mrs. Murray Laird.

The highlight of the evening was slides shown by Mrs. W. Cleave of their recent tour to Their many friends in the village with to express their best wishes and congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Alf Allen of Park St. on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Dec. 21.

Last Thursday evening, the United Church Women held their Christmas social. They had dinner at the North Halton Golf Club and then returned to the fellowship room of the church for games and refreshments and gifts were exchanged.

The CGIT girls went caroling around the village last Wednesday evening. They returned to the church for hot chocolate and cookies and an exchange of gifts. The amount they received will go toward their mission project. The meetings will continue in the new year.

Everyone is enjoying the new fallen snow. The hills and roads are alive with snowmobiles around the village including the unused SKNR northern line which skirts the Glen.

We wish to extend to all readers, especially those in hospital and the Herald staff warm and friendly wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Her many friends are glad to know that Mrs. Fred Jackson is able to be home after a stay in Georgetown hospital.

There will be a carol service in St. Alban's Sunday evening, Dec. 21. Any village children who wish to go carolling around the village, be at the parish hall Thursday evening, Dec. 18.

St. Alban's Ladies' Guild had dinner last Friday night at the Driftwood, Norval, and returned to the home of Mrs. R. Reynolds for a social evening and exchange of gifts.

We are glad to see Christopher Haines, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Haines, Glen Crescent Drive, home after a visit to Sick Children's Hospital, Toronto.
