Free Press briefs

PERRY SALE prizes for Acton W.I. are on display in Harris smoke shop window.

FIGURE SKATING tests were taken in Acton, not in Georgetown arena as reported last week.

MALIBU DAMAGE to the crosswalk sign at Main St. N. was reported to police last Wednesday. Possibly children throwing stones were to blame, the police say.

THE PRE-PRINTED outside part of the United church service folder last Sunday was of particular interest to Acton friends of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Lauder. It referred to their work on an Indian reserve in Manitoba.

THERE'D BE more people on Mill St. watching the tearing down of the post office and the extensive renovations at the Bank of Nova Scotia and future bank across the street - if only if weren't so cold.

ONE OF OUR ailing police officers is back on duty - but now another one is off with flu. This leaves the force three short again this week and regular replacements are coming up from Milton.

OLD PICTURES of hockey teams which ran in the Pictures from the Past series will be framed for display in the arena. They had been found by Chester Anderson in his attic.

A FLOOD of lively letters has made interesting reading these weeks. It seems that many weeks pass without any letters to the editor, and then they come all at once, or a variety of interesting subjects.

IT'S PROBABLE the number of dances here on the weekend set a new record. The agricultural society had a banquet and dance in the band hall Friday followed by the Rotary Valentine dance Saturday. There was also a Valentine dance in the new curling club and a special dance (the second of the week) at the high school.

WILLIAM WOODS, the Milton man who was detained in a typhoid quarantine aboard the luxury liner Oronsay at Vancouver, B.C. for 21 days, remained aboard the ship as it sailed for Australia. He is planning to complete his round-the-world cruise.

His daughter Mrs. John Conway, Milton says his letters report he was "quite comfortable" and found lots to do while marooned on board the ship at Vancouver harbor for three weeks. He took art lessons, played bridge and one day he and some of the 1,500 passengers boarded buses for a driving tour of Vancouver, although they were not allowed off the buses.
