

List many winners at 57th fair

Fair days meant work for judges in all the competitive categories. Testing, touching and tasting, they recorded their decisions which appear in today's Free Press.

According to hard-working fair secretary-treasurer Mrs. C. W. Swackhamer, hall exhibits were a little better than last year. Nevertheless there was little competition in some of the domestic baking, homecrafts and flower classes.

The horse show was termed a "fair" success, blamed partly on wet weather. Livestock entries were down due to two other fairs in the immediate district. The poultry show was good but entries of swine and sheep were away down.

Quite a few of the winners were from out of town, although Acton children entered enthusiastically.

Full list of winners appears here, with more pictures of the fair.

The minimum wage is going up.

An announcement on the new Minimum Wage and some improvements of Employment Standards in the area of job security.

As of October 1, 1970, the general minimum wage goes up to $1.50 hour, and the construction minimum to $1.75 hour. Then, on April 1, 1971, the general minimum jumps to $1.65 hour, and construction to $1.90 hour.

If your wage depends on the established minimum, get the whole story on the rising minimum wages by writing or phoning the Regional office of the Ontario Department of Labour nearest you.

At the same time the minimum wage goes up, new regulations come into effect to improve your job security.

For example, if you work for one of an associated group of companies and are assigned to another company in the group for a period of time, you'll get paid for any overtime you work just as if you were still working for the original company. All the other provisions of the Act apply the same way.

If, for any reason, your company closes down, all wages owed to you (up to $2,000) have preferred claim against the assets of the employer.

The same rule covers any vacation pay you may have coming (vacation pay must now be held in trust for you by your employer).

How much vacation are you entitled to? The law says you must get at least one week's paid vacation after your first twelve months of employment, and two week's paid vacation after each of the next twelve months.

Some new teeth in the law.

The Employment Standards Branch has the power to assess any money owing to you, either wages, overtime or vacation pay, and to collect it from your employer on your behalf.

Employers must also pay the Department a 10% penalty for withholding any money from you.

For the whole story on what these changes mean to you, write or phone your nearest Employment Standards Branch.
