BRENDA DREDGE'S CHOCOLATE CHIP COOKIES

You get a bit of dough. Then you flatten it like a pancake—round. Then you put the dough in the stove on something. You let them cook for 3 hours. They're ready and you put the chocolate chips in the cookies. Then you can eat them.

LINDA CASSIVI'S PUMPKIN PIE

Get 1 cupful of milk out. Then you get a bowl out. Then you pour the cup of milk into the bowl. Then you get 1 spoonful of sugar out. You pour the sugar in the bowl with the milk. Then you stir it up. Then you put 1 cupful of water in. Then you stir it up. Put some dough in the bowl. Put the pumpkin in with the dough. Then you put it in the oven for 2 hours. Then you take it out and eat it.

noodles, onion, and celery with the spaghetti.

IAN FINDLAY'S HOT DOGS

You get the hot dogs and wieners out of the freezer. Put them in the oven for 4 minutes at 3 degrees (I'm wieners in and it's all finished. Then you eat it. Weiner in and it's all finished. Then you eat it.

One thing that these recipes had, quite a few times, was the final instructions. "And then you eat it!" I must remember that, as it does seem to add the finishing touch.

My David has been after me for the last couple of weeks to make something out of his cookbook, and I finally whipped up his Griddlecakes (with my own recipe tucked inconspicuously down into the flour canister). He was in seventh heaven to have "his" recipe turn out so well!

MY GRIDDLECAKES

Sift 3 cups flour, 2 Tbsp. baking powder, 1 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup white sugar. In a large bowl, beat 3 eggs, 3 cups milk, and a little more than 1/2 cup corn oil. Add dry ingredients all at once and beat till just a little lumpy. Use 1/4 cup of batter on a medium hot skillet for each pancake. Makes enough for 2 adults, 3 youngsters, with a few left over for the dog.

Here's an upside down cake with a different flavor

PINEAPPLE LEMON PUDDING

Drain 1 (14 oz.) can pineapple tidbits into 1 cup measuring cup. Add 1/2 cup lemon juice, and water to make 1 cup. Mix 1/2 cup sugar and 2 Tbsp. corn starch in a small pot. Add liquid gradually, stirring till smooth. Add 1 tsp. grated lemon rind and 1/8 tsp. salt. Cook over low heat stirring constantly till thickened. Remove from heat and stir in 2 Tbsp. margarine. Put pineapple into a 9 x 9 cake pan; pour sauce over fruit. Let stand while preparing batter.

BATTER: Sift 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 tsp. salt, Cream 1/2 cup margarine and 1/2 cup sugar. Add 1 egg, 1/2 tsp. vanilla, 1/2 tsp. lemon extract, and beat well. Add dry ingredients alternately with 1/2 cup milk. Beat well. Drop batter by spoonfuls on fruit and spread to edge of pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

Couple leave for Europe day after wedding here

Married Saturday, May 16 here, Nancy Elaine Rognvaldson and Gerard Andre Edouard Coquard left the following day for Paris, France, and are now living for a year in Rotterdam, Holland, where the groom is in business. The newlyweds expect he may be transferred in a year to French Equatorial Africa, where he has worked before in the import-export business.

Mr. Coquard had come to Canada to improve his English and met his Acton bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Rognvaldson of 265 Main St. N. She attended the Robert Little School and Acton District High School where her father is a teacher, and graduated from the University of Guelph.

The groom was educated in Paris and Morocco and is a graduate of the College of Fine Arts of Morocco.

The marriage ceremony in Trinity United church Saturday evening at 8 p.m. was conducted by the bride's uncle, the Rev. Harold Bailey, secretary of Home Missions of the United Church of Canada. The church was lit with candles on high standards on the pews and candelabra with standards of red and white gladioli. Dr. George Elliott played the organ.

The bride wore a long gown of candlelight peau de soie with long sleeves and train and a Juliet cap of the same material trimmed with lace. She carried a cascade of red roses and stephanotis.

All in red, her attendants were her sister Mrs. Robert Taylor, Orillia, as matron of honor; lifelong friend Miss Kathy McKenzie, Acton and Miss Linda Hostetter of Guelph as bridesmaids. They were dressed in red pant dresses with long candlelight-shaded scarves. They carried nosegays of gardenias and stephanotis.

The reception followed at the bride's home, with guests from Elliott Lake, Trenton, Oshawa, Toronto, Guelph, Nanticoke and Acton, including the bride's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. I. Korman of Oshawa.

Mrs. Rognvaldson wore for her daughter's wedding a full length silver accordeon pleated culotte dress with silver shoes and gloves and a corsage of red roses.

The following day the couple left Malton for Paris, where they were welcomed by the groom's

Telegrams from relatives and friends of the groom in French were read by G. W. McKenzie, with assistance in translating by the groom.

For travelling the bride wore a hunter green two piece suit with beige and brown accessories.

A trousseau tea was held at the bride's home on Mother's Day. A personal shower for aunts and cousins was held at the home of Mrs. E. Whitehead, Oshawa. A miscellaneous shower was held by neighbors and friends at the home of Mrs. G. W. McKenzie, Acton. A supper party was given by former fellow employees of the bride at the Bell Telephone company in Toronto. A presentation was held at the home of Mrs. D. R. Dills, Acton, and a His and Hers party for relatives and friends was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Rognvaldson, Acton.

Firm applies to extend taxi service to Malton

A decision as to whether or not there will be limousine service to Toronto International Airport from Elora, Fergus, Acton, Rockwood and Milton will likely be handed down in two weeks.

Lishman Coach Lines of Kitchener took its case for extension of its present service to a Department of Transport hearing at the Wellington county courthouse in Guelph.

Present service by Lishman Lines goes to Malton from Guelph, Kitchener, Waterloo, Preston, Hespeler, Galt, Brantford, Paris and district.

The Kitchener firm's lawyer, Gordon Brock of Kitchener, argued that extension of the limousine service would not be cutting into any other firms in the area, since none catered specifically to passenger service to the airport.

Lishman wishes to extend its service for the carriage of passengers, their baggage and express freight.

Mr. Brock said that only taxi companies, existed for instant service in most of these areas and that Grey Coach bus lines ran through once per day.

Former adventurers at Rotary reunion

Twenty years of Rotary-sponsored Adventures in Citizenship were reviewed at last week's Rotary Club meeting, when some of those making the trip in the past returned for the special meeting. This year's Ottawa tripper, Joe Petric, told of some of his experiences and since he's a talented musician he played accordion solos as well.

Former delegates present were Joyce Farmer of 1953, now Mrs. Ron Challenger of Georgetown, with Mr. Challenger; Joy Peal of 1956, now Mrs. Robert Smith of R.R. 5, Guelph, with Mr. Smith; Marilyn Young of Acton, 1958 delegate; Ken Gardner, 1959, now an accountant in Toronto; Gary Masales, Kitchener, of 1963; Edith Hopkins, 1967, now Mrs. Steven Johnson of Rockwood with Mr. Johnson; Bob Bonnette, 1968, of York University and Cheryl Lee, 1969, who's just completing grade 13.

High school principal Ted Hansen introduced them and each explained what they had been doing since they made the trip as grade 12 students here.

There were about 60 at the regular meeting in the scout hall with the Scout and Guide Mothers catering. Since Georgetown Rotarians hadn't met on Victoria Day, they "made up" their attendance here numbering 17, and there was a Rotary visitor from Guelph as well.

Four truck firms omitted

An industrial directory published by Halton County's industrial committee raised the ire of Acton Deputy Reeve Ted Tyler when he noticed four trucking firms including his own Tyler Transport were not listed in the Directory. Other companies were Goy, Ridley and McGrath trucking firms.

Mr. Tyler said he would accept an amendment or a re-issue of the directory, noting the omitted companies had every right to be listed.

Clerk Garfield Brown informed council the information had come from municipal clerks and said 100 had been printed and another 400 were in the making. "Burn the first 100 and then do the other 400 right," retorted Tyler.

Council agreed to study the directory to find other possible omissions and then reprint the issue.
