Accident, W.I. demonstration TV show, Guides in news

By Mrs. D. G. Robertson
An enthusiastic group of girls were present at the school on Thursday evening for the weekly Guide meeting. The leader Judy Short, led a discussion on "Passing tests" "point system" make-up and the Christmas party.

Future items of interest will be a visit to the Erin Fire Station and Bowling.
Shows decorations
A festive air was created by Mrs. Stuart McKinnon at the Women's Institute meeting when she demonstrated Christmas decorations to a group of interested ladies. Door swags, wall-hangings and various table and mantle displays were fashioned by Mrs. McKinnon, and last but not least, a colorful spray for a rural mail-box.

Mrs. Stan Fuller, the hostess, read a poem, Light look down and behold light.
An interesting and informative report of the recent Curators' conference, held in Guelph was given by the branch curator Miss Doris Fines.

A letter was read from Cheng-Ping-Shu, the Korean boy, sponsored partially by the local Women's Institute, telling of his school progress and other items of interest.
Mrs. E. Archibald presided and Mrs. Stan Fuller read the minutes and thank-you notes.
Patients' gifts
Roll call was answered with a gift of candy or cookies, for the patients at the Hillsburgh Nursing Home.
An exchange of gifts added to the entertainment.
Miss Doris Fines extended the courtesies.

Car in ditch
Wm. Isley suffered cuts and bruises when his car went into the ditch, on the highway near the 5th Line when he swerved to avoid hitting a deer and struck a patch of ice.
Mr. Isley was enroute to work early in the morning. X-rays showed no broken bones, and luckily his injuries were not of more serious nature; his car received extensive damages.

Promotion for Paul Lawson

Acton friends will be interested in knowing Paul Lawson, formerly of Acton, has been promoted to the position of Midwest sales representative of L. H. Lincoln and Son Inc., of Caudersport, Pa., producers of tanning chemicals and materials.

Well known in sporting circles here, where he took an active and starring part, Paul moved to Milwaukee in the United States in 1963 where he became superintendent in charge of production at a tanning company in the city.

Began career here
He began his career as a laboratory assistant at Beardmore and Co. in Acton in 1953 and went from there to Newmarket where he served in various capacities in production and administration at a tannery.

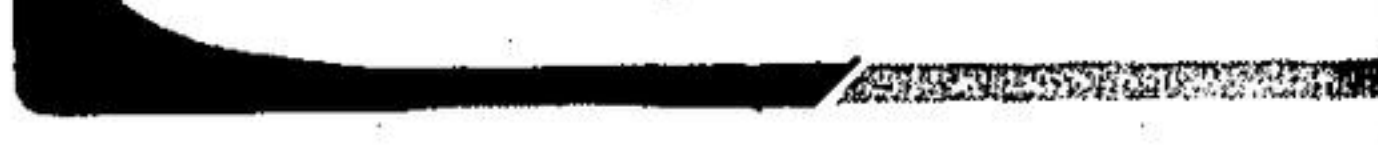

He attended the School of Leather Technology at Lowell Tech. in Lowell, Mass. and is also a graduate of the Milton Business School.

Paul, his wife the former Peggy Oakes, and son Ted, 14, live in Milwaukee where sales headquarters will be for a district including Chicago, St. Louis, Winnipeg and other central points in the U.S. Son Ted is an ardent golfer and like his father sports minded, especially concerning hockey which is popular in that part of the States.
Paul is the son of Mrs. Hazel Marzo, Frederick St.

The clergy speak out

By Rev. Andrew H. McKenzie
Knox Presbyterian Church

I write this column on election day and I have just finished exercising my franchise, that dearly purchased privilege of free men. Everyone wonders about the outcome of the vote in Acton and surrounding municipalities.

Will there be upsets?
Will there be runaway victories?
I can only guess, like yourself, about the actual personnel of our new council. But we can be reasonably sure it will be a good, hard-working and progressive council, for there has been a fine group of candidates in the running.

We are fortunate in this community that so many people who have proved, beyond much disputing, through their active participation in public life and the organizations of our town, their deep concern for the progressive development of this area, and are seeking the opportunity to guide our affairs.

None of them surely is unaware that there are many complex problems requiring both study and action, that a member of council is seldom properly thanked for his long and arduous labours by his fellow citizens, and that the best satisfaction he may hope for is the knowledge in the depths of his being that he has given the best of himself for the welfare of the majority.

It seems to me that a primary requisite in any candidate for office in government, whether on the municipal, provincial or federal level, is that he should be a person of genuine and incorruptible integrity. The exercise of power, even the authority of a municipal "politician", puts to a test the integrity of the individual. I would remind you of the old, and fairly true statement that: "Power corrupts, and absolute power corrupts absolutely."
