

Car wash, bake sale net students $100

Brookville Public School's car wash was a tremendous success and the bake sale was a sellout. This makes the students $100 closer to the $600 objective. "No one kept track of the specific number of cars washed, we just kept taking the money from the students," said Mrs. Betty Dredge.

Thirty-one grade seven and eight students will leave at 7 p.m. on May 21 for an overnight trip to Huronia, Midland.

"The students have a penny jar on my desk at school and all their loose change goes into the pot. In the fall we had a walkathon and raised the first $300 of the money. A pop bottle pickup raised the recent total to $457," said Mrs. Dredge.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robertson celebrate 45 years in business

Forty-five years in business, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Robertson of Ospringe are holding a special sale at their grocery store at the corner of Highways 25 and 24 this week.

The Robertsons have operated a grocery store in Ospringe since 1925, starting out in a store at the south corner of the two highways and remaining in that location for 41 years. Four years ago they moved into their brand new store at the other side of 24 Highway after the old business place was purchased by the Department of Highways and torn down to make room for road expansion. Their "new" store is a modern, well-equipped grocery with adjoining residence where the popular couple meet customers in a manner that has kept the business thriving over the past 45 years.

Both are active in community affairs and Mrs. Robertson is the Free Press correspondent for the area. Her well written reports won her the distinction of being picked as the top rural correspondent for Ontario weekly newspapers in 1967.

The Robertsons have three sons, none who have expressed the desire to operate the business.

"So we are left with the job," the couple declare.

Specials for the 45th anniversary sale are in an ad in this newspaper.

Seek solution dust problem

The property committee of Parks Board is meeting to discuss complaints of dust from land taken over for parks by the town, Councillor Orv Chapman told council at the regular meeting last week.

Mr. Chapman, in answer to questions from council, said most of the dust nuisance came from silt stirred in Equestrian township, behind the western end of Elmore Drive in Lakeview subdivision, although there were some complaints about the parkland south of Elizabeth Drive.

Silt dredged from Fairy Lake, and pumped alongside the shoreline is creating the main problem. Earth is sterile, much like a desert, and the wind whips it around.

Deputy-Reeve Ted Tyler

suggested that parks board cultivate park-owned land and toss in permanent pasture with daily watering to control the dust nuisance. Mr. Chapman agreed to take the suggestion back to the property committee meeting of Parks Board.

FOR LOSERS

At a certain curling club, a handsome trophy had been put up for a competition open only to members who had never won a prize. At the presentation of the prize, the winner made a speech of thanks: "I think this has been a wonderful idea," he said, "and to celebrate my victory in a fitting way, I want to stand drinks to everybody here who has never had a drink before."

Coats suggests town use homemaker service

Councillor Bill Coats, is one advocate of wider use of the Victorian Order of Nurses in Acton.

He told council last week of the advantages of the homemaker and Meals on Wheels service of the VON, which was discussed at a meeting in the council chambers May 12. The meals on wheels service would provide food for adults unable to make balanced meals in their own home because of infirmity or other causes.

Councillor Coats saw the need for such a service in Acton since no one was responsible for putting homemakers in homes now. Requests come from many sources but the service needs one central organization to take charge and co-ordinate.

The deputy-reeve told council he thought the service was available from the county and warned against duplicating services, a problem in Oakville.

Mr. Coats said welfare cases did receive a service but the VON program was not for welfare recipients alone. Anyone could ask and receive it. He suggested that perhaps the Acton area could be served from Georgetown where a similar service was being set up by the Red Cross.

Reeve Frank Oakes asked where the councillor got the information there was a definite need for this service in Acton.

From the Cancer Society and Public Health nurses, replied Mr. Coats.

"They are needs we happen to be aware of," agreed Councillor McKenzie.

Clerk Joe Hurst spoke highly of the service supplied by the homemakers. "We are losing something here," he said, "it has compile a list of women available for service.

A suggestion from Councillor Coats that Mrs. Helen Laughlen attend a meeting in Georgetown on the Thursday representing Acton was passed as a resolution by council.

Mrs. Laughlen is very concerned with the needs of the community. Mr. Coats told council and has an understanding of the problems since she is a public health nurse. She will bring back information for council.
