Judge Hallowe'en costumes at school

By Mrs. A. Benton
The W.M.S. fall Thank-offering meeting was held in the church the evening of Oct. 25 with Mrs. Sanford chairing the meeting for president Mrs. Mitchell, over forty attending. Mrs. A. W. Benton read Scripture and Mrs. Gordon Booth led in prayer.
Mrs. Bert Benton introduced the guest speaker, Miss Hilda Boyes, B. A. who had travelled and studied in Africa under a scholarship using both slides and movies. Miss Boyes explained living conditions, building construction, wild life, historical and scenic interests in a wealth of pictures from Rhodesia to the mouth of the Nile. She was thanked by Mrs. Roughley. Mrs. Bert Benton and Mrs. Roughley played piano-organ duets at intervals and Rev. F. N. Young pronounced the Benediction.
Lunch, convened by Mrs. Patterson and Mrs. Crichon was enjoyed afterwards.
Recent visitors
Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Greenlees of Campbellville and Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Marshall of Ash were Sunday visitors with the A. W. Benton's a week ago.
Mr. and Mrs. Batten of Mount Albert spent the weekend of Oct. 25 with son David and his wife here.

Eden Mills

Costumes judged on Hallowe'en

By Mrs. R. Wright
Eden Mills village was very quiet on Hallowe'en night with no major damage. The younger fry were out early in the evening dressed as goblins, tramps, angels etc., then journeyed to the Community Hall where the Community Club entertained the little travellers to doughnuts and chocolate. Prizes were awarded for the best costumes.

Mr. and Mrs. Price and Mr. and Mrs. Skirret of Toronto were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jennings.
Mrs. McLean is spending a few days in Toronto visiting her sisters.

Party for Hallowe'en $500 painting in news

By Mrs. R. Shortill
Hallowe'en night passed quietly enough. Spooks and goblins made their visits for goodies and behaved very well. A party in the Community Centre helped to keep everyone in order.
A few flat tires made it unpleasant for those who had planned the entertainment.

our local country store was portrayed in such a manner that one could almost walk up the steps.
A Toronto accountant bought the picture for $500 to hang in his office along with two other rustic scenes by the same artist.

Lawson, Noble seek re-election

Sad bereavement
Our sympathy is extended to the family of the late Mrs. Arthur Saunders, in their sad bereavement of a wife and mother.

Ladies of the U.C.W. packed several boxes of clothing this week to be sent to Fred Victor Mission and Street Haven.

Interesting picture
Appearing in a Toronto daily recently was a print of a painting by Andy Donato, a modern artist who uses tempera water colors. By the use of color and dimension he makes his pictures very real.
An interesting thing about the picture, one of about 27 he had on display at the Colonnade, was that

Two North Halton members of the Halton County Board of Education will seek another term on the board when elections are held next month. Bill Lawson of Esquesing, a veteran of 15 years in education work and John Noble of Milton, will seek election for their second term on the county board.

George Pelletterio representing North Burlington, Doug Wood representing North Oakville and Tom Watson representing Acton and Nassagaweya have all thrown their hats in the race. As of yet no newcomers have officially announced their intentions to run.

Halton W.I. branches hold reunion Thursday

By Mrs. H. Scott
Good wishes to Hubert Kux and Corina Maille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Maille, 56 Ann St., who were married in Norval Presbyterian Church and will live in West Germany.
Mrs. Cossar attended the area convention in Guelph recently as a voting delegate. Mrs. G. Henderson, Halton president, also attended.
Mr. Clare Wilson is home from Georgetown Memorial Hospital where he spent a few days.
W.I. reunion
Thurs., Oct. 25, the community hall, Stewarttown, was the meeting place of Women's Institute Branches of Halton for a get together and reunion. Games to get acquainted etc. broke the ice. A pageant of Canada was well represented by different branches, Maple Leaf, O Canada and God Save the Queen, and a sing song were enjoyed by all.

Mrs. Moffat, Guelph, voting delegate on the Provincial Board attended the FWIC in Winnipeg this past summer. She was our guest speaker and took members along with her on her trip. She was an engaging speaker and the hour passed too quickly. Social hour, coffee, cheese and fruit bread, filled out the afternoon.

AS10 chinguacousy edges kilns juveniles
Coach Ken Hearn and Manager Carl Timbers were pleased with the team effort of their Acton Lions Juveniles in their Tri-County league opener in Chinguacousy, Sunday night.

With only four practices under their belts, Lions battled the hometown Hawks right down to the wire before losing a 2-1 decision.
Gord Murray scored the Acton goal. Hawks tallied the winning goal with only three minutes remaining in the game.
Willie Muelbacher performed brilliantly in the Acton nets.
Lions host Georgetown tomorrow (Thursday) night at 8.

Principals speakers at Home and School

By Mrs. D.G. Robertson
Mrs. Wm. Wragg Sr. is a patient in Guelph General Hospital, where he is receiving treatment for pneumonia.
Bill Clarke, who is employed at the local garage, is attending classes in motor mechanics at Hamilton.

Hallowe'en passed off quietly in the village, the younger folk made their rounds early in the evening for the usual shell out, and the teen-agers were well behaved, with no damages being reported.

Christine Lundrigan spent the weekend with her friend Barbara Uphall at Mimosa.
Mrs. Florence Grundy spent a few days holiday with friends in Guelph.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wisbensi entertained a group of children at a Hallowe'en party on Saturday night. An exciting time of games and fun concluded with a bountiful lunch.
Mrs. Norman McKenzie and daughter Linda were hostesses on Saturday evening for a miscellaneous shower for the former's niece Boona Week, a bride-to-be of late November.

The Osprige Home and School Association held their monthly meeting on Tuesday evening.
A goodly number of parents were present to hear the principals of local high schools — Mr. N. Finnie, Erin District High; Mr. G. Reid, Guelph Vocational Institute and Mr. L. Peer of Centennial High School, Guelph, outline the various courses offered by their respective schools.

Churchill

Noisy Hallowe'en frolic at Churchill church

By Mrs. F. MacArthur
The Hallowe'en Frolic at Churchill Church proved to be another success. It was well attended, many in beautiful costumes and lots of goblins and spooks making it hard for the judges to choose the winner. This year the judges were Mrs. David Williamson, Clifford Storey and Charles Thompson. The basement was tastefully decorated and lighted in pumpkin style all planned by the senior class girls. Prizes and treats were in order for the young and old.

We are indeed very pleased to report our pastor Rev. A. W. Fosbury who has been in Toronto General Hospital undergoing hip surgery is coming along very well.
Sunday service at Churchill Church was well attended to hear Mr. Bill Fennell who is attending Emmanuel in Toronto. He also took the service two weeks ago. The church choir also the guitar group "The Missing Link" was in attendance and gave a number of selections accompanied by Misses Mary Lou Brown and Kathy Swackhamer. Next Sunday the men of the congregation will be in charge of the service.

The deepest sympathy of the community is extended to Mr. Arthur Saunders and children Linda and Donnie in the sad and sudden passing of a loving wife and mother Mrs. Lillian Saunders. The service on Sunday was largely attended with burial in Churchill cemetery.

The ladies served a delicious lunch also tea, coffee, and freshie to close a noisy but enjoyable time for even the on-lookers.

Wear costumes to Sunday School

By Mrs. R. McLean
Many oddly-attired characters enjoyed the Hallowe'en party at the Sunday school. The winners for the best costumes: from 3 to 6, Sue Lynn Clegg and Jackie Still; from 7 to 9, Laurie Early and Wayne Thomson; from 10 to 12, Mark Munro and Willie Wild; from 13 to 15, Norman Moore and Cindy Jackson; adults: Laura Early and Beryl Clegg.

Testament, King Saul went to the witch of Endor and called on the spirit of Samuel. He got the bad news that he would be killed in battle.
We are surrounded by good and evil spirits. Some of the spirits of the past, such as our failures and mistakes, are not good. Some people are haunted by past sins. We can't rub out the past without religious experience. Some ghosts of the past strengthen us. We believe in the worshipping fellowship of those saints who have gone on. Hillary couldn't have reached the peak of Mount Everest without those who had gone part way before him.
