

MILD WEATHER brought welcome relief from the extreme cold of this winter but replaced it with rough roads, ruts and pools of melting snow which made Acton streets hazardous for motorists. By Tuesday of this week however, pavement was almost bare again and signs of Spring were everywhere.— (Staff Photo)

Golden Agers hear talks, take trip to East Coast

By Mrs. Elsie Reed
A short business meeting preceded an evening of fine entertainment at the Golden Age Club on Tuesday, February 16. Nancy Shoemaker pleasingly played a piano solo and came back to give an encore. We will be looking for Nancy back some time in the future. Master David Faulkner gave an excellent speech, telling of the trials of a young lad deciding what he would be when he grew up, and Ruth Faulkner's speech told of what a teenager has to go through to impress her family and others, of their importance and attractions. Both speeches were well given and much enjoyed.

Recalls trip
Mrs. Near took her audience with her as she recalled a trip she and a few other Acton folk had taken on a Norton Bus Tour last fall. She recalled the daily routine as they visited Upper Canada Village, Quebec City, passed along Gaspé Peninsula, along the border of New Brunswick, all over Prince Edward Island, on to Nova Scotia, then home through the Northern States into Ontario at Cornwall.

Mrs. Near gave a keen insight into the living conditions in the Maritime Provinces and the differences in the way of life there. Mrs. William McDonald showed beautiful and interesting slides to complement Mrs. Near's narrative.

Many sick
Roll call revealed many sick and ailing. Colds and the flu have been prevalent and taken their toll in the long, steady winter. All are wished an improvement in health with hopes to see all soon able to be out to the club.

Mrs. Davidson displayed a beautiful blue and gold quilt recently finished by the quilters in the club. Some ticket money was turned in and more tickets given out for sale.

A lunch of sandwiches and cookies was served by Mrs. DeVries and her helpers, and chocolates were passed around.

The next meeting will be held March 16 when it is to be hoped the weather will have moderated, and a quantity of snow and ice disappeared to make walking safer.

ACTON HIGH

By Mary Ann Freuler
Students and teachers tried their hand at photography and acting during our Winter

Carnival week. Under the direction of Chris Brunelle, fifteen students completed a film of the school, having focussed on Oopkik II events.

The actual filming took place Feb. 16 and 17. On these dates the Torchlight Parade, the crowning of our Carnival Queen, and a hockey game against Shelburne were among the activities which caught the eye of the camera. A few scenes were also taken at Friday night's Variety Show.

Go by script
When the activities fell on dates which were inconvenient to the camera crew the students staged the event. The tug-of-war segment is one example.

Most other students were envious of the film crew as they missed the best part of a week of school. Few realize the long hours they put in, often to midnight. On the last Friday, the crew were given a test to indicate just how much they had learned about cameras, acting and the rules of producing a movie.

16 minutes
The finished product is a 16-minute film in full color which has been able to capture almost all the student body at one time or another. Music has been co-ordinated with the film, but at present still needs a bit more work.

It's impossible to tell about this film without giving away all the plot. The film crew has tried very hard to keep it a secret.

Everyone in the school is looking forward to the movie's premiere. If enough parents and other members of the community show an interest in seeing the film, perhaps an evening may be arranged for their viewing.

Dance planned
The Student Council is sponsoring a dance this Friday evening, March 5. It will begin at 8:30. The band which will be playing, Inclination, is from Toronto and should provide an excellent evening of dancing. A guest list may be found in the office.

The Council will also soon be starting their candy campaign. Chocolate bars and Bridge Mixture will be on sale to the residents of Acton. The money from this campaign goes toward making improved council activities and for the support of the Foster Child, Arturo Obispo, of the Philippines. They hope that the town will back them.

Interviews
Parents' nights were held last Monday and Wednesday evenings. The routine was changed slightly from that before. Volunteer students, representing teachers, filled out timetables for the parents, giving them appointments for each room they wished to visit. Coffee was served in the cafeteria throughout the evening.

The students going on the Mediterranean Cruise are becoming very anxious as they leave on March 11. That's only eight days from now!
