

Teachers represent Halton at conference

Leading the conference representing more than 33,000 Ontario secondary school teachers

worth division chairman of Winona; Stan Berry, director of Education, Carlton; Brian Skerrett, Halton division chairman of Acton; Andre Lecuyer, executive assistant O.S.S.T.F. and Tom Ramautarsingh, District 9 chairman of Halton and Wentworth, Georgetown.

Representatives of District 9 Ontario Secondary School Teachers' Federation (Halton and Wentworth) attended the Provincial Professional Development Conference held at Ottawa recently. Brian Skerrett of Acton district high school and Tom Ramautarsingh of Georgetown district high school were among those in attendance. Theme of the conference was:

Acton band in new livery

Several members of Acton Citizens' Band assisted Brampton band in the annual flower-town parade Saturday. Bands from all over the province take part in the parade led by the Brampton music makers. Playing in the Brampton band from Acton were George Elliott, Jim Gibb, Barry Buchanan, Neil Anderson, Paul Youngblot, Peter Pavli and Bill Buchanan. They report an excellent parade, swell weather and a good reception. It was the second time Acton bandsmen have assisted their Brampton counterparts for the parade.

Professional Development Activities — whose responsibility? It was developed from four sides — the role of the Department of Education, Boards of Education, Colleges of Education, and Universities, and finally the O.S.S.T.F. There were six conclusions drawn to improve professional development including, in-service training while teaching, updating courses, upgrading courses, seminars, conferences and lectures, professional reading and travel.
